DARTMOUTH HOUSE, Hanover, July 31, 1865.—Frank W. Miller, esq.: Dear Sir; I have read the remarks in a late number of your paper, concerning this House, with which I have some connection. Regarding what you say as a libel, I must ask you to remit to me, at once, $100, or take the risk of an action at law for damages. Respectfully yours, B. P. SMITH.

To this we replied, we believe, something to the effect, that we retained our lawyer by the year, and he was all ready for the case—and advised Mr. Smith to fire away if he wanted to be the laughing stock of New England, as newspaper editors were bad fellows to stir up. This brings answer again thus—and how refreshingly cool, this heated term:

HANOVER, Aug. 3, 1865. Mr. F. W. Miller, Dear Sir; I have your note of the 1st inst. In reply, I would say that I do not desire advice, but $100, within one week. Respectfully yours, B. P. SMITH.

Now we are sorry friend Smith is so short—short, "much, every way," it would seem; in funds, in manner and in time. Does he suppose printers are made of money? or that if they do happen to have $100, they are going to send it to any muttonhead who has brass enough to demand it? Pray, Mr. Smith, don't be too swift. Just ask yourself how you would like, if you was a nice clean man, to wipe your face on towels as wet as they were dirty? have your meals, such as they might be, spread on a cloth to match the towels, and flies in myriads? and to be shown to a chamber directly over the cooking range, and which had the "benefit" of the heat from the chimney, and the odor of a ventilator from the cesspool under the window? And finally to be charged $10 for four such meals as they were, and a double bed in a citizen's house who didn't charge a cent for it herself, and $2 for another bed a single night? Parker's, the Fifth Avenue and Continental are nowhere.

But we can't stop to put more counts in our plea in the high court of public opinion, at this sitting. Suffice it for us to say now, that we believe we did make one mistake in our original complaint, by allowing that the said "landlord is no doubt a very clever fellow;" for further acquaintance leads us to have great doubts on that point.

And we would most respectfully inquire of our $100 friend Smith, where he designs to try his case; for if it is to come off at Hanover, and we must bored at the Dartmouth House, we shall try and borrow the sum he stands so greatly in need of, rather than "stay" at that read-out-able hostelry for a week. But our case is all made up, and our witnesses ready; only, before Smithy sues us, we should like to lay him a wager that he don't win so much money as we do fun out of it? Thus endeth the first lesson.

THE WASTE OF WAR.—Since the 1st of April, 1861, one hundred thousand widows' claims have been sent to the department for payment. During the last month there have been two thousand two hundred and fifty-nine widows' claims received and eighty-nine rejected; also nineteen hundred and forty-eight invalids' claims, and four hundred and twenty-seven rejected. The Examiners' desks are still crowded with applications, and their labors will not end for years.

☞ A Montreal telegram of Friday says, the attempted abduction of George N. Sanders is pronounced by Judge Armating as an unmitigated hoax, got up to create sympathy for the broken down secessionists residing at M. Foote is there, looking seedy and a mere relic of his former blustering self, when he threatened to hang Senator Hale.

— The onion crop this year progresses without the affliction of maggots, and the crop will prove highly successful. This should encourage people in growing their own onions, as the fathers did in the olden time.

— Albert Pike's statement that but one Union man was scalped by his Indian allies, is denounced as a falsehood by a member of the 3d Iowa cavalry, who says that eight of his regiment were scalped by Pike's civilized tribes. Adjutant General Baker's report of 1863 states that Col. Bussey had the bodies exhumed and had occular proof of this fact.

— In New York on Thursday, Admiral Dahlgren married Mrs. Goddard, daughter of the late Samuel Vinton of Ohio.

THE PIRATE SHENANDOAH.—An affidavit of John Wilson, the carpenter of the Shenandoah, who has entered suit against the English agents for the recovery of his wages, he having shipped in her when she left England to take in her armament, furnishes an authentic history of this pirate, which is now spreading havoc among the whale ships in the Pacific. It was published in the London papers last January, and as abridged in the Boston Journal, shows that the first owner of the Shenandoah, then called the Sea King, was William Wallace, a London banker, who sold her in September last to Richard Wright, of Liverpool, a near connection of the rebel agent in that city. In the same month Peter S. Corbett was indorsed as master of the ship.

Last October the owner, Richard Wright, issued to Corbett, the master, a certificate of sale, empowering Corbett to sell the Sea King at any port outside of the United Kingdom for not less than £45,000. On the morning of the 8th of October, 1864, the Sea King cleared from London for Bombay, in ballast, and as an ordinary merchant vessel. On the same day the British ship Laurel, the property of blockade runners, cleared from Liverpool for Nassau, laden with heavy cannon, arms, fifty or sixty barrels of powder, and bearing some rebel officers. Wilson, a Scotchman, had engaged as carpenter on the Sea King in good faith, supposing that she was going to Bombay and other ports in the Indian and Pacific Oceans as a merchantman.

His affidavit shows that the Sea King went immediately from London to Madeira. That there she fell in with the Laurel, and that the two ships went in company to the Island of Porto Santo, where, in Portuguese waters, the armament and stores were shifted from the Laurel to the Sea King, and that Captain Corbett there announced to the crew that he had sold the ship to the so-called Confederates, and that she was to destroy American ships, especially whalers. He also introduced to them as the new captain an officer in a gray uniform, whom he invited them to join. Nearly all refused to do so. The rebel flag was then hoisted, such of the crew as would not join were put on the Laurel: and the Sea King, having become the Shenandoah, started on her new career. Some of the seamen who refused to go in the Shenandoah make a similar affidavit.

ATTEMPTS ON GEN. GRANT'S PERSON. The Transcript says that at the public reception to Gen. Grant at the Astor House, in New York, a scoundrel made an attempt to wrench the General's arm out of joint, by seizing his hand and twisting that and his arm forcibly round. A similar effort to injure the General was made at the Faneuil Hall reception on Monday. Gen. Grant was grasped by the hand in the same manner as in New York, and an attempt was made to give it a sudden wrench, which the General succeeded in preventing only by suddenly withdrawing it. Alderman Clapp, who witnessed the operation, seized the man by the neck, but the rascal escaped from him and was quickly lost in the crowd which was hurrying past. It is said this villian is the same man who thus attempted to injure the Lieut. General in New York. Such a wretch is almost too cowardly to punish, though richly deserving of it.

☞ Hon. J. M. Usher has been publishing for a year and a half in Boston, a paper devoted to Temperance, Popular Education, Labor, Home and Country, called "The Nation." In his issue this week he says that he remonstrated with the parties connected with the New York Nation against stealing the title of his weekly. No attention was paid to his appeals to be left in undisturbed possession of a name he has done his best and with good success to make popular and respected. He is now annoyed because the criticisms on the course of his namesake are mistaken by some as applicable to the journal he conducts, which has always been consistently loyal and patriotic. There are surely names enough:—the N. Y. Nation might properly be called the New Nation.—But the title is Br. Usher's trademark, and he ought to hold it.

A similar assumption took place, years ago, when the New York Tract Society took the name American, when there was an American Tract Society in Boston.

☞ The Secretary of the Treasury decides that all bonds, treasury notes and all other obligations of the United States are exempt from taxation under State or municipal authority.—So says the Washington correspondent of the New York Herald,—but we do not believe the Secretary's decision covers so much ground.—The 7-30s are exempt by a special provision of law:—but certificates of indebtedness, greenbacks, &c. &c., are not so exempted, and are surely taxable.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "unceres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers." in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Elery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Local.

☞ On Friday morning a battallion of marines under command of Lieut. Henry J. Bishop proceeded from the Marine Barracks to the Navy Yard Landing to receive and salute Chief Justice Chase who arrived on the Navy Yard about 10 o'clock in company with Hon. Samuel Hooper of Boston and Ex-Gov. Goodwin. After the usual salute and evolutions of the soldiers, who, by the way, made a fine appearance, he was escorted about the Yard by Capt. Goldsborough, Commandant pro tem, (Admiral Bailey being absent,) and Chief Engineer Bartleman, and examined the different ships apparently with a great deal of interest. On his departure as well as on his arrival, he was saluted with the usual number of guns from the Navy Yard Battery.

In the afternoon he visited Vice Admiral Farragut at Rye Beach, and returning, left in the 5 o'clock train for Boston.

☞ We learn that Capt. A. Murray has been detached from the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and is relieved by Capt. C. W. Pickering of the steamer Vanderbilt. Capt. M. in connection with his duties as executive officer of the Yard, was appointed by the Navy Department President of the "Inventory Board and Survey," at the time that Board was organized, and will still retain that position. He is an efficient officer and eminently qualified to occupy any post of trust or responsibility in the line of naval duty.

ELOPEMENT.—The good citizens of Kittery Foreside are in a state of excitement over a case of infidelity on the part of the wife of a resident of Kittery named Frisbee, formerly a marine on this station. The guilty woman made her escape on Friday afternoon accompanied by a sailor named Edward Brown who recently took his discharge from the laborers' department at the Navy Yard.

☞ Thermometers at the Navy Yard on Friday noon indicated 93° above in the shade—the highest point which the mercury has attained this season.

☞ The Bailey Dramatic Combination are to give us a week of theatrical performances. By their advertisement it will be seen that they are not all new to our play goers. Go and see them: Uncle Tom is a story of a wrong that is fast fading from the face of the earth.

☞ An accident to our form causes us to crave the pardon of advertisers for any delay in the appearance of their favors.

☞ Don't forget Mr. Wendell's sales to day—a house on Pickering street this morning, and a great sale of shells, &c., at his auction rooms, in the evening.

☞ We are indebted to an unknown friend for late Calcutta papers.

—The liquor traffic of Vergennes, Vt., has lessened seven thousand dollars in the last seventeen months by the enforcement of the prohibitory law.

— In Salem, Mass., out of a population of 21,197, there are 1063 inhabitants over 20 years of age who cannot read nor write. Its population has decreased 1035 during the last five years.

— At present there is no establishment in this country for the manufacture of vessels' chains or wire rigging. The chains and the rigging now in use (the rigging it is said will be very generally used) are all made in foreign countries, mostly in England. The Machias Union says it is in contemplation to establish such a manufactory in that town, which will be the first in this country.

— A Quaker preacher named Heusted lately visited Bowles, the felon, in his cell in the Ohio penitentiary, and is said to have consoled him as follows; "Friend Bowles, I've known of thy conduct well, and I am glad to see thee here. Our wise rulers placed thee here to answer for thy sins, and I hope they will keep thee here for the term of thy natural life."

— On the day of the President's funeral a bronzed and weather beaten soldier, anxious to obtain a better view of the procession, happened to step before a party of ladies and gentlemen. One of the gentlemen nudged him on the elbow, at the same time observing: "Excuse me, sir, you are in front of us." Bowing handsomely in return, the soldier replied: "That is nothing remarkable for me, sir; I have been in front of you four years."

— A large doe, accompanied by a well-grown fawn, recently issued from the forest surrounding North Sandwich, Mass., and entering the village, sauntered through the principal street, as if inviting pursuit. They were both eventually shot.

— A colored man in Eufala, S. C., undertook to burn out a hornet's nest he found in a cotton ware-house. His triumph was complete; so was the destruction of the building and the 1500 bales of cotton which were in it.

OUR RETURNING SOLDIERS,

Who are suffering from CHRONIC DIARRHŒA or DYSENTERY, or general Debility in the System, caused by change of Water or Climate, or the hardships of a military life, will find DR. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR a sure medicine to restore them to health. By its use, (from a teaspoonful to a table spoonful), it will act in connection with their food, and immediately change the character of their secretions,—thus arresting the cause of their weakness or debility. Through its action in the Blood, it will expel all Miasmatic Impurities, that are lurking in it, and but certain effect, invariably terminating in Consumption of the Blood, which proves fatal to so many of our brave soldiers, after their return to their home and friends. For Costiveness and the Piles, it is the best remedy ever discovered.

Prepared by DR. S. O. RICHARDSON, who has had thirty years' successful practice as a physician.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR may be obtained at the Doctor's Office, 51 HANOVER STREET, BOSTON, and is sold by all Apothecaries throughout the New England States.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

For CONSUMPTION, it is the only reliable remedy known. It has in thousands of instances restored patients that seemed past hope of recovery; and, in tens of thousands, has arrested the disease in its primary stages, and restored the patient to robust health.

BRONCHITIS. Its effects in this troublesome disease are very marked. It is necessary to persist in its use for a considerable length of time.

FEMALE DEBILITY. To sustain and augment the forces; to make new, rich and pure blood; to build up the nervous system; to restore energy to the mind and body, nothing can be better adapted than this preparation.

In Asthma, General Debility, Emaciation, and Coughs, it is a reliable remedy. Nine-tenths of the cases where it is supposed to fail, simply arise from the remedy being abandoned before its beneficial effects become obvious. Be careful and get the genuine, manufactured only by A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, 166 Court Street, Boston.

SAVE YOUR MONEY!

Wilbor's Monitor Hair Dye

Is superseding all others. It requires no preparation, does not stain or wash off, will not soil the finest linen. One application will last until the hair grows out, when it can be applied to the roots without more trouble than a common hair oil. It is warranted not to injure the hair or skin.—Manufactured only by ALEX. B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 166 Court Street, Boston.

From the Portsmouth Journal

THE NEW AGRICULTURAL WAREHOUSE.—We are pleased to notice that Messrs. Goodwin & Sweetser, as will be seen by their advertisement, have opened a new store in Portsmouth, making agricultural goods a specialty; and farmers and others who have heretofore been obliged to send to Boston for many very necessary implements and fixtures pertaining to their occupation, will appreciate the convenience of having all these things close at hand; and still better, at the same prices at which they can be obtained in Boston—or lower. Their business is calculated to be at wholesale as well as retail, and hence dealers here and elsewhere, we are assured, can do as well as by going to larger cities. They are determined to improve all the advantages offered by this city to their profit and that of their customers—low rent and wharfage, &c.

The senior partner has the benefit of considerable experience in the business, at Worcester, Mass. and is especially acquainted with that part of it which relates to agricultural implements and wheels and wheel stock of all kinds. He has recently returned from a four years' service as captain in one of the Massachusetts regiments. He was wounded while in the service. Mr. Sweetser is well known here as an active, energetic young man, having for five years' past been with Mr. Charles Hayes at his farm in Portsmouth, and has a practical knowledge of farming implements and seeds of all kinds.

This is the only establishment of the kind in this immediate vicinity. One of the principal articles of business is the new fertilizer called Flour of Bone. Until quite recently there has been no machinery for grinding bones to a fine powder and thus nicely adapting to the purpose of farming, one of the best known fertilizers. This is said to have been tried with good success by the farmers in this vicinity. In their seasons, they are to keep as complete a stock of seeds as possible, and also of trees, shrubs, plants and vines. In their new enterprise we wish them much success, and take pleasure in commending their business to our agricultural friends.

THE PORTSMOUTH STEAM FACTORY AUCTION.—As will be seen in another column, the Portsmouth Steam Mill with all the property of the company, is to be sold at auction next Monday, offering an opportunity for enterprise in the formation of the company anew, which may by judicious management carry on some branch of manufacture, for which Portsmouth is as well calculated as any other place where steam power is used. Easily accessible by railroad and by water, and having good communication with the country, with a good harbor, and good wharfage, Portsmouth ought to excel as a manufacturing place. We hope the mill will fall into good hands, and a revival of business soon take place.

CROPS AT THE WEST.—The Indianapolis Journal says:—

"We receive the most gloomy accounts of the disastrous effect of the long continued rains upon the crops. But a small portion of the wheat crop, poor as it was, was placed under shelter before the rains came. The same may be said of the oats, and a great deal of the hay has rotted after being cut, or has remained unmown, because it was impossible to cure it for want of sunshine. The effect upon the wheat crop is seen in the sudden advance of prices, flour now being about fifty per cent. higher than it was two weeks ago.

There is probably old wheat enough in the State for home consumption until another harvest, but prices must rule high, and all expectations of cheap bread may be abandoned for one year more. Corn still promises well, and it is to be hoped that no disaster will befall this staple crop, for on that now mainly depends the prosperity of our agricultural population."

Gov. Johnson of Georgia, has issued his Proclamation for a Convention, to prepare that State for re-admission. He declares slavery extinct, and that all citizens are to be protected in equal rights. Numerous meetings in favor of re-construction are being held. In some districts, however, slaveholders "will not let the people go," and the whites fear consequences. Agents from Florida have arrived at Washington, with the object of bringing Florida back. Gov. Johnson says, "We have lost our property in slaves—but it was a war of our own seeking. We made the war." Some Northern Copperheads still say it was an abolition war—the North are responsible—they, in effect, made the war! Elections have been ordered already, in five of the rebel States.

The season throughout New Hampshire, (and New England generally) has been the finest, thus far, the "oldest inhabitants" remember. Warm rains once in eight or ten days, have been experienced, and the staple products, hay, Indian corn, rye, oats and potatoes, and roots in general, never promised a better yield. The grain crops at the West and South, are most favorably reported generally. This conditions of things will be very favorable for the ravaged Southern States that have suffered so intensely by the rebellion, and we shall have also a vast supply for exportation, if needed. The drouth begins to be seriously felt, however, in the eastern section of this state.

The Democrat says that John Mathes, a young man from Durham, came to Saco from home on Tuesday of last week, for the purpose of loading a vessel. On Wednesday he was about town and engaged some men to work for him the next day. In the evening he went to Biddeford and took supper at the boarding house of Isaac Elliott, after which he went out, and nothing has since been heard from him. It is supposed that he had about $60 with him, and fears are entertained that he has been foully dealt with.

MEXICO.—The last reports represent that orders had been received at Matamoras, (just over the Rio Grande) for the reception of 35,000 French & Austrian troops, occasioned by reports that 100,000 of our army was collecting in Texas. What for?—unless to make the "Monroe doctrine" a Yankee law? Guessing, merely, involves no formidable responsibility. So we guess the Mexican Empire in America will be short lived; and this in view of its utter incompatability with North American ideas, the Mexican tenacity and love of liberty, the hard sledding and cost of sustaining the French Emperor's Latin race.

COAL AT COST.
EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.
This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, and distributed a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the cronkings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and save as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
CELEBRATED AND UNEQUALLED
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1865.

LYNCH LAW IN INDIANA. — Last Thursday, a paroled rebel prisoner, named Miller, inducing Mr. Gregory, proprietor of the Spencer House of Louisville, to visit Shelburne, Sullivan County, under pretence of selling him some land; attacked Gregory in the woods near Shelburne and beat him almost to death, stabbing him several times, and then robbed him of $90 and his watch. The people turned out and caught Miller, had him identified by Gregory and hung him on a tree near the place where the crime was committed. Faint hopes are entertained of Gregory's recovery.

SOUTH AMERICAN NEWS. — A new treaty between the South American States is published. It is binding fifteen years, and provides for a common defence of the affairs of either, and each binding itself to non-intercourse with any nation attacking either. It is to counteract the aggression of Napoleon and Maximillian. The States included are Salvador, Bolivia, Conebia, Chili, Equador, Peru and Venezuela.

☞ The Steamer City of Dublin, from Liverpool, with 500 passengers, and the City of Boston with 300, both arrived at New York on Saturday.—The Atlantic telegraph is making some progress.—Parlimentary elections are everywhere completed. Net Liberal gain 24. Some claim 26. The London Herald consoles the Conservatives by asserting that the Liberal gains at the elections have relieved them of unreliable supporters.

The Government of Italy has received an official dispatch from the Spanish Cabinet recognizing the Kingdom of Italy and expressing the most friendly feelings toward it.

France and Spain have exchanged treaty ratifications for reducing customs tariffs.

The cholera in Alexandria, Constantinople and Cario is subsiding.

— The Richmond Republic of Saturday, (not the best authority,) says a riot took place at Aquia Creek Tuesday last, between the whites and blacks employed there. The latter tried to drive the former away, and partially succeeded. The military interfered, killing one colored man and wounding many others. Fifteen colored men were taken to Richmond and turned over to the Military authorities.

— The Herald's Virginia correspondent states that the planters tell the negroes there that they are not yet free, and oppress them in many ways. There is considerable opposition among the Virginia aristocracy to Northern emigration there. —Perfectly in character; but all in vain.

— The U. S. frigate Congress, which was raised on Saturday, kept afloat, waiting for high water, until 5 P. M. when she sunk, though in a more favorable position and on higher ground than where she was before.

— On Sunday, at Washington a riot occurred between a number of white and colored persons, in which the latter came off victorious. Pistols, knives and stones were freely used. Several of the rioters were severely wounded.

— The State Department has been advised officially by our Consul at Port Mahon that the cholera, which has prevailed in Egypt, is slowly advancing west.

— The President has pardoned Mrs. Cora Slocum of New Orleans, whose confiscated estate is returned to her on the recommendation of General Butler. President Johnson has pardoned Bishop Lynch of South Carolina, who is now in Rome.

— It is reported that twenty-four of our discharged officers have tendered their services to the Mexican Minister, and propose to join the Mexican Army.

— Kroeba's distillery and Burzebery's brewery and distillery at St. Paul, Min., were seized on Monday, owing to frauds committed in revenue returns. The latter is the largest establishment of its kind in the city.

— The crops in Illinois and Iowa are mostly harvested, and prove to be much better than was feared a few days ago.

— The Wilmington, N. C., Herald states that some of the negro troops there were behaving badly, and several had been arrested.

GEN. BUTLER'S business in Washington lately was to secure the pardon of Mrs. Slocum and other ladies of New Orleans, which being done he has left the city. So says a correspondent.

— Efforts are made by officers and stockholders of Southern railroads to regain possession of their roads and secure credit from the North to replenish them. These officers are now in Washington for this purpose.

— A wealthy old man just deceased in Paris left 100,000 francs to a young man who politely gave up his seat to him one night at the crowded opera.

GOLD, Monday, 144 to 143 1-2.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Nashua Telegraph says that a couple just married arrived in town on Thursday of last week, the husband professing to be looking for work. Two or three days subsequent it was found he had left for parts unknown, leaving his wife destitute of the means to pay for board or for her fare back to her friends. A sum was kindly furnished her at the depot, sufficient to return her to her friends.

—— The drouth has passed in this neighborhood, being washed away by heavy showers on Sunday night and Monday.

—— The Methodists will hold a camp meeting, on their ground at Epping, commencing Aug. 21.

—— The Mirror complains that robbers, male and female, in Manchester, combine together and lay deliberate plans to rob the returned soldiers of all their money. The most common way is to invite them to drink, and when drunk to rob. Another way, is, for a woman to propose a little walk, and being accompanied by the half drunken soldier who is thus forced, she leads him by some pleasant route, to a spot where her male confederates knock down and rob the victim. And in some cases a man in woman's attire, (a la Jeff. Davis,) does the inviting. Total abstinents never get caught with such chaff as this.

—— A costly bridge at Manchester, was on fire last Friday afternoon, and was saved only by the great activity of the city marshal and some workmen who happened to be near. The fire is supposed to have caught from the cigar or pipe of some smoker.

—— Elisha Smith of Winchester has twenty ears of corn growing upon one stalk.

—— The Grand Lodge and Encampment of Odd Fellows of New Hampshire, will hold their annual session in Nashua, August 14th and 15th.

—— A fire broke out in the office of Hon. A. H. Cragin of Lebanon, about 4 o'clock Wednesday, the result of the throwing of a lighted stump of a cigar into a wooden spittoon the evening previous. Fortunately the fire was discovered by a person sleeping in an adjoining room and extinguished before much damage was done.

—— Enoch C. Howe of Lebanon was arrested for a violation of the liquor law in selling ale. He was bound over in the sum of $200 not to sell.

—— Items in different State papers show that White Robins are not altogether unprecedented. A correspondent of the Keene Sentinel writing from Richmond this State, says that about five years ago his father shot a white robin upon the land of Silas Whipple in Richmond, and sent it to the Boston Museum. Judge Upton informs the Manchester Mirror that when he was a boy, he, in company with some other lads found a nest in the town of Wilmot containing several young robins, one of which was a white one. They sold it to a Mr. Charles, who kept it in a cage. The next year another white one was found in the same nest, which was also sold to a Mr. Poor.

—— Ex-President Pierce, of Concord, returns his total income for last year as $4,197.

—— The town of Lincoln, in New Hampshire, has not furnished a soldier in this war nor raised a cent in the prosecution of it. Those who were drafted stepped out, those that remained caring for those left.—Exchange.

Note.—There could not have been a great many drafted men in Lincoln: for by the last census there were only 71 inhabitants; and in 1864 the vote was 4 Union and 7 copper; 11 in all.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Friday afternoon, while four men were engaged in painting a dwelling house in Westford, Mass., on a staging made by a ladder about thirty feet in length, it broke and the men were precipitated a distance of about twenty feet. One of them, Mr. Chas. P. Kimball, had his skull fractured by falling on a doorstep, and one of his arms broken, and died in about ten minutes after the accident. He belonged in South New Market, N. H., was 25 years of age and unmarried. Mr McAllister had his spine hurt and was paralyzed. The other men were badly hurt but not fatally injured.

☞ On Friday evening, in Portland, a meeting, appointed by the late Council, was held for the purpose of presenting the views held by the other Congregational Churches to the Third Parish Church. The Press says the attendance was very small, and composed to some extent of members of other churches who were drawn there through curiosity to see the old Third Parish labored with lest they should retain Rev. Mr. Walton as their pastor. Rev. Mr. Walker and also Rev. Mr. Moore addressed the meeting, but no action was taken. The meeting was rather an informal one, and no particular point was decided by the discussion, which was characterized by moderation and good feeling.

Local.

OUR IRON-CLAD VISITORS —The ocean monitor Dictator, Com. John Rodgers, now lying in the lower harbor, was built in New York; she measures upwards of 3000 tons, and draws 19 feet of water forward and 22 aft, with 500 tons of coal on board, leaving her deck some four feet above water forward and three feet aft. With her full quantity of coal on board (1000 tons) she will be a foot or so deeper. She is 320 feet long, has 50 feet beam and 22 depth of hold. Her turret is 24 feet in diameter on the inside, and 15 inches in thickness. She carries but two 15-inch guns, which throw solid shot of 480 lbs. each. The walls of the pilot house at the top of the turret are 11 inches in thickness. The quarters of the officers and men below are well lighted through heavy glasses set into the deck, and thoroughly ventilated from two or three steam blowers which are kept constantly in motion, raising a great breeze. She can be got under way without a man showing himself on deck, her engines rousing up one hundred and twenty fathoms of chain in almost as little time as it takes to mention it. In case of a leak in her hull, 3500 tons of water can be thrown out in one hour! She has fifty-six furnaces. One hundred and fifty firemen are necessary to attend to them all; but the lower tier, the ones mostly used, consume about 80 tons of coal per day. With all her furnaces in operation she burns about 150 tons. Her full crew numbers about 210 seamen. The Post says she proceeds hence to Halifax, and doubtless to Europe, for her sea-worthiness is now settled beyond question. Should any mishap occur, she is well provided with boats.

On the passage hither, the Transcript says,—"For some four hours the Dictator's speed was lessened by frothing of the boilers, and for some time the Agamenticus was a little ahead; but as soon as the Dictator got into good working order, she easily left the Agamenticus behind her. She did not at any time exceed ten miles an hour. She needs more firemen, and when she burns seven tons of coal an hour instead of three and a half tons, which she burnt on this trip, it is believed that she will reach thirteen knots, if not the fifteen which her contractors originally expected. Her wardroom, in size and comfort, has not a superior in the navy, and her thorough ventilation and purity of air are perfect. No vessel of the British Navy can harm this noble iron-clad, and one of her 440-lb. balls, striking, in a vital point, any vessel in the world but our own monitors, would sink her."

The Agamenticus, Com. E. G. Parrott, was built at this Navy Yard. She is 250 ft. long on the keel, 260 on deck, has 58 feet breadth of beam, 16 feet depth of hold, and draws 13 feet 6 inches. She has two revolving turrets 23 feet in diameter, with walls 10 inches thick. Each turret carries two 10-inch 400 pounder Rodman guns.—The deck is plated with three inches of iron and wood above, in all 18 inches. The ventilation is excellent. There are in all 16 engines—6 for ventilation, 4 for revolving the turrets, 4 for motive power of the steamer, and 2 for working the steam pumps. There are 4 boilers and 16 furnaces, which consume about 16 tons of coal per day. She has two propellers, and her speed is about nine knots per hour. She has a complement of 165 men and 17 officers.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin, per contra to the favorable reports of the Post and Transcript above, says:

"The famous 'Dictator,' about which so much has been written, steamed hence on a cruise in company with the 'Agamenticus,' and the side-wheel steamer 'Vanderbilt.' They went down the Bay finely, favored with light westerly breezes and a smooth sea; but the Dictator did not go fifteen knots,—her contract rate of speed,—although she had not more than half her quantity of coal on board, nor all the iron plating originally designed to be put upon her. Why she remained so long here after her short cruise of 45 hours from Newport, is a question more readily asked than answered It is uncharitably supposed that her engines required some more tinkering to make them work smoothly. But be this as it may, it is the general opinion here, that the best thing the Navy Department can do with her, is to lay her up, and say no more about her.

"The Agamenticus is a fine vessel of her class, and was evidently designed by some person who knew how to calculate her displacement properly, for she was not tipped on end like the Dictator, but showed a fair side."

IN SEARCH OF FAME.—We hear it reported that somebody is trying to manufacture a little fame by bringing a libel suit against brother Miller of the Chronicle, for expressing his opinion of Dartmouth Hotel in rather more fitting than complimentary terms, in a recent account of his visit to that locality. Suing an editor for libel in New Hampshire will be a rich incident. We wish the party or parties, whoever he or they may be, all possible joy in such an undertaking. In the mean time, we should bet on Frank's side.—Concord Monitor.

AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.
It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "aneros," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.
THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH
Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—
1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.
We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.
OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Elery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.
OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.
OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.
THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.
OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and add, 'the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, envelopped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

POLICE COURT, August 5.—Three young men having powerful voices, exercised them on Friday night, and succeeded in setting afloat on the ambient air sounds that would have disgraced the bull at the City Farm; but this pastime cost them each $4,75 in fines and costs.

Otis Hewins for impeding the progress of and insulting a female on the street, was fined $3 and costs $3.86. [It should have been double in our opinion.] Deeming it unjust he prefers to extend the case to October and accordingly gave bonds in the sum of twenty dollars.

The following literary morceau was placed in our hands by the City Marshal for publication, and we give it not so much to exhibit its style of composition, as to note its significance.

☞ The steamer Pioneer took a large party of ladies and gentlemen on an excursion down the harbor on Friday evening; the Cornet Band being in attendance, and as ever, furnishing acceptable music. Quite a heavy shower somewhat dampened the ardor of the excursionists at the start; but when they considered the parched earth, the wilting vegetation, the dry pastures where the cattle fail to find their usual supply of water, the failing cisterns and wells in our neighboring towns, then they regarded the rain as a precious boon rather than a misfortune, and light feet tripped gaily over the slippery deck. The moon outshone herself the latter part of the evening, and the party having serenaded and cheered iron-clads Dictator and Agamenticus, the Vanderbilt and the forts, to their hearts' content, and some of them having made the acquaintance of old Neptune's domain to their stomachs' discontent, they returned at midnight, to find the streets they left so hot and dusty, washed clean and cool.

☞ The old hero, Farragut, again visited our Navy Yard on Saturday morning, accompanied by a whole retinue of ladies and gentlemen; and upon landing, a rousing salute was fired from the battery, and he was formally saluted by a splendidly-drilled battalion of marines under command of Lieut. H. J. Bishop; after which the visitors repaired to the Commandant's residence, remaining until one o'clock, when they embarked on board the little steamer Emerald and steamed down to the great iron-clad Dictator, which now lies below. On stepping aboard, the huge guns of this iron craft poured forth their deafening thunder, in honor of the presence of him who once on a time lashed himself in the maintop to witness the operation and effect of just such "institutions" of war. After visiting the different vessels—Dictator, Agamenticus and Vanderbilt, the party returned to the city.

☞ A correspondent of the Boston Daily Advertiser in his account of the visit of Lieut. Gen. Grant to Portland, and of his making an excursion down the harbor, says that "on Friday morning about half-past 9, the General, family and suite took a trip down the bay in the beautiful revenue cutter Mahoning. The party on board numbered about 50, and was composed of the elite of Portland. There were also present a number of Portsmouth people, among whom were Surgeon Burbank of the Navy Yard, Lieut. I. H. Washburne of the Marine Corps, Hon. T. L. Tullock, and Miss Arabella Jackson, daughter of Christopher C. Jackson, Esq., of Portsmouth."

☞ An article upon the iron-clad Dictator, (now in our lower harbor,) in the Army and Navy Journal of last week says that "the English congratulate themselves that the Dictator can be taken by boarders. A trifling experience with her three 'deck scrapers,' as they are called, would speedily dispel this delusion. These deck-scrapers are machings for passing up through the deck from below, 9 inch percussion shells, which are exploded by a simple contrivance, sweeping off everything within their reach. They have been tested aboard the Dictator by covering her deck with wooden men, and exploding a shell with one of the deck-scrapers. Such was the force of the explosion that everything was swept from the deck into the sea, and the chain cable cut in two by a fragment of the shell. It is no secret now that our monitors in Southern waters were provided with these deck-scrapers, to defend them against night attacks from boarders."

☞ Besides the promised libel suit for this Chronicle,—referred to elsewhere,—that Dartmouth Hotel man we hear has demanded $1000 from the Boston Herald, the reporter for which told a little more truth than our Jotter did, respecting that redoubtable establishment—though as to that, the half has not yet been told by anybody.

— To get rid of your troubles, says an exchange, stop thinking of them. Whether you are as lively as a cricket or as dull as rain, depends less on the size of your pocket book than on the condition of your mind. Low spirits are almost always produced by want of exercise and oxygen. A brisk run or walk will kill the blues in less time than you can slaughter a bobtailed fly with a flat iron.

"The children's portrait of Abraham Lincoln," published as supplement to "The Little Corporal" is the choicest of all the portraits of the late President, that has been published. OUR RETURNING SOLDIERS,
Who are suffering from CHRONIC DIARRHŒA or DYSENTERY, or general debility in the System, caused by change of Water or of Food, or the hardships of a military life, will find Dr. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR a sure medicine to restore them to health. By its use, (from a teaspoonful to a table spoonful), it will act in connection with their food, and immediately change the character of their sensations—thus arresting the cause of their weakness or debility. Through its action in the Blood, it will expel all Humors and Impurities, that are working a slow but certain effect, invariably terminating in Consumption of the Blood, which is fatal to so many of our brave soldiers, after their return to their home and friends. For Costiveness and the Piles, it is the best remedy ever discovered.

Prepared by Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON, who has had thirty years' successful practice as a physician.

The BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR may be obtained at the Doctor's Office, 51 HANOVER STREET, BOSTON, and is sold by all Apothecaries throughout the New England States.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF
PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

FOR CONSUMPTION, it is the only reliable remedy known. It has in thousands of instances restored patients that seemed past hope of recovery; and, in tens of thousands has arrested the disease in its primary stages, and restored the patient to robust health.

BRONCHITIS. Its effects in this troublesome disease are very marked. It is necessary to persist in its use for a considerable length of time.

FEMALE DEBILITY. To sustain and augment the forces; to make new, rich and pure blood; to build up the nervous system; to restore energy to the mind and body, nothing can be better adapted than this preparation.

In Asthma, General Debility, Emaciation, and Coughs, it is a reliable remedy. Nine-tenths of the cases where it is supposed to fail, simply arise from the remedy being abandoned before its beneficial effects become obvious. Be careful and get the genuine, manufactured only by A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, 168 Court Street, Boston.

COAL AT COST.
EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.
This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the evils of the speculative movements of the day. Its offices are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operated over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid dividends of 1 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shovelling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the best generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—And would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases arising from a secret practice, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Patients who wish to consult Dr. Dow, from any part of the country, will full directions for use, on receiving descriptions of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capsules, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three or $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females

Dr. Dow, since 1840, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.
Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR DOW, No. 7 Endicott street. Those who need the service of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

— The total effects of a Jeremy Diddler who boarded at one of the Philadelphia hotels for a week, were found to consist of a valise filled with waste paper, brickbats, old newspapers and straw. He had in his pockets two paper collars, eight envelopes and an empty pocket book. He was removed to Moyamensing, where board is less luxurious, but no charge is made for it.

— One day lately, when it was very wet at the West, wheat went up in Chicago and other great markets, from 1.10 to 1.30 or so, and many big speculators bought big piles of it. But another day came, with sunshine, and the price came down a peg or two,—and some of the speculators came down with it.

— The N. Y. Herald's South Carolina correspondence says movements indicate the intention of the national government to keep a wholesome check for a season yet on the natural secession and rebellious effervescence of the chivalry of that State. A garrison has been placed in all the principal towns of the interior, mostly comprised of colored troops.

— A woman of Meena caste in Meywar, India, in a fit of jealousy murdered her husband, and the relations of the deceased in return burnt the woman alive, and were arrested by the Meywar authorities. They were sentenced to six months imprisonment for their sportive freak, the evidence against them being conclusive.

— An interesting letter from Gen. Palmer, now in command in Kentucky, shows to Pres. Johnson the present condition of slavery in that State, viz. chaos; and also that it must speedily pass away.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice given in matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. All THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such success is the proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART During eight months, the subscriber, in court of this large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 9, 1865.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Rumor has it that Gen. Townsend's recent visit to Fortress Monroe was in connection with Jeff. Davis's trial.

Most people have been laboring under the impression that Mrs. Surratt's counsel conducted her defense voluntarily and without fee. This is not so. Before the execution, they managed to get from her a lien on her property for $3500.

Washington is infested with garroters and burglars. Nobody is safe on the streets after dark. The local columns of the city papers are filled with accounts of outrages committed by the villains. It has been suggested that Mosby's gang has transferred its headquarters to Washington.

The old National Era, which suspended about five years since, is about to be revived. It will advocate negro suffrage.

It is understood the Department of State has received information that orders have been given by the French commander in Mexico for restitution of the property of the defunct confederacy, taken to that country on the occasion of the evacuation of Brownsville.

Austin Suttles, tried by a Military Commission on charges of conspiring with and aiding guerrillas to cause the death of a loyal citizen, and giving aid and comfort to guerrillas in Virginia, has been found guilty, and sentenced to three years in the Albany Penitentiary.

☞ Great excitement prevailed in Montreal Tuesday morning, over an attempt to abduct Geo. N. Sanders, the fugitive rebel, and rush him over into the United States. The two abductors, named Hogan and Burns, are arrested.

POOR PROPERTY.—An English holder of Confederate cotton bonds, which are mentioned as being worth 7 1-2, writes to the London News that when the proper time arrives he has no doubt whatever that each of the States lately confederate will take upon itself its proportion of the cotton bonds unliquidated, which amounts to little over £2,000,000. John Bull, as an encouragement to his secesh friends to do this thing, says that if it is done the act of honesty will induce English moneyed men to give the Southern States as much money on loan as will repair the ravages of the war; but this reconstructive inducement will not serve to either increase the value of the rebel securities or encourage their payment. The Taurian speculator has been "stuck"—very essentially. — Boston Journal.

By such flimsy support, a small market price is kept up in England, on confed. bonds. But the dependance of the fools who buy them, on State payment, is worth about as much as the chance to catch larks when the sky falls.

GOLD, Tuesday, 144 1-2.

— In Portland, on Monday evening, as we learn from the Press, the members of the 3d parish church held a meeting. The full report of the doings of the late Council was read and accepted. Mr. Walton's resignation was unanimously accepted, with the understanding that he should again be hired. Dea. Gould offered a motion that Mr. Walton be hired another year. The vote was thirty-one in favor and nine against.

— Jas. E. Shepherd, 26 years of age, pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy before the Worcester Police Court on Monday. He is going it young.

— A little girl, between one and two years of age, was run over by a horse car in Portland on Monday afternoon, and instantly killed—her head being completely crushed. The coroner's jury censured the parents for culpable negligence in allowing the child to be in the streets unattended.

— A rich man left his tailor $150,000, when he died, for being so very attentive.

— While Mr. Appleton H. Floyd, a police officer in Portland, was chasing a prisoner who had broken away from his custody on Sunday, he fell on the street and expired instantly. Disease of the heart was the probable cause of his death.

— Two men died at Holyoke, Mass., on Friday from sun-stroke. Patrick McCabe, a returned soldier, was found dead near the dam at Holyoke on Sunday. He had been drunk for several days.

— The Rutland (Vt.) Herald relates that four men employed in loading a grave train on the Rutland and Burlington Railroad, were buried alive by the caving of a sand bank about a mile north of Pittsford. The accident occurred at about two o'clock P. M., but the bodies were not all recovered until near six o'clock, owing to the sand continuing to run in almost as fast as it could be shoveled out.

— A famous English pedestrian named Spooner has just walked eight miles in 58 minutes and 40 seconds, and one mile in 6 minutes, 39 seconds. He had previously walked 20 miles in 2 hours, 27 minutes, 2 sec. This is the best time yet at all three distances.

— At the Handel festival in London the chorus consisted of 4000 voices

THE PRESS AGOG.—The Editorial Excursion to Lake Memphremagog, as we intimated on Thursday last, commenced on that day, and wound up Saturday. Of course we must Jot down a few random notes respecting the trip, and of course we ought to have done it before; but the fact is, we had such a real good time (don't let that Boston Saturday Evening Gazette man see this,) that we didn't get rested for a day or two;—you know our theory is, that a boy or man who don't get tired out, pleasuring, never thinks he has had a first-rate time. Then that Smith, with his dirty libel suit, too, frightened us so that we have hardly been ourself since. However, "a thing of beauty is a joy forever;" and so we shall never forgot that visit to the beautiful Lake with the strange name.

Of our party of sixty or so, ladies and gentlemen, there were from this city, the senior of the Journal, Col. C. G. Pickering of the Governor's staff, and our "Jotter." Adm. Farragut, after deciding to accept Mr. Gilmore's invitation, at the last moment felt obliged to withdraw on account of indisposition; but along the road he was expected, and at every station, clear up to the Canada line, he was eagerly looked after by gaping crowds, and often inquired for; and at one small town in Vermont, quite a display of young ladies was got up, all decked out in white dresses, with ribbons, banners, &c., and three of the number dressed, one each in a red, a white, and a blue gown—and with the drum and fife, and the cheers, made out considerable of a celebration; especially seeing there was no Admiral there, except Gov. Smyth, Mayor Humphrey of Concord and Gen. Natt Head.

At Newmarket Junction, new representatives of the Press, from Dover, and that way, joined us; and at Raymond, "twenty minutes for breakfast." A good woman who occupies here at the depot, always has been in the habit of furnishing a nice lunch, at charges just sufficient to pay for washing the dishes; but most of our party concluded to take a regular sit-down breakfast at the new and very acceptable "Central House," just built by Lyme Prescott, next door to the Station. And here, next after Conductor Kenrick's courtesies of the ride up, began the unceasing civilities of the occasion—for after a very substantial and well-served meal, on meeting our Br. of the Journal as he came from the saloon, we answered his congratulation that he had "had a fine lunch for almost nothing," with, "yes, and we have all had a capital breakfast for less than that!" Mr. Prescott, besides knowing how to keep a hotel, always has good horses in his stable to accommodate travellers, and generally can show you a good stepper or two.

We met on the train a former editorial friend, who had of late been connected with the Army, and we were sorry to find him him suffering with diseased lungs. He had been to Smith's Isles for a week, but was nothing benefitted by the sea air, but rather grew worse—contrary to the opinion of some experienced physicians, and also to the result of many trials of other cases.

At Manchester, the Lawrence and Salem, and Boston editors, and others, with their ladies; and Gov. Smyth and lady, and suite, considerably augmented our party. Then at Concord, almost the whole company was made up, and an elegant passenger car and a fine smoking car were provided and run through expressly for our company, (but no smoking allowed therein on this trip—the dirty fellows had to go to the baggage car for that, and that's too good a place for them.)

Ex-Gov. Gilmore was sick at home, but is too good a business man ever to forget his duty to the Press. President Stearns and Supt. Parker of the Northern Road, arranged all the details for the comfort of the party; and Mr. Stearns accompanied us until out of his jurisdiction at White River Junction—where Pres. Keyes and Supt. Perry of the Passumpsic R. R. took us in charge, to the end of our route and back again.

There was only one who did not do his best for us—and this was the clerk of the weather—for Thursday was d——scidedly hot, as you will remember; and of all the dust and smoke we ever saw, the shower through our cars, at the end of a long train, on that 200 mile ride, beat everything. We wouldn't have kissed the prettiest girl in the company for considerable, till she had washed her face of cinders, and we ours. Our teeth are on edge now, thinking of it—not the kiss which we didn't get, but the cinders which we did.

Well, after a nice saloon lunch at Danbury, we finally arrived at the jumping-off place, Newport in Vermont—having gone the whole length of three railroads; and as the rail ends here now, we had to get out. And right glad were we all to get into the Memphremagog House, a new and very large summer hotel just built on the shore of the Lake—delightfully situated, well kept and thronged with visitors.

We have not much to say about the country as we passed along. It is mostly a farming and grazing section, not thickly settled; but both in Vermont and Canada the soil appears more fertile and the grass is much greener than with us. Many lovely views of hill and valley, pond, lake and river, are gained, (and often lost by some peaky covered bridge,) as you pass. All we have to say now is, that when the few miles of rail yet needed to connect with the Canada roads shall be completed, the Passumpsic Railroad will become one of the most important in the country, both to its owners and all the lines below: forming by 65 miles the shortest route to New York from Quebec and Montreal.

But we couldn't go on Lake Memphremagog, that night, notwithstanding the ladies and the moon light—it was too late; and for the same reason, I cannot take you there today. So let us wait at the hotel till the morning.

Yours, JOTTER.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mayor Daniels of Manchester, is again confined to his house by serious illness.

—— A house in Concord was struck by lightning on Saturday last, and set on fire, but soon extinguished.—And on Sunday afternoon an incendiary set fire to the old Court House, now used as a store-house. This was also soon put out.

—— In the Manchester Police Court, on Saturday, James Quinlan was examined on the charge of robbing William Quinlan, a discharged soldier, of Co. K, 3d N. H. regiment, of a sum of money. He was decreed guilty and held to bail in $500. James Q. was at one time a Lieut. in Co. C, 3d N. H. Regiment. They had been drinking together.

—— A correspondent of the Argus says "Great Falls is a town of over five thousand inhabitants, and for two years no newspaper has been published in it. I understand, however, that a Union sheet is shortly to make its appearance, provided the proprietor can raise the tin. Trade here was largely increased with the re-opening of the mills; over one thousand men and women have entered town within three weeks, and the Company's agents are still vigorously at work through the country hunting up operatives."

—— On Saturday, learning that Gen. Grant was expected at Gorham, on his way to Quebec, Gov. Smyth, who was then at Newport, Vt., as a guest of the editorial party from New Hampshire, dispatched Adj. Gen. Head, (who also accompanied the party,) to Gorham, with a letter to Gen. Grant, stating that he was unwilling he should pass along the borders of our State without visiting the capital and some of our principal cities. Gen. Head was instructed to proceed at once to Quebec, if he did not succeed in meeting Gen. Grant at Gorham.

— The Biddeford Union says Frederick Green, of Saco, was found dead in his room on Tuesday noon, Aug. 1st. He was the son of Judge Benj. Green of South Berwick; was admitted to the York County Bar in 1828; was State Senator in 1835-6, member of the House in 1842, and Judge of the Saco Police Court from 1849 to 1852, or until it was abolished. He leaves a widow and four children.

— A correspondent of the Boston Post, writing from Saratoga, gives an account, not very flattering, of Morrissey's gambling house, and of the sharpers and their victims who congregate there.

— Worcester is having well attended temperance meetings, the chief object of which is to prevent our returned soldiers from being swindled out of their hard earned pittances.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anores," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of year. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Elfery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—Like many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be best again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

☞ The sale at auction of the Portsmouth Steam Factory Co. property, advertised to take place on Monday, was postponed until further notice, Major William H. Hackett, the Auctioneer, stating that at a late hour on Saturday evening an injunction had been served upon one of the Committee prohibiting the sale. [The injunction was issued in favor of the National Mechanics & Traders Bank of this city, and other creditors of the Factory.] The service had been so recently made that there was no possibility of their stating when the sale would take place, but the time fixed would be announced in future advertisements.

There were present many gentlemen from Boston and other cities in Massachusetts, and from Rhode Island,—among them several manufacturers of note.

In Boston, last week, the stock sold for 75c a share, and on Wednesday 115 shares were knocked off at 35c. The Commercial Bulletin says, "but a month ago very knowing operators were sure that this stock had reached the bottom price; it was then selling for six dollars and a half; many new parties went in at these figures. Such can to-day reflect, as they try to sell their certificates for a fraction of a dollar, that stock in an unfortunate cotton mill is not much better than shares in a 'fancy' Canada gold or copper company." And the above action on the part of the creditors looks as if they feared the sale would not realize the indebtedness.

POLICE COURT, August 7.—The ever-moving planet which we inhabit has made two revolutions since the last case was considered, and the last criminal went cursing out of the dock. Sunday has intervened; and while to this Court it has been a day of rest, the devil has kept his subjects busily employed in one direction or another.

John Heekman labors in Satan's vineyard, and we judge must have partaken of the vintage, as he was found beastly drunk on Sunday night, and was taken to the station-house. He next was taken before the court and there fined $3, and costs $3.86.

F. H. Howard is another emissary of the devil. He labors for him in the evening hours to midnight—and the drunken revelers at his shop disturb the holy stillness of the Sabbath day. Such profanity haply is frowned upon by our city fathers, insomuch that they have provided an ordinance which prohibits this kind of business on Sundays; and Mr. Howard had this plaster (if we may so term it, without intending irreverance,) applied by the police last Sunday, and it had a more powerful effect than even Patch's Powerful Patent Porous Pulling Plasters,—for it drew him to the lock-up, from thence to the police court, and there, quietly, unostentatiously, and as gently as could be expected under the circumstances, drew forth from a rum-scented wallet $14.03, part of which went to the coffers of the State, and the rest to witnesses, policemen, &c., which was well earned.

☞ A correspondent writes to request us to acknowledge his obligation to Al. Rowe, at Mr. G. V. Rowe's store, for taking care of and returning to him safely, his wallet and considerable contents, which he forgot and left there. He thinks (and so do we) that it is truly refreshing, among pickpockets and litters of other men's property—to find traders honest in all their dealings.

☞ We learn that Lieut. George M. Welles, formerly of this Marine Naval Station, has been ordered to the Brooklyn Navy Yard. He was recently ordered to Pensacola, but—very naturally—having great antipathy to a torrid atmosphere, where reigns yellow fever, and other kindred diseases peculiar to such a climate, made efforts to get his orders revoked, and succeeded as above stated.

☞ U. S. Senator Daniel Clark, Col. John E. Bickford of Gov. Smyth's Staff, Col. George H. Pierce of Dover, Hon. Waterman Smith of Manchester, Hon. Stephen Kendrick, President of the C. & P. Railroad, and Capt. Nath'l Wiggin, Sub Provost Marshal, were in this city yesterday, most of which gentlemen are on their way to Rye.

☞ Capt. James W. Plaisted, of this city, has arrived at home, having been mustered out of service on Saturday. He received his promotion to the captaincy of Co. A, 3d N. H. Regiment, about a month ago.

☞ The Gentlemen of the Philharmonic Society are requested to meet at Mercantile Hall this (Tuesday) Evening at half-past 7 o'clock, on important and interesting business.

☞ Bailey's Combination Dramatic Troupe, at the Temple again to-night. See advertisement.

☞ Hon. Gilman Marston was at Appledore House, Smith's Isles, on Saturday.

☞ "L," the Boston correspondent of the Ballot, is as well posted on business matters as the Mercantile Agency itself.—He says that "the failure of Messrs. Washburn, Welch & Co., of Boston, which occurred some weeks since, was one of the toughest articles of the kind we have had for some time in this market. This firm were the successors of Samuel H. Gookin, (formerly of Portsmouth) who is now very wealthy, and occupies what is considered the finest residence in Boston. Their indebtedness is above $100,000, and the creditors will have to 'whistle' for the greater part of their money. The withdrawal of the capital of Mr. Gookin and Mr. Carr, and the depreciation of the value of merchandize, were the principal causes of the failure, although bad management had something to do with it. For some time previous to the failure, the concern borrowed money anywhere and everywhere, and consequently many lenders got bit badly. It is a very scaly affair at the best. Of course Mr. Gookin was in no way connected with the house."

☞ Speaking of Incomes, the Commercial Bulletin says that "in the absence of those stirring descriptions of battles, sieges and marches, which have during the last four years been the most attractive columns in the journals of the day: the seaside pleasure seekers, and the mountain tourists, as well as the people still at home in the hot city streets, are studying these suggestive pages of statistics, the income lists for 1864. The 'unlimited credit' of the Monte Christo of Romance, is thrown into the shade by the realities of some of the returns. * * Several junior partners in Boston firms, which were apparently on their last legs in 1857, appear to have made in '64 fortunes that would have been considered large enough to retire upon in the days of our ancestors; and some of the old line aristocratic families are reading with astonishment, if not chagrin, figures that indicate their complete financial eclipse by individuals of whom they have never before heard. As we glance over the lists of those persons taxed on sums above $50,000, (smaller figures are of no consequence in these days) we see many names which have in the years that are past brought disaster upon the innocent and unwary. We may, without entering upon the discussion of the nature and extent of the obligations of discharged debtors, perhaps be permitted to suggest the propriety of a small dividend at least, in some of the more notorious cases."

OUR RETURNING SOLDIERS,

Who are suffering from CHRONIC DIARRHŒA or DYSENTERY, or general Debility in the System, caused by change of Water and Diet, or the hardships of a military life, will find Dr. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR a sure medicine to restore them to health. By its use, (from a teaspoonful to a table spoonful), it will act in connection with their food, and immediately change the character of their sore stools, arresting the cause of their weakness or debility. Through its action in the Blood, it will expel all Humors and Impurities, that are working a slow but certain effect, invariably terminating in Consumption of the Blood, which proves fatal to so many of our brave soldiers, after their return to their home and friends. For Costiveness and the Piles, it is the best remedy ever discovered.

Prepared by Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON, who has had thirty years' successful practice as a physician.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF
PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

For CONSUMPTION, it is the only reliable remedy known. It has in thousands of instances restored patients that seemed past hope of recovery; and, in tens of thousands has arrested the disease in its primary stages, and restored the patient to perfect health.

BRONCHITIS. Its effects in this troublesome disease are very marked. It is necessary to persist in its use for a considerable length of time.

FEMALE DEBILITY. To sustain and augment the forces; to make new, rich and pure blood; to build up the nervous system; to restore energy to the mind and body, nothing can be better adapted than this preparation.

In Asthma, General Debility, Emaciation, and Coughs, it is a reliable remedy. Nine-tenths of the cases where it is supposed to fail, simply arise from the remedy being abandoned before its beneficial effects become obvious. Be careful and get the genuine, manufactured only by A. B. WILBOR, Chemist, 162 Court Street, Boston.

SAVE YOUR MONEY!

Wilbor's Monitor Hair Dye

is superseding all others. It requires no preparation, does not smut or rub off, will not soil the finest linen. One application will last until the hair grows out, when it can be applied to the roots without more trouble than a common hair oil. It is warranted not to injure the hair or skin.—Manufactured only by ALEX. B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 162 Court Street, Boston.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

IS WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in	15	minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30	"
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15	"

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.
EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.
This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.
The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.
Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the breaking of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this novel and valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this are obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SPANISH ROUGE,
FOR POLISHING,
XL
Or Cleaning Gold, Silver, Silver Plated, Brittania, Brass, Tin, Steel, Iron, Copper, Glass, or Metal of all kinds. For the purpose intended this article cannot be beat. Twenty-five cents invested in a package of this, will add more to the looks of a home than one hundred dollars spent in new ware. Every article of any kind of metal upon the house can be kept to look like new. How much pleasanter all are when everything looks bright and clean, which causes a smile upon the face of the wife, when keeping every article of metal polished with the Spanish Rouge is reduced to a mere pastime and pleasure. It removes the tarnish and the brunk of the hand. It is a mineral without any composition whatever, therefore can do no harm.
This is done in three different qualities, for the finest Gold to the coarsest Metals.
Try the Spanish Rouge, and it will become a household word and a great assistant. Every person who has a ring or ear-drop, to an engine manufacturer, needs it. For sale by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States: also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that THERE IS MORE SUCCESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF EXCELLENCE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary or a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, or more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, of all kinds, of which patents have been granted, and that is sufficient evidence of unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability in his profession to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, every one of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1865.

WADE HAMPTON, an ex-rebel General, has written a letter to the Columbia, S. C., Phenix, from which it appears he does not wish to emigrate to Mexico or Brazil, unless perchance he shall fail to get South Carolina reconstructed to suit his notions. But yet he defends the rebels and rebellion, stoutly, as follows:

War, after four years of heroic but unsuccessful struggle, has failed to secure to us the rights for which we engaged in it. To save any of our rights—to rescue anything more from the general ruin—will require all the statesmanship and all the patriotism of our citizens. If the best men of our country—those who for years past have risked their lives in her defence—refuse to take the oath, they will be excluded from the councils of the State, and its destiny will be committed of necessity to those who forsook her in her hour of need, or to those who would gladly pull her down to irretrievable ruin. To guard against such a calamity, let all true patriots devote themselves, with zeal and honesty of purpose, to the restoration of law, the blessings of peace, and to the rescue of whatever of liberty may be saved from the general wreck. If, after an honest effort to effect these objects, we fail, we can then seek a home in another country.

This is plain talk,—and means that the rebels, like himself, are the best men, and must rule there; while the Union men are the worst, and unfit to govern, because they would pull down the old slavocracy, and have the working people share in the government, so creating a democratic element, which was never yet allowed in South Carolina. Hampton goes on to say:

A distinguished citizen of our State—an honest man and a true patriot—has been appointed Governor. He will soon call a Convention of the people, which will be charged with the most vital interests of our State. * * * In the meantime, I shall obtain all information which would be desirable in the establishment of a colony, in case we should ultimately be forced to leave the country. I invoke my fellow citizens—especially those who have shared with me the perils and the glories of the last four years—to stand by our State manfully and truly.

Not a word has he about his obligations to the United States, or to the Nation. But he and his fellows who have shared the perils and glories of making a war and rebellion for slavery, that have slain half a million of men, destroyed more than half our commerce, loaded us with debt for a century to come—and then failed of their purpose—these, and these only, are the men fit to make laws for South Carolina! We would think well of Gov. Perry; but Hampton's recommendation is enough to throw suspicion on any man.

Poor Hampton! He and his allies tried in vain, before the war, to turn back the rolling surge of freedom for the world, by Dred Scott decisions, two-third rules, and all such tricks. Failing there, they rebelled, and stole ships, and turned pirates and guerrillas; they became incendiaries and conspirators, and yellow fever importers; they raised armies, and fought battles,—and Hampton himself was "the man on horseback," who was going to ride through our country, and subdue the Yankee Abolitionists. But they failed—miserably—utterly. Hampton's last cavalry ride was down—down—to the fag end of Jeff. Davis' career, close this captivity.

Now, says he, we failed to secure the rights for which we engaged in it. Truly so, for what he calls rights were wrongs, oppressions, usurpations and swindles! They failed, and they deserved to fail. The Lord has rewarded them according to their works. None of his rights are in any danger now,—but he wishes to save as many relics of the old wrongs as possible in South Carolina. We hope he may fail again—and if he sees fit to leave the country, we dare say it will be for the country's good.

U. T.

RICHMOND.—The Richmond correspondence of the Tribune says a disgraceful state of affairs prevails in that city. Citizens beat and maltreat every colored person they meet, and even the soldiers are led into the same course by the citizens. Great dissatisfaction prevails among the soldiers, on account of the poor rations, worse than were issued to them while in the trenches and less wholesome than those issued to the citizens; they have not been paid off for six or eight months, and with dubious expectations as to being mustered out, they are found willing, in the hands of bad and disloyal men, who ply them with whiskey, to undertake and execute almost any job.

The colored citizens have adopted a petition to Gen. Terry, setting forth a catalogue of grievances which are simply astounding as perpetrated in a civilized community, where a military government prevails.

— The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has ruled that a duly licensed commercial broker may negotiate a sale of liquors from one dealer to another without an additional license, but at any time the liquors shall be in his custody or under his control, he will require a license as a liquor dealer on account of such a sale or negotiation.

RYE, Aug. 9.

Messrs. Editors Chronicle: For several days past, mysterious hints of something grand about to happen, were thrown out by the "knowing ones" to the omnipresent "members of the press." It was not definitely known, however, to the 'outside barbarians," what it would be, until Monday—when it was generally announced, that a Grand Reception party would be given to Vice Admiral Farragut, by the guests of the Ocean House, on Tuesday evening Aug. 8. A Committee of Arrangements consisting of Joseph Blackwood of Phila.; Hon. John T. Heard, A. Wentworth, Charles A. B. Shepard, Boston; John Brewster, Cambridge; and Col. David Campbell of Pittsfield, issued nearly three hundred invitations: and judging from the number present, about all of the happy recipients of the same must have responded in person.

In the meantime, the Proprietors of the House, Messrs. Job. Jenness & Son, made arrangements with Col. Beals of Boston, to have the house decorated in honor of the occasion. From the top of the adjacent flag staff, long streamers, tri-colors and a grand display of the flags of all nations radiated in various directions—while the large reception room was most gaily and elaborately decorated in honor of Adm. Farragut. In front of the main stairway was a splendid archway of flags, surmounted with the inscription in gilt letters, "Welcome Admiral Farragut." Near by was a handsome shield, and just above it in large letters, "New Orleans" and "Mobile." All of the pillars were festooned with flags, and the whole room in fact was a perfect sea of "red, white and blue," relieved here and there with the names of battles in elegant gilt letters.

Previous to dancing, Vice Admiral Farragut held a reception in the Ladies' Parlor, and received the congratulations of the company assembled to do him honor. Gov. Smyth and wife, attended by Col. Pickering and others of the Governor's Suite, arrived at an early hour, and immediately entered the Reception room. Among the notables present were Admiral Bailey and Commander Nichols of the Navy Yard; Lieut. Washburne of the Marine Corps; Paymasters C. W. Clapp, and J. E. Tolfree; Chief Engineer Robie, of the iron clad "Dictator"; N. Ludlow, and Lieut. Com. J. M. Pritchard of the "Dictator"; Maj. A. Stickney, of the Engineer Corps, late of Maj. Gen. Logan's Staff; Col. W. P. Fogg of Ohio, and Professor Folsom of Harvard University. The Press was represented by E. D. Knight jr. of the Boston Journal, I. F. March of the Traveller, and the reporters of the Boston Post and Exeter Ballot.

At little past nine, the splendid Band connected with the Ocean House commenced playing "Hail to the Chief;" and a few minutes later the first Quadrille was danced, the leading sett being composed as follows: Vice Admiral Farragut and Miss Bearse of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Shepard, Mr. Blackwood and lady, and Mr. A Wentand Mrs. Russell Bates jr. At eleven o'clock supper was announced, and the company repaired to the dining room, to find a most sumptous and elegant repast, prepared by that celebrated caterer J. B. Smith esq., of Boston. The dining room was most profusely and tastefully decorated, while the richness of the ladies toilettes lent an additional grace that even the skill of Col. Beals failed to surpass. After supper dancing was resumed, and continued to a very late hour. In point of wealth and brilliancy, the party was probably never surpassed in New Hampshire.

Yours truly, BUGGINS.

REBELS IN MEXICO.—Major General Herron, who has just arrived from Shreveport, where he received the surrender of the bulk of Kirby Smith's army, informs the St. Louis Republican that instead of the seven or eight thousand Missourians who are said to have accompanied Shelby beyond the Rio Grande, that officer was followed by a scanty band of two hundred. Their purpose, as well as their leader's, was to join Juarez and the liberal cause. Other parties of rebels who imitated Shelby, Missourians and men from seceded States, will not exceed a few hundred in number, all told. Like the former they designed to cast their swords into the scale against Maximilian.

San Antonio (Texas) papers report that Col. Terry and a party of rebels who crossed over into Mexico, were met by a detachment of the Liberal army, which relieved them of all equipage, money and transportation, leaving the entire party afoot in the road.

☞ Early on Wednesday morning, the New York and Boston Steamboat train, on the Norwich route, was thrown off the track, about six miles north of New London, by the breaking of a rail. Five cars went off the track, and three of them tumbled down a steep bank of 10 feet into the Thames river. The tide was low, and so no persons were drowned. One man, Adams, of Northboro', was killed, and a number hurt.

— John Bell has taken the amnesty oath at Nashville.

Communication.

☞ Numerous parties are taking advantage of the opportunity offered to visit the iron-clad Dictator, and the courtesy extended to visitors by the officers in charge is worthy of imitation. She will probably remain here a few days longer, as the Vanderbilt is to tow the Franklin to Boston. On Wednesday, an unusually large number visited the ship, the greater part consisting of ladies and gentlemen from abroad; we also noticed a party from Portsmouth, among whom were Capt. James M. Hill, late of the ship Harmonia, his daughter Miss Kate B. Hill, and S. B. Childs, Esq.

RECEPTION OF A RETURNED FUGITIVE SLAVE IN NORTH CAROLINA.—The Tribune's Raleigh correspondent says a negro named Curry, who, some years since, made his escape from slavery, a few days since reappeared in his old neighborhood in search of his family, to take them North, when he was set upon by citizens and nearly killed. He related his treatment to General Ames, who sent a squad of cavalry out and had the assailants brought to him. Governor Holden then notified Gen. Ames that he had appointed justices of the peace to attend to such cases, and he had no doubt justice would be done; but Gen. Ames retains his prisoners. In the meantime a charge of assault and battery has been brought against Curry, and he too has been arrested and imprisoned by Gov. Holden's orders.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without pivots, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anchors," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, envelopped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

☞The U. S. Revenue steamer Mahoning, Capt. Webster, has been lying at Navy Yard for a day or two past, and on Tuesday morning started on an excursion to Rye Beach and the Shoals. The party consisted of the officers of the Navy Yard and also those of the Marine Barracks, with ladies, including Miss Simpson and Miss Jackson of this city, together with people from Portland. The Mahoning is a fine steamer, with splendid accommodations, and well-fitted for a pleasure craft, having, too, a perfect gentleman for a captain.

The party alluded to was gotten up under the auspices of Col. Jones, commanding Marines at this station, who, with the assistance of Capt. Webster and Lieut. Ritchie, succeeded in causing everything to pass off pleasantly; at least, so say the lady excursionists, who are enthusiastic in their praises of the boat, its officers, and the trip. We should have stated that the steamer put in at Rye Beach and took Vice-Admiral Farragut and his family along with them for a time.

The Mahoning is the boat which took the Congressional Excursion down east last year; and we also have most pleasant memories of her and her gallant officers.

☞Adm. Farragut is yet sojourning at Rye Beach, at the Atlantic House. A large and brilliant complimentary Levee was given him by the guests, at the Ocean House, on Tuesday evening. The spacious edifice was elegantly decorated by Col. Wm. Beals of Boston; the band of the House furnished fine music; the company was large and exceedingly gay, and all passed off splendidly.

OUR RETURNING SOLDIERS,

Who are suffering from CHRONIC DIARRHŒA or DYSENTERY, or general Debility in the System, caused by change of Water or of Food, or the hardships of a military life, will find DR. RICHARDSON'S BLOOD-ROOT ELIXIR a sure medicine to restore them to health. By its use, (from a teaspoonful to a table spoonful), it will act in connection with their food, and immediately change the character of their secretions,—thus restoring the cause of their weakness. Again, through its action in the blood, it will expel all Humors and Impurities, that are working a slow but certain effect, invariably terminating in Consumption of the Blood, which proves fatal to so many of our brave soldiers, after their return to their home and friends. For Costiveness and the Piles, it is the best remedy ever discovered.

Prepared by Dr. S. O. RICHARDSON, who has had thirty years' successful practice as a physician.

WILBOR'S COMPOUND OF

PURE COD LIVER OIL AND LIME.

For CONSUMPTION, it is the only reliable remedy known. It has in thousands of instances restored patients that seemed past hope of recovery; and, in less of thousands has arrested the disease in its primary stages, and restored the patient to robust health.

BRONCHITIS. Its effects in this troublesome disease are very marked. It is necessary to persist in its use for a considerable length of time.

FEMALE DEBILITY. To sustain and augment the forces; to make new, rich and pure blood; to build up the nervous system; to restore energy to the mind and body, nothing can be better adapted than this preparation.

In Asthma, General Debility, Emaciation, and Coughs, it is a reliable remedy. Nine-tenths of the cases where it is supposed to fail, simply arise from the remedy being abandoned before its beneficial effects become obvious. Be careful and get the genuine, manufactured only by A. B WILBOR, Chemist, 166 Court Street, Boston.

SAVE YOUR MONEY!

Wilbor's Monitor Hair Dye

is superseding all others. It requires no preparation, does not stunt or wash off, will not soil the finest linen. One application will last until the hair grows out, when it can be applied to the roots without more trouble than a common hair oil. It is warranted not to injure the hair or skin. Manufactured only by ALEX. B. WILBOR, Chemist, No. 166 Court Street, Boston.

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operating over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing, or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation:

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Black and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world.—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Sheridan,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than this subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that on these two grounds he would believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary expenses of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and more disposed to more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

IMPORTANT FROM TEXAS.—Governor Hamilton's Proclamation. News from Galveston to the 29th ultimo says that Gen Merritt's cavalry command had arrived at Austin, on their march across the country from Shreveport, Louisiana, and had raised the national flag over the State Capitol, where it had not before waved in four long years. Provisional Governor Andrew J. Hamilton reached Galveston on the 21st ult. where, on the 25th, he issued his proclamation to the people announcing his appointment by the President and foreshadowing his designed course of proceedure in the performance of his duties. He fixes no time for election or convention, but states that they would be held as soon as practicable. He says:

"The people of the State are invited to engage in the work of re-constructing the local government for themselves. The government of the United States seeks not, and has never sought, to humiliate the people of the South. It but asks them to be friends rather than enemies.

I shall not waste time in attempting to soothe those whose hearts are sore because of the extinction of slavery. It grappled with freedom in a spirit which admitted of no conciliation, no concession, no truce or neutrality; its challenge was to mortal combat, and in the struggle it went down forever. If the rebellion is conquered, slavery is dead; one is as much a fact as the other.

The negroes are not only free, but I beg leave to assure my fellow citizens that the government will protect them in their freedom.

For the time being the freedmen are recommended to engage with their former masters for reasonable compensation, to labor at least till the close of the present crops. But let it be distinctly understood that combinations among those interested in securing their labor to prevent them from hiring to those who will pay the most for it, and to ostracise in society those who oppose such combinations, will meet with no favor from the people or government of the United States. And candor compels me to say to the people of Texas that if, in the action of the proposed convention, the negro is characterized or treated as less than a freeman, our Senators and Representatives will seek in vain for admission to the halls of Congress. It is the part of duty to accept what is inevitable without resistance, and to recognize truth however unpalatable.

I could not, if I were to attempt it, satisfy those who are not wil ing to believe it, that slavery was never a good, and emancipation not an evil. A few men in the South differ with the whole civilized world upon that subject, and I suppose that most of them will go down to their graves complaining; but, in the meantime, those who realize that a new era has dawned upon us and who take advantage of the present will leave far in the background the mourners over the past glory of slavery. Texas has to-day her whole future destiny in her own hands.

KENTUCKY.—Gen. Brisbin, in his official report of the organization of colored troops, states that Kentucky has furnished 28,818 black men to the army. He also says that 24,000 women and children have been freed under the act of March 3, 1865, granting freedom to the wives and children of colored soldiers. The whole number of persons made free in Kentucky through the instrumentality of the army is 100,864.

RICHMOND ITEMS.—The Baltimore American's Richmond correspondent says the municipal ticket has not yet been appointed by Gen. Terry. The middle of the week will probably be as early as it will be done; and I have it from most respectable authority that there will be no more attempts to give to the people of this city an opportunity to hold a charter election, at least until December.

A distinguished officer of the late Confederate army has just been to procure a pardon. He is cognizant of Gen. Taylor's application to the President. It was not for permission to see Davis, nor for a pardon; it was to be allowed to leave the country for France.

The police, in carrying out the orders of Gen. Grant, on Tuesday night pounced upon the faro bank of Flannigan & Co., and captured five persons, including the newly-elected magistrates of the city, and a lay out for faro. The firm is from Baltimore. The Provost Marshal will dispose of the case.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—The N. Y. Herald's Charleston correspondence says the military generally and the few Union men there are in the State are indignant at Gov. Perry's proclamation appointing rebel county officers.

Gen. Gillmore has gone on a tour of inspection to the interior, and would go to Columbia to have an interview with Gov. Perry. It is said that the General has recommended the War Department to retain a strong military force in the State.

It is believed that the Convention will have a majority of delegates of the nullifying, fire-eating, secessionist school.

CRIMINALS DYING.—James Harley, who was serving out a life sentence in the Massachusetts State Prison, for shooting Officer Loughrey of Cambridge five years ago while the latter was attempting to arrest him for burglary, died in his cell on Sunday of consumption of the bowels.

William McNulty, who shot Officer Hodden in East Boston several years ago, was pardoned and released a few days ago. He is very low with consumption.

THE PRESS AGOG, No. 3.—Dear Chronicle:—On a trip to New Brunswick, last year, your Jotter was surprised and delighted to find his favorite berries, the rasp, in full supply, though at home here they had been gone sometime. So now, up in Vermont, and over on the Canada side, we had them in abundance, and of prime quality. The season is later there, as well as shorter—in fact, cut off at both ends.

We left you, or rather ourselves, at the Memphremagog Hotel, where we exerted all our talent (which, like Webster's, is not small,) in the sleeping line. Pecker tried to get up a dance, but couldn't make it go very well; and Natt Head's offer to treat the whole crowd to a steamboat moonlight ride, was reluctantly declined by vote, as the boat's fires were out, and it was getting late. So "finally, brethren, farewell," and all to bed—but first let us tell you who Pecker is, because he is responsible for all those raids over the border usually reached by the editorial fraternity. You know "F. F." of the Boston Journal, don't you? Well, he lives in Concord, and this is him. We don't know where he will get his "reward" for such magnificent Excursions as he has been getting up all summer; but, (if he will excuse us,) we hope not "in heaven" for some time yet, since those who are out would selfishly prefer him to stay and cater for us a while longer. When Pecker says, I want a railroad train, steamboat, or hotel, for my friends; the coon comes down at once. Commend us to Pecker, and may he never be henpecked.

Well, now for that phantom land, or water, Memphremagog,—which we will hence-forth have Magog for short—since nobody, not even Chandler E. Potter—and he's half Indian—knows what the whole name means, nor where it came from, (though some think they have found it out,) and since also the shorter name is scripture. No matter about names, since this is one of the most beautiful sheets of water in the world; and though not so large as our Winnipisaukee, yet excels it, in that the mountains rising from it are doubly as high, and the land surrounding far richer, and well tilled, and covered on every hand by numerous farmhouses and pretty villages.

Lake Memphremagog is situated in Vermont and Canada, having the towns of Newport and Magog at either extremity, and other smaller stopping places along shore on either hand. It is about 30 miles long, and from one to six broad. And it is of our trip across—and a good many times across—this loveliest of lakes, that we shall try and tell you something. After a good breakfast at the Memph. House aforesaid, at Newport, all aboard the lazy little steamer Mountain Maid, Capt. Fogg, and off we jog, for Magog—the gentlemen smiling as ever, and the ladies radiant, while Pecker was himself again.

We also luckily had on board President Keyes and Supt. Perry of the Passumpsic R. R., and Mr. Prime of the New York Journal of Commerce, "and several gentlemen from Canada, whose nationality was indicated by the inevitable traveling satchel, pendant from a shoulder-strap. Our trip through the beautiful lake, (as Br. Knapp of the Lowell Citizen well says,) was all that could be desired by anybody in search of the beautiful and sublime in nature. The west shore is more bold and bluffy than the east, two of the most prominent mountains of Canada standing out in bold relief. The first, Owl's Head, from the water's edge a dozen miles from Newport, peers up to the height of 2743 feet. At its base, and hard by the shore, is the Mountain House, three stories high, and half hidden by the surrounding foliage. Passing from this point, the boat makes a zig-zag course, stopping at Georgeville on the east shore, and Paige's Landing on the west. On the passage from Georgeville an admirable view is obtained of Mount Orford, the highest land in Canada East, looming up in the distance 3300 feet in a wide expanse of forest.

The next point of most interest is Magog village, at the outlet of the lake, where are found two hotels of moderate size, and a large one in process of construction, some extensive sawmills, a Catholic church and several stores. At this point stages connect for Quebec and Montreal. Our party, after partaking of a bountiful collation, furnished on board the boat by Pres. Keyes, took a stroll of an hour or more through the Canadian village, and re-embarked for the return." Yours, JOTTER.

— We learn from Liverpool, 30th, via Queenstown, that 700 miles of the Atlantic cable had been payed out the day previous, when insulation was lost. Cause unknown. Further particulars had not transpired.—The political news is unimportant.

— A New York contemporary says that the idea of the Mayor acting on a committee to raise funds to defend the traitor who dispatched his agents to burn that city is monstrous, and that it should as soon think of raising funds to defend Judas Iscariot, who betrayed his Savior.

— Deacon Eaton Green of Andover, Mass., fell and instantly died at the barn of W. Philips Foster, on Tuesday morning. He was 68 years of age.

THE LEADER OF A MOB KILLED.—Saturday night a party of several young men made an attack at Rocky Neck, Conn., on the house occupied by a colored man named William H. Davenport, who is married to an Irish woman, with the avowed intention of inflicting punishment on the negro and his wife for amalgamation. After the young men had been several times warned to leave, the mother of Davenport, an old negro woman, who was also in the house, fired upon them an old blunderbuss, and killed their leader, named Ludlam Chard. A coroner's investigation took place, when the jury in their verdict justified the shooting, as having been done in self-defence, and the old negro woman and her son were discharged.—Another and more particular account says that Davenport, whom the mob above called a negro, is a quadroon, well known for good behavior and integrity; and that his wife was, before marriage, much admired for her beauty by some of the leaders of the mob, who combined envy, jealousy, hatred and party rancor in their effort. Rocky Neck is said to be part of the town of Greenwich, an intensely copperhead borough, or burrow.

AT SAVANNAH, recently, one Howell, a brother-in-law of Jeff. Davis, and three other most insulting rebels were most soundly thrashed, in the presence of all the guests of the Pulaski House, by Capt. Hussy alone, for making indecent and insulting remarks against the President and our flag. Subsequently, another rebel puppy received similar descets from Capt. Hussey. Howell and his badly whipped bullies were then taken to the police station. The Republican says the lesson was sadly needed, as Union men have been uniformly insulted of late there, and the thing was growing unbearable.

☞ The United States Service Magazine for August has been received. The publisher corrects the impression that the war being over, his periodical was to be discontinued. He feels on the contrary that it is about to enter upon its widest field of influence. The varied and attractive contents of the present number confirm the publisher's views.

GOOD MILKERS.—Col. Isaac Woodman, a stock raiser and dairyman of Searsmont, Me., is reported in the Tribune to have said that, as the result of forty years' experience the heifer whose first calf is a bull, never proved to be much of a milker; but if her first product was a heifer, she was pretty sure to reproduce all the milking qualities of her mother, however excellent they may have been.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "snores," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named E. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, caved-oped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Proclamation No. 64.

All peaceable and well disposed citizens who will purchase one bottle of PEASE'S VEGETABLE HAIR RENEWER, will find the result as follows: It will turn your Grey Hair to their natural color; it will prevent your hair from falling off or becoming gray; it will keep your head clean and healthy; it will dress your hair beautifully; it does not smell of sulphur. Ask your druggist for Pease's Hair Renewer, and take no other. Also, PEASE'S PHILOCEME is unsurpassed as a Hair Dressing. No lady will be without it who knows its value. See Circulars.

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

EXCURSION TO THE SHOALS.—A select party of ladies and gentlemen, numbering about one hundred and fifty, made an excursion to the Shoals on Tuesday evening, in the steamer Pioneer. The initiatory steps were made by a portion of the clerical force of the Navy Yard; and to say that the whole affair reflected great credit upon the managers, is entirely unnecessary to any one who was fortunate enough to have participated.

Unlike other excursions this season, the steamer was detained at the Shoals about four hours, and the entire party went on shore; and the fine hall at the Appledore House having been previously engaged by the projectors, the gay votaries of Terpsichore did "trip the light fantastic toe" until the "wee hours of morn." The Portsmouth Party were augmented at the Navy Yard by Col. Wentworth and about thirty of his friends from Kittery and York. The Portsmouth Cornet Band, led by Chas. H. Tompson, accompanied the party, and, as usual, discoursed excellent music. The evening was most propitious, and the sea very smooth,—and it was generally admitted to have been the party of the season. Not a thing occurred to mar the pleasure derived on such occasions, except the loss of a hat by one of the ladies from Kittery.

The Pioneer has made nine Excursions in as many respective nights. Moonlight Excursions are getting to be permanent institutions. Why not tender Capt. Amazeen a "Complimentary," before the "lunar" disappears?

A FEW NAVAL SCRAPS.—The Agamenticus came up to the Navy Yard from Lower Harbor on Wednesday morning for the purpose of coaling.

Between two and three hundred tons of coal were taken down to the Dictator from they Yard on Wednesday, in the tugboat T. A. Ward, being towed by the tug boat Portfire.

The steam revenue cutter Mahoning left the yard for Portland on Wednesday morning.

Work has been resumed on the large ocean steamer Piscataqua, at the head of the Dry Dock, and she will be ready for launching at an early day.

The July Pay Roll of the mechanics and laborers employed on the Yard amounts to upwards of $97,000, just about one-half of the Roll in the month of March.

A salute of fifteen guns in honor of the Army and Navy Journal, that volunteer naval officers of every grade are being dismissed the service as rapidly as possible. Nearly all are granted four months' leave, preparatory to their dismissal.

☞ As we have before now found it rather tough to work hard (at business) all day, and (work harder at) play all night,—and especially as we don't exactly know how to attend three gatherings in as many different places at the same time—we couldn't well put in an appearance at the great Ocean House Levee, Tuesday night. And so we are much indebted to our friend the Ballot reporter, for his very graphic and interesting account of the festivities of the occasion.

☞ The new "Mechanic Association's Reading Room and Exchange," opposite the Post Office, will be thrown open to the public in a day or two. The supply of newspapers will be much larger and better than was ever before offered in this city. The room will be free to members of the Association and their apprentices; subscription price to others, $5 per year. For a fortnight, the "Exchange" is to be open to all, and the public invited to visit, and become subscribers so far as they choose.

☞ Bailey's Dramatic Combination, at the Temple, have been drawing very fair houses, considering the outside attractions. The Company is well spoken of, and have thus far given universal satisfaction. This evening, the favorite play of "Ten Nights in a Bar Room" will be presented, with Mr. Sam. E. Browne in his popular rendition of Sample Switchell, in which he has always been very popular in this city. The cast otherwise is a good one, and we doubt not will secure an excellent house.

☞ The column or two of the new Boston advertisements which we give this morning, will be found of interest to our readers, at least on the general ground that unless the traders of various sorts who thereby communicate with the public, had something worth their saying and our knowing, they would not be at the expense of inviting our attention.

☞ Admiral Farragut, Admiral Bailey, Asst. Sec. of Navy Fox, and other dignitaries, are expected to leave here for Portland in the iron-clads now in our lower harbor, the latter part of this week.

☞ Everybody and their friends seem to be going on Pic Nics and Excursions now-a-days, or nights—and among the rest, the Philharmonic Society are soon to take their turn, we hear,—probably to Dover Point.

— It is said that Dr. Bickly, of Golden Circle notoriety, is insane.

— President Johnson's health is said to be quite restored.

— The Lowell papers publish the intentions of marriage, as filed at the City Clerk's office in that city.

— The hay crop in Vermont is so large that the farmers stack it in the open field, their barns being insufficient to contain it.

— In Elizabeth, N. J, the single men are assessed one dollar more as poll-tax than the married men. The bachelors pay it cheerfully as a tax on luxuries.

☞ Bailey's Dramatic Company (including the old favorite Browne) at the Temple this evening, with a good bill—for details of which see programmes.

☞ The reasons of our CALIFORNIA WINES enjoying so great a popularity, are because they are the purest and cheapest Wines of their class ever sold in the country.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & Air-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot escape, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required; and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want. Call and see the Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

All kinds of Humors, Consumption, Malarious Fevers, Rheumatism, Female Weaknesses, Dyspepsia, Mercurial Diseases, and all those distressing complaints arising from a Bad State of the Blood. Chronic Diseases, that have baffled the best medical skill, often yield to the subtle influence of this remarkable medicine. It is the most powerful vitalizing Agent and Restorative known. Its effects often seem miraculous.—Pamphlets sent free. Price $1 per bottle, or 6 for $5. Sold by Druggists.

SPANISH ROUGE,

FOR POLISHING,

XL

Or Cleaning Gold, Silver, Silver Plated, Britannia, Brass, Tin, Steel, Iron, Copper, Glass, or Metal of all kinds. For the purpose intended this article cannot be beat and only costs 6 cents invested in a package of this, will add more to the looks of a home than one hundred dollars spent in new ware. Every article of any kind of metal about the house can be kept to look like new. How much pleasanter all are when everything looks bright and clean, which costs a smile upon the faces of all. The labor of keeping every article of metal polished with the Spanish Rouge is so much less than without the Rouge. It removes the tarnish at the brush of the hand. It is a mineral without any composition whatever, therefore can do no injury.

Put up in three different qualities, for the finest Gold to the coarsest Metals.

Try the Spanish Rouge, and it will become a household word and a great assistant. Every person who has a ring or ear-drop, to an engine chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This article does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required; and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want. Call and see the Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, and unfits the unfortunate individual for business or society. Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, can be accommodated with private rooms, and charges for board moderate.—Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions, by addressing a description of your cases. American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other Advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove this assertion. IS MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a large collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a Journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable in preparing their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications for patents, all one of which patents have been granted, and that, in some instances, he has unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part, from the fact that he recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN LEGGETT
During eight months, the subscriber, in consideration of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1865.

☞ A coppery exchange before us makes itself very unhappy over our large army, and says "Stanton knows very well that the people see no necessity for even so large an army as 100,000." Probably the copper people and the rebel people don't see it; but those loyal men who know anything about such matters do see very plainly that we need and must have 100,000 men for years to come. We had about 35,000 soldiers before the rebellion; and that number only gave a half garrison to about half our posts. Now the ex-rebels need watching—and they will be watched, notwithstanding copperheads may hiss and donkeys bray.

ENDING A STRIKE.—The Buffalo Courier learns that members of the "Heater's Union," in the employ of the "Union Iron Works," who have been on a strike for the past seven weeks, refusing to accept the wages offered by the proprietors, have concluded an agreement by which they will resume work again immediately. The workmen are to receive a certain percentage on the market price of iron, which makes them in effect, partners in the business, as they share in both the profits and losses. Similar bargains, it is said, have been made by other Rolling Mills, East and West.

A MILITARY TRIAL.—The U. S. Attorney General's response to President Johnson's inquiry whether a person charged with the offense of having assassinated the late President should be tried before a military tribunal or civil court, gave a written opinion sustaining the former mode of trial. The opinion has been printed.

☞ Mr. Jay Cooke, who has done so much towards negotiating the public loans, is the owner of Gibralter Island, in Put-in Bay, Lake Erie. It is one of the most beautiful spots on the Continent, and so far as grape raising is concerned, is the Rhineland of our country. Mr. Cooke keeps open house, and is noted for his hospitality. We notice in the Chicago Republican the following:—"Many clergymen are Mr. Cooke's guests, and are enabled by his kindness to enjoy a delightful summer vacation without any expense to themselves. For several years past Mr. Cooke has been in the habit of supporting a number of missionaries for the evangelization of the heathen in different parts of the world.

☞ The people of Lawrence were galvanized into a first-class horror, on Wednesday, by a report set afloat (without foundation,) that two girls had been found on the road between that city and Lowell, bound hand and foot, tied to a tree, and their throats cut from ear to ear; adding that the bodies had been brought to the City Hall, for identification. When the operatives left the mills at dinner time, there was a great rush to that building, and the streets on both sides from Essex to Common streets, were filled with people. In vain the astonished marshal and his assistants denied the tale, the crowd were not to be comforted until they had seen the bodies, and shew indignation against the officers. The marshal waxed wroth and threatened to furnish two bodies sure enough if they did not leave. At night the same extraordinary sight was again witnessed, some of those who had been sold at noon having described the appearance of the "corpses" with great accuracy to their acquaintances.

The number of arrests in New York for the quarter ending Aug. 1, was over 20,000—more than double any previous quarter. When our philanthropists get the South christianized, perhaps they may find something to do at home.—Codperhead Ex.

That is a most unkind cut on its copperhead friends in New York city who have been thus arrested. Crime does not belong to any one party alone; but we run no risk in saying that nine-tenths of all the voters arrested vote the copper ticket and oppose the Maine Law.

☞ The San Francisco Flag says that among the ladies gathered at the hotel windows to cheer the procession on "The Fourth,"—was one who saluted the colored portion of the triumphal pageant, smiling down upon the uncovered heads of the happy freedmen, while she waved her handkerchief with great enthusiasm. It was Angela Starr King, Starr King's sister, who had just come from New England. Little Fritzie King, born in San Francisco not quite three years ago, was there too, and waved his tiny flag over the dusky figures as they passed.

☞ A recent number of a Quebec journal contains an account of the seizure of a schooner having on board some hundreds of dozens of gulls' eggs, and states that the schooner will be confiscated therefor, whereby we infer such traffic to be contraband. Along the low islands and on the rocky shores of the bayous between New Orleans and Mobile large numbers of gulls' eggs are gathered. Of every conceivable size from the egg of a robin to that of a hen, spotted and blotched with black or brown, they are rank in flavor, but find a ready sale to confectioners and cake bakers.

— Louisiana sugar crop for 1865—10,000 hogsheads.

THE PRESS AGOG, No. 4.—Dear Chronicle:—Off for 'Magog, and after a while, as our steamer ploughed her way a'ong,—a couple of hours was given to impromtu speaking and singing. Gen. Head called to order, and Gov. Smith was elected to preside, which he did with his usual tact and readiness. The sentiments and responses came so thick and fast that none but a practiced stenographer could hope to do them justice. Though one of these was present, we noticed he was so spell-bound with the display of intellectual pyrotechnics that he forgot to take notes, even of the masterly effort of the veteran Jewett,—a local celebrity who came on board for his way mail—and whose graphic story of the sea serpent brought down the boat.

The speakers of the occasion were Palfrey of the Salem Gazette,—whose invisible silence (in the coal-hole, or wherever he was hidden,) was most impressively eloquent; Foote, of Salem Register, who filled Palfrey's place—not in the bunker, but wittily on the quarter deck; Colby, of Newburyport Herald, who is as hard to beat as his "incomparable" Merrimac River, and who closed by hoping the party might always keep their "Pecker"; Prime, of New York Journal of Commerce, who complimented New England and her press, and said he had sailed on many lakes at home and abroad, but none more lovely than this; then Jewett, with his sea-serpent, made more fun than all, and was the only one for whom a collection was taken up—and that by a lady passing the hat too! Crook, of the Traveller, who called on Dr. Cummings to speak for "Boston;" Knapp of the Lowell Courier, who spoke well and writes better; C. W. Brewster, of our Journal, who responded fittingly to "the only seaport of the Granite State," and told of the days when New Hampshire owned all the northern country, most, and well said that Portsmouth has in the past often helped other towns more than herself.

Then Merrill of the Lawrence American, who deputed Tarbox of the Sentinel to speak for him, and as usual these Lawrence editors enjoyed some good-natured sparring. Potter, of the Manchester Mirror, who can always speak for himself, and who told us much that was pleasant and interesting of Indian names hereabouts; and among other things concerning the lake, that the first known of it was learned by Capt. John Stark, who was brought down over it when returned from Indian captivity, and on an old map the lake is found lying in New Hampshire and Vermont!

Dr. Smith, of Dover Gazette, had a word to say, though he said he hadn't; and Mr. Burr, of the same town's Star; then Mr. Keyes of the R. R., who formerly wasn't Democratic Governor of Vermont, though he'd make a good Governor of anything.—Here a resolution of thanks to him, and all the other R. R. Supts. who have given their lines in charge of Pecker, was offered by Br. Colby, who motioned that the ladies vote—and they and everybody else voted twice for it.

Mayor Humphrey said the city of "Concord" elected him to work and not to vote for her. Capt. Fogg, of the steamer, let his actions alone speak loudly for him. Tarbox ignited once more for a little, by the light of Merrill. Wadleigh of Dover Inquirer "came within one" of being drawn out, and that one was himself; and in answer to Gov. Smith, stated that his city is not a seaport. Yerrington, for the Concord Monitor, spoke a little; Hoskins, the new editor of the Boston Courier, ditto; Perry, of C. & P. Rs. R. R., wouldn't speak; Batchelder, of the Laconia Democrat, had to own up that Winnipisaukee was rather eclipsed by the new lake.

Then Gov. Smyth placed the meeting in charge of the ladies; and they called on the modest men of the party for speeches; and as such men are not generally the longest remembered, we have actually forgotten their names, with the exception of one whom "modesty forbids us to mention," but who stated that he did not attend Pecker's first two excursions, because ladies were not invited,—and proposed three cheers for that celebrity, which were given with a will.

Then safe at the big Memph. Hotel once more, after a most glorious day; and preferring to ride all the cool night, rather than through all the next day's dust, we stepped off the piazza of the House into the starting train; and rode and slept, and waked and rode, till the Concord morning train landed us here at home, something like 250 miles from our sunset start. And forever, one of our pleasantest memories will be Lake Memphremagog. JOTTER.

☞ Judge Maine, of the Boston Police Court, has sentenced one Edwin Luther to one year of hard labor in the House of Correction, for obtaining ninety cents from Mr. L. P. Hicks, by the false pretence of an important telegram. This sham telegram asserted that the mother of Mrs. Hicks had died suddenly at Swansey. Mrs. Hicks was surprised and overcome; but on going to Swansey to bury her mother, found her alive and well. The rascal plead guilty, as the proof was plain, and is justly punished.

— A Sicilian named Matucci has been confined for 33 years in the parish prison of New Orleans, under sentence of death for murder.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS

—— While William Brooks, of Epsom, was gone berrying with his family last Tuesday, some one broke into his house and stole $181 in money. It was a bold operation. Some one knew Mr. Brooks had the money on hand, and watched for his opportunity.

—— Susan Williams, of South Sutton, gives to every soldier who enlisted from that town, on his return, the sum of five dollars, and the same amount to the families of those who have fallen in defence of their country.

—— The heaviest incomes in Concord are those of Daniel and Benj. F. Holden, of West Concord, each $14,410. Robert M. Corning reports $9,378; Robert E. Pecker, $8,100; Onslow Stearns, $9,625; In Fisherville, H. H. Brown, $11,325, and John S. Brown, $10,164. In the town of Pembroke, Moody Kent returns $11,518. In Hooksett, Natt. Head returns $1,850.

—— A New York paper reports that five new steam-fire engines for that city have been ordered at the Amoskeag works.

—— At Newmarket is a tree whose trunk, one foot from the ground, divides into twenty-three different branches, then extending upward some four feet unites with the limbs of the different branches, thereby becoming one and the same tree again.

A REMARKABLE INCIDENT. — In the steamship Bellona, at New York, were two steerage passengers, concerning whom a thrilling incident is related. Franz Meyer, aged 23, and his wife Anna, aged 19, from Canton Soleure, Switzerland, were passengers in the ill-fated ship William Nelson, destroyed by fire at sea. In the confusion incident to efforts to save life, the husband and wife were separated. The husband was picked up by one of the ship's boats, which was shortly afterward fallen in with by the brig Mercury. The wife, young and enciente, was not discouraged at the uncertainty of her husband's fate, but prepared for her own safety. Self-preservation could not suppress her womanly instincts so far as to ignore the feeble cries for help from an infant only 14 days old, left to perish by its distracted parents, but regardless of her own state, she plunged, with her self-imposed charge, into the sea. For two whole days did this brave young girl support herself and the infant on the remnant of a ship's spar, without food or water, sustaining the infant's life only by the moisture from her own mouth.

Late on the second day the same vessel in which her husband was saved, having ceased cruising, without hope of saving any more lives, fell in with this heroine, and saved her and also her little charge. Eventually the family were landed at Havre. The Prussian Consul at that port took charge of the infant, as its parents were supposed to have been drowned with the wreck. Many ladies at Havre interested themselves to enable this brave young creature, with her husband, to venture again across the Atlantic in search of a Western home. This heroine of real life herself, during her recent voyage in the Bellona, gave birth to a child; and both are doing well.

☞ We have received copies of late Victoria (Vancouver Island) papers, which contain notices of a grand picnic "to be held July 4th, at Cadboro Bay, under the patronage of the American Consul." On the committee we notice the name of Chas. C. Cushman, of this city. On that day, a large flag-staff that of yore proudly flaunted the "stars and bars" was removed to the residence of our consul and the stars and stripes floated from it. The British Colonist, of July 4, says:

We notice a most creditable desire amongst all classes of the community to join with Americans in observing this day as a general holiday. The various stores and places of business will be closed at an early hour, and every family and every individual, throwing aside all thoughts of dull times and other cares, will seek their own mode of enjoyment.

And, to show that the printers appreciate the blessings that the declaration of independence brought our country, the same paper omitted its issue of the 5th.

☞ Gen. Sprague, Commissioner of Freedmen for Missouri and Arkansas, in a letter to Gen. Howard, states that there are not a dozen freedmen west of Little Rock who draw rations from the Government.—All of them are hard at work, and not only support themselves well, but save a portion of their earnings. The number of abandoned plantations in Arkansas, he says, is large, and he recommends that they be taken possession of by the Freedmen's Bureau.

☞ The New Bedford Standard understands that a leading member of the bar in that city refused a retainer from the party seeking to break down Miss Howland's will. He declared that there was no ground for the case to stand on, and that he considered it wicked to attempt to frustrate the provisions of an instrument which confers such benefits on so many deserving individuals and on the community at large.

— "Sam, are you one of the Southern chivalry?" "No massa, I'se one of the Southern shovelry; I shoveled dirt at the Dutch Gap Canal."

— At the village of Atlay, N. Y., last Wednesday, a young couple came in to be married, and put up at the public house. A few fools engaged to give them a salute, and for this purpose put a charge of powder into a mill shaft which had been used as a cannon. They rammed down the charge with an iron bar, which they drove home with a sledge hammer. The last blow caused an explosion, and fragments of the gun flew in all directions. Douglas Dean had a leg blown off and sent seven rods away, Jack Coon was badly wounded in the thigh, and Henry Chapman and Charles Bigelow were so dreadfully shot that they speedily died of their wounds. Rather a dear salute.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "uncres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is attached together and firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Principal Agency, Brandreth House, New York by the yard or single plaster. Sold by all dealers in Medicines. je26dawlm

We learn from the Army and Navy Journal, that volunteer naval officers of every grade are being dismissed the service as rapidly as possible. Nearly all are granted four months' leave, preparatory to their dismissal.

POLICE COURT, August 10.—James Stubbs, for an assault on the night Police, was fined $5, and costs $4.80.

Wm. McIntire, drunk, sent to House of Correction for thirty days, and sentenced to pay costs of prosecution, $3.86.

☞ The bark Roebuck, recently sold at the Navy Yard by Government, was repaired at Capt. Marcy's yard, and has gone to sea. The bark Ethan Allen has hauled in to the yard of Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, where she is to be put in good order. The steamer Wamsutta has left here, for New Bedford. The Alabama has received her former name, and has proceeded to Portland.

☞ The injunction upon the sale of the Portsmouth Steam Factory was issued by Judge Doe, upon the application of the Rockingham, the Mechanics & Traders, and New Hampshire National Banks, and the Saco Water Power Company, who are creditors to a considerable amount, and have attachments upon the mill.

ARE COMING AT LAST.—Our readers will be rejoiced to learn that our friend D. G. Waldron is to bring the old Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers, to Portsmouth. They will appear at the Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings of next week. See future advertisment.

☞ An addition is about to be made to the Cabot Street School House.

SHIP PISCATAQUA.—We are informed by the first officer of the ship Piscataqua, before reported put into Cape Town, in distress, while on the voyage from Cardiff to Bassilan, that after Capt. Tompson was washed overboard, he assumed the full command of the ship and carried her safe into Cape Town, where he delivered her to the United States Consul. He states that the romantic story which has been published in some of our contemporaries is absolutely without foundation, and as it was calculated to do great injustice to his character, he desires an emphatic contradiction.

☞ We have in our employ—a part of the time, when he isn't somewhere else—a boy named Daniel P. Clark, or more properly De Parture Clark, who is subject to fits of absence of mind, or of body at any rate; on which occasions he forgets the way to the office, and wanders he knows not (or we know not) where. Ten cents reward will be paid for his misapprehension.

FROM RYE BEACH.—Ocean House, Aug. 9th.—Mr. Editor: The most notable event of the season, so far, was the reception given Admiral Farragut—[of which we have already given a full report.—Ed. Chron.] * * * * The crowd outside was immense, but good order prevailed, and nothing occurred to disturb the harmony of the occasion. The houses at the beach are all full, and many who come are unable to find accommodations. The scene during bathing hours, is very lively and interesting, as the dresses worn on the occasion are not exactly like those displayed at a hop; and in fact one looks so very different with swimming toggery on, especially after coming out of the water, that it is difficult sometimes to tell "who is who,"—and if mistakes are sometimes made, it is certainly excusable under the circumstances.

People who go down to bathe should be very careful, as accidents sometimes occur. Especially is this the case with those who wear false teeth. The surf is no respecter of anybody, and it has occurred twice if no more, that the waves have knocked two fine sets of teeth clean out of the unfortunate persons' mouths, and left them minus the wherewithal to masticate their dinner.

Truly yours, R. C.

THE ROCKINGHAM ASSOCIATION of Universalists will hold their annual meeting at Kingston, on next Wednesday, Aug. 16, and the following Thursday. "The Universalist" newspaper says "we learn that a large meeting of brethren is expected."—The meetings commence on Wednesday morning at half-past 10.

—The Philadelphia Ledger says that soldiers are going west over the Pennsylvania railroad at the rate of two hundred or three hundred a month, to take up lands in the west under the homestead law.

—Betsy Wilder, a colored woman, who was present at Yorktown when Cornwallis surrendered, died in Richmond, Va., at the age of 108 years.

—There were very heavy rains and some hail in Wisconsin and Iowa, Tuesday night and Wednesday morning, doing considerable damage to the grain, it is said.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—In the Police Court of Concord, Tuesday, two men, James Coffee and Carr were each fined $10 and costs, amounting to $10.75, for taking and driving off a horse belonging to H. W. Robinson. The horse was taken from a post in front of the store occupied by Robinson, and driven to Chichester where he was found.

—The Mirror says, counterfeit Treasury notes of the denomination of $20 are in circulation in this vicinity. One was offered at the First National Bank last week. The face of the notes are almost a fac simile of the genuine. They may be detected, however, by a critical examination of their backs. In the genuine the lines of the engraving upon the backs are very clear and distinct, while upon the counterfeit they are weak and indistinct.

—The Governor and Council have made the following appointments:

Asa Fowler, of Concord, Samuel D. Bell, of Manchester, George Y. Sawyer, of Nashua, Commissioners to revise the Statutes.

E. M. Topliff, of Manchester, and John Felch, of Sunapee, Insurance Commissioners.

Orren O. Moore, of Manchester, Register of Probate for Hillsborough County.

A good selection.

—Rev. Isaac Willey, Sec. N. H. Bible Society, says a collection for this cause has lately been made in Portsmouth of $183, in Exeter of $150, in Nashua of $265, and in Manchester of $390.

—Jonathan Overand, overseer of the flannel mill at East Rochester, fell down the hoistway on Thursday, 3d inst., and was killed.

—The Ballot says a movement has for some time been progressing to start an Episcopal Society in Exeter, and, as present appearances indicate, with some success. The parties interested have fitted up a hall, where meetings are held every Sabbath, some prominent clergyman of the order generally officiating. Like all new movements, it has a few sanguine devotees, who think the Society will have a brilliant success. Rev. John W. Clark, of Dover, is delivering a course of lectures on "The Book of Common Prayer," in the hall, on Wednesday evenings.

GOV. CONY, of Maine, was nominated for re-election on Thursday, at Portland. He had 553 votes, to 11 scattering, on the only ballot, in the Union convention.

—In New York, Monday morning, a portion of the walls of the St. Charles Hotel, 948 Broadway, fell, burying Mr. Holland T. Knight, formerly the proprietor of the hotel, severely injuring him internally. Several others had narrow escapes.

—Each day 14,000 letters are sent to the dead letter office for lack of pre-payment.

AN EXTENSIVE AUCTION SALE of Linens and Housekeeping Goods will take place at H. F. Wendell's Store, 70 State street, to-morrow morning, at 10 o'clock. The ladies are especially invited. To those who are in want of linen goods, this is a fine opportunity for getting them at their own prices. See circulars for a general enumeration of stock.

SOMETHING TO BE DEPENDED UPON.—We have found in DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP, a pleasant medicine, and sure cure for Dysentery, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, &c. All druggists sell it.

McKellar's Beer Powder,

For making all kinds of Small Beer—Spruce, Lemon, Sarsaparilla and Checkerberry.

PATENTED MAY 14, 1860.

Manufactured by the American Beer Powder Co., Thomaston, Me.

This new and useful article is composed of very healthful Roots and Herbs, selected with great care by the inventor, who is an experienced Beer Maker.

Beer made from this Powder is a very cheap and pleasant drink. It is also very highly esteemed for its Medicinal properties. It purifies the blood and regulates and strengthens the whole system, and as ordinary beverage and every day drink, it is unsurpassed in its agreeable and healthful qualities.

The manner of making Beer from this Powder is so easy and simple that any one can make it with a very little trouble. This Powder, if kept dry, will remain good any length of time in any climate, consequently sealing men can carry it with them and make Beer on board their vessels whether at sea or in port.

Families and Shop-keepers can make their beer from this Powder as easily as they can a Ginger drink. Its cheapness and the easy method of its use make it the most economical and by far the best preparation for this purpose before the public. Only a fair trial of this powder is required to convince any one of the truth of the above.

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 35 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than any others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of 85 to 64 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the monopoly of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaver, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

— The price of a 100-pounder Parrott gun is $1,200; a 200-pounder about $2,000; a 300-pounder from $4,500 to $5,000. Of the cast-iron guns, the contract price for the 15-inch gun, as stated by Mr. Fox, is $7,500; those of smaller calibre in proportion. The Ames gun would cost about a dollar a pound, or about $12,000 for a 100-pounder,; $17,000 for a 150-pounder, $28,000 for a 200 pounder.

— A singular and painful incident recently happened at the Royal Theatre in Berlin. A new ballet by Taglioni, named Sardanapalus, was represented, in the last scene of which all the dancers appear and arrange themselves around Sardanapalus to die with him in the flames. To produce the necessary smoke, stones were heated and water was to be thrown upon them. The stones were laid between the seats, but the dancers, instead of sitting upon the seats, sat down on the burning stones. A scream of pain followed, not in the play. Nearly all of them were badly burned.

Hon. John A. Peters, of Bangor, Attorney General of Maine, had a narrow escape from death, by being thrown from his carriage, at Hermon Pond. Some days previous he was thrown from his carriage in a similar manner, but to the surprise of his friends received no injury.—Bangor Times.

The "great surprise" ought to be that any man wise enough to be Attorney General, should twice give such stupid brutes a chance to break his neck.

— The town of Carlstad, capital of the province of Wermeland, u Sweden, has been almost entirely destroyed by fire. It consisted of 600 houses and possessed 4600 inhabitants, but nothing is left on the site except the hospital, the prison and the bishop's residence. The people, having lost everything, are suffering very seriously.

— A large doe, accompanied by a well-grown fawn, recently issued from the forest surrounding North Sandwich, Mass., and sauntered through the principal streets of the village, as if inviting pursuit. They were both eventually shot.

— Haverhill, Mass., boasts no less than 200 shoe manufactories, some of them employing 100 hands apiece; a dozen hat factories in full blast, and a new and extensive carriage factory.

Butler is seriously talked of as the Maine Law candidate for Governor of Massachusetts. It would be a fitting nomination—in perfect keeping with the usual course of that class of fanatics.

— We are sorry to see a statement that the cranberry crop of Cape Cod will be but half as large as usual this year.

American and Foreign Patents.
E. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837, 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of inventions or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
This, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uninterrupted success is proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, AUGUST 14, 1865.

Canadian traders complain bitterly of the "silver nuisance," and call on the government to put a duty on it—make the banks receive it as legal tender to any amount, or do something to relieve them of the quantities of the "stuff" they are compelled to take instead of bills. Poor Canadians!—Exchange.

Two or three times within fifty years, a surplus of silver change has been troublesome to traders and travellers here. The banks would not be troubled counting the "stuff"—and one trader repeatedly lent the writer of this item $100 in silver change, for the purpose of getting his pay in bank bills at the end of 30 or 60 days. A surplus of silver is like a surplus of anything else,—exactly as a plant not wanted is only a weed.

It is said the prices of meats and some other eatables are higher in England now, in gold, than they are here in paper. And some business men say prices are high all over the world of commerce, because gold is so abundant of late years.

We remember that Elizur Wright predicted such a general rise of prices, when the California gold fields began to yield their abundant fruit.

☞ The Navy Department has received intelligence that the rebel pirate Shenandoah, before leaving Australia for her career of plundering and burning in the North Pacific, took on board at Melbourne twelve hundred tons of coal, and that her present first lieutenant gave up the command of an English steamer to enlist in her piratical service. If this be true, we shall have a nice little oil bill against England.

GOLD.—It is reported that the government will sell an average of a million dollars in gold daily for several weeks. These sales are made necessary by a deficiency in receipts of internal revenue to meet the current wants of the treasury. It is anticipated that the balance of gold in the treasury will be reduced about twenty millions. It has been found that no large reserve of gold is necessary, as the receipts for customs, while payments of interest are being made, are about equal to the payments.

☞ Lines of railway are being established in Asia Minor. It sounds oddly to read of them as connecting places once reached by the bleeding feet of the apostles. Think of Paul and John going from Ephesus to Smyrna in the first-class express train! They could that if they lived in these days. There has lately been opened to public travel a railway about fifty miles long, between these two cities. Anglican enterprise is at the bottom of this undertaking. Spacious station-houses have been erected, and a hope is cherished of developing a large traffic; but at present a single daily train renders sufficient accommodation.

BRITISH ELECTIONS.—While in England proper the relative Liberal loss and gain leaves the political complexion of representatives in Parliament about the same as it was before election, Scotland and Ireland have largely increased the Liberal ranks. "The church is in danger" is a cry which Scotchmen and Irishmen have little reason to heed, whereas in England it is all potent in compelling John Bull, through his fears and prejudices, to lean to the Tory side.

— It is now said that the letter purporting to be from Gen. Sheridan, and saying that Maximillian must be driven out of Mexico, is a spurious letter, not written by him, but is started by some mischief-maker —perhaps to aid speculation in gold or breadstuffs.—When the President told Gen. Sheridan to dismiss all the troops in Texas except those he deemed necessary, he decided to dismiss about half of them.—This does not look as if he meant to drive any body, but only to keep the ex-rebels in order, and keep peace on the frontier.

MOSBY.—A Washington dispatch says Mosby has been released from arrest and gone home. Gen. Welles told him he was arrested to prevent violence being done to him, or honor shown him. The guerrilla said he had taken the oath of allegiance and claimed the privilege of going where he pleased. He was sent home with the understanding that if he ever came into the Washington department again, he would be placed in the Old Capitol Prison.

— A punctual man is very rarely a poor man, and never a man of doubtful credit. His small accounts are frequently settled, and he never has any difficulty in raising money to pay large demands. Small debts neglected ruin the credit, and when a man has lost that, he will find himself at the bottom of a hill he cannot ascend.

☞ We are indebted to H. J. Burden, esq., for late English papers. Also to some unknown friend for Montreal papers; to our New Zealand correspondent for Otago papers; to C. C. Cushman for Victoria, B. A., papers; and to Hon. E. H. Rollins for public documents.

☞ The Mahoning (Ohio) papers give the particulars of the rescue of four men who were imprisoned in a coal mine at that place by water which poured into it during a flood. It was found that an immense volume of water had poured down the slope, but from the fact that two of the men were known to be in the highest part of the mine, it was hoped that they were still alive. On Saturday the work was begun of drilling through the rock, a distance of fifty-six feet, to the place where the men were supposed to be. Great crowds of anxious people congregated from the neighboring country. On Sunday noon the shaft reached the interior of the mine, but there were no signs of the men until Monday, when a voice called up the shaft, "Who's there?" It was found that two of the men were alive, but knew nothing of their two comrades.

Conversation could be carried on with them, and pieces of food and small bottles of brandy were lowered through the narrow aperture. They stated that as soon as they saw the flood coming in they endeavored to join their companions, but were unable to do so, the water coming up to their necks in that part of the mine. They heard the sound of drilling on Saturday, and mined through a column to the place where the drill came through. On Tuesday evening the water had lowered rapidly, but there was no news of the missing men, and attempts to reach the place when they were supposed to be failed; but finally all four were rescued from their living grave, where they had spent five days and six nights.

EXTRAVAGANCE AND VICE, CRIME AND MISERY.—The New York papers of Saturday say, additional developements in the Phœnix Bank defalcation have transpired since the arrest of Jenkins. James H. Earle, kookkeeper of the bank, has been arrested as an accomplice, and confessed to having received $100,000 from Jenkins, which he lost in stock operations. He was taken to the station house Thursday night and put in a cell. Friday morning it was found he had cut an artery in his neck with a penknife and bled to death. He was a widower, 31 years of age, and lived in Newark, N. J.

Genevieve Lyons alias Vieve Brower, a disreputable young woman, and one of her intimate friends, known as Charles Brower, were also arrested. It is said Jenkins became acquainted with Lyons in a concert saloon and was in the habit of lavishing large amounts of money upon her, enabling her to live in magnificent style.

Earle at the time of his arrest occupied the position of clerk with Smith, Martin & Co., bankers in Wall street. He has not been employed at the Phœnix Bank for some months. The Cashier, believes the defalcation will amount to $275,000.

FAULT FINDERS, LOOK AT HOME.—Great fault is found in England and France, just now, with the extravagance of women, in their dress—in which the French Empress is the leader. From Paris, we learn that there was a meeting of 6000 bachelors, between twenty and forty years of age, who adopted a resolution never to marry till there should be an abatement in the extravagance of the ladies. But whatever is the extent of the evil alluded to, (says the Boston Journal,) yet when it is put in this shape by these French bachelors, we suspect that there is need of an investigation on both sides. It is true that a modern gentlemen's attire may not cost so much as a lady's—though the difference is not, oftentimes, so great as a superficial observer would suppose—but that is only one item in his extravagant, not to say useless expenditures. Billiards, cigars, liquors, horses and a dozen other items are to be put down in the account, against which the ladies have nothing but dress alone.

We would venture to wager that the average useless expenditure of the six thousand French bachelors in question was much greater than that of the French ladies they would have married if they could. And the rule holds good the world over. Woman being confessedly the ornament of society, takes that place which society makes for her. Never yet were the men of any era or country upright, frugal and self-denying, that had any reason to complain of the absence of these qualities in the other sex. But if men lead the way in frivolity, luxury, self-indulgence and vice, how can woman be left behind in the race? There is probably need enough of reform with either sex, but neither should seek to excuse itself by blaming the other.

— A young soldier in New York offered a $10 bill, which was refused by a trader as bad. He offered it again, was arrested, and both shop-keepers appearing to testify against him, he pleaded guilty. When about to be called up for sentence, a broker was sent for, and the bill was found to be a good, genuine bill.

— On the 31st ult. two negroes murdered a woman at Evansville, Ind. Tho negroes were arrested and placed in jail, when the people organized a mob, broke open the jail, took the murderers out, beat them almost to death, and then hung them to lamp posts.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The thirteenth annual session of the Cheshire County Musical institute, commences on Monday, the 21st inst., at Keene, under the direction of Carl Zerrahn, of Boston, Solon Wilder, of Bangor, and C. M. Mozart, of New York. The services of the Mendelssoln Quintette Club have been secured.

—— Milford sent 70 substitutes and 194 of her own citizens into the army. Of the latter 52 have died.

THE CURRENCY.—On inquiry at the U. S. Treasury office it was ascertained that of the notes presented for redemption, not more than one a half to two per cent. are counterfeit. The spurious notes are easily detected and promptly branded "counterfeit." Of course the holders and not the treasury bear the loss.

From $90 to $100 of such currency of various denominations is destroyed daily. No knowledge of counterfeit National bank notes has come to the bureau, nor of ones or twos of the United States currency. The latter denomination, however, are altered to represent higher amounts, and some photograph fives are in circulation. A tolerably well executed $50 note found its way to the redemption bureau, which had been previously stamped as counterfeit by an Eastern bank.

— A black man who was liberated in Kentucky five years ago, and went to Africa as a preacher and missionary, recently arrived in Washington on private business. He brought a message of respect to the President from the King of the Bassas, accompanied with a request that the former would send him a rain coat, meaning one made of india rubber. The garment has been purchased, and will be fowarded to his African Majesty in due time.

— The New York Journal of Commerce finds an illustration of the old adage that, "every evil has its use," in the fact that a cocoanut tree a foot high is growing on a pile of dirt in South street, and looks forward with joy to the day when the merchants will pick in their own streets all the cocoanuts they wish.

— In New York city, on Friday, unemployed released soldiers and sailors marched in procession through various streets, under the auspices of the Metropolitan Employment Agency, bearing banners asking employment. They were headed by a band of music and made a fine appearance.

— Many of the old guns which are sent to the Springfield Armory from the field and Southern arsenals are still loaded. In one gun were found six charges. In another corn and crackers were crammed in promiscuously.

— New Orleans items mention lawlessness in Texas, near the Rio Grande. Gen. Weitzel will attend to it.—Gen. Canby requests Gov. Wells of Louisiana to warn civil officers not to enforce the old negro laws, but leave all such matters to the Agents of the Freedmen's Bureau.

— In North Carolina, leading ex-rebels, who mean to reconstruct their old system, have been giving public dinners to ex-rebel soldiers, and were to make a great spread at Raleigh; but Gen. Huger thought this looked rather too much like glorifying rebellion, and therefore has suppressed it.

— A chemist from this country has just patented a new printing ink from the residium of petroleum refineries, which is said to feed well, does not fill the type, and leaves a fine color without staining the paper.

☞ Saturday's Washington items intimate that Pres. Johnson expresses his determination to adhere to his reconstruction policy,—and that 56 regiments, batteries and detached companies were mustered out of the U. S. service from Aug. 8 to 8.

—Though meat is dear here, it is still dearer in England. For beef, in England they pay from thirty to thirty-five cents in specie for the best pieces. Lamb in London brings from thirty to thirty-six per pound in specie.

— Last Sunday, while Josiah Elkins of North Troy, Vt., was unloading some smuggled liquor from a wagon at Westfield, a revolver which he carried in his pocket was accidentally discharged, and he was dangerously shot in the chest.

— Worcester is increasing so rapidly in business and population, according to the Spy, that at least five hundred families are in want of houses which cannot be had. Woonsocket makes a similar report.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anores," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named U. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—Hoe many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be sound again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee and, said, "the longer you wear it the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Local.

☞ The great auction sale of Linen and Housekeeping Goods, at H. F. Wendell's, No. 70 State street, was well attended yesterday by the elite of our city. The fine display of goods elicited the admiration of the ladies, but the goods have been most ruthlessly sacrificed. This morning at 10 o'clock the sale will be resumed, and also at 2 1 2 in the afternoon, and we would say a word by way of advice to our lady friends. If you want goods of the best quality, do not miss this fine opportunity of getting them at your own prices.

TEMPLE.—This is the last night of the Theatrical Entertainments in this city, for the present. The houses have not been as good as the performers deserve. We hope to see a full attendance this evening. Two sterling pieces will be presented. Mr. S. E. Browne, Mr. J. B. Cross, and the entire Company appear. *

☞ The schooner White Sea got ashore on Friday morning near Badger's Island Point, but floated on the next high water, without having sustained serious damage.

The little steamer Fox also went ashore down in the Narrows on Friday. This craft is being used as a despatch boat for the iron-clad Dictator, in order to facilitate the rapid delivery of messages of any kind to the city or the Navy Yard. It is highly probable that she will accompany the Dick Tater to sea.

☞ Davis Brothers, Photograph Artists of this city, made pictures of the Monitor Agamenticus yesterday, as she lay at her moorings in the river. The views were made from different stand-points, hence she is shown in different positions. The Messrs. Davis also made other pictures of the surrounding scenery, from the cupola of the main office at the Navy Yard.

POLICE COURT.—Wm. Graner, drunk, fined $3, and costs $3.86.

Thomas Collins, also.

Timothy Shay, likewise.

Thomas Nixon, assault, fined $1, and costs $3.86. Appealed and gave bonds in the sum of $20, John Grimshaw and Joseph Cooper generously proffering their credit for that amount.

☞ There is a man who is employed on the Navy Yard so lazy as to employ Jackson & Co. to express his opinions!

GOLD closed on Thursday at 142; on Friday it was 141 1-2, with variations as low as 140 1-4.

☞ Dispatches from Buffalo, Friday, report the loss of steamer Pewable, on Lake Huron, by collision with propeller Meteor. One hundred lives are supposed to be lost.

— The Nashville Press and Times says: "The man who advocates gradual emancipation is about to apply for a patent for the gradual explosion of gun-cotton.

— Maj. Gen. Terry, of the Volunteers, has received his promotion of Major General in the Regular U. S. Army by Brevet.

— Rations for freedmen in Missouri and Kansas, for August, are 1-3 of those for June:—all of those in Little Rock, support themselves.

— It is reported that Attorney Gen. Speed gives his opinion that Jeff. Davis should be tried by a military commission.

— Rev. Stillman Barden, late pastor of the Universalist Society in Rockport, Mass., died at that place on Monday.

— A New York correspondent of a Western paper says that Horace Greeley is still editor-in-chief of the Tribune, writes not less than two columns for every issue, and has just had his salary raised from $5000 to $7500, in spite of his most earnest protestations.

— A large fire occurred in South Danvers on Tuesday evening. The steam bark mill of Putnam & Co. was burned to the ground, as were also eight other buildings used for tanning purposes. Loss from $25,000 to $30,000; but slightly insured.

— Workmen are busily engaged in laying the foundation for a Catholic church in Amesbury, and it is expected that the whole building will be completed and ready for occupancy within three months. It is to be built of wood, at an estimated cost of about $12,000.

— The Philadelphia North American announces that a proposition has been made by a number of great English capitalists, to supply the Southern people with goods, giving credit for the cost until the crops should be gathered, and accepting produce in payment, and that an agent was in that city to attend to the matter.

— "If the North conquers," said snarling old Thomas Carlyle a year or two ago, "England will go to democracy by express train." The North has conquered, and the Buffalo Express thinks the late Parlimentary elections show that England has taken the democratic train, and that she has already accomplished quite a stage of her journey.

— It is stated in military circles that two-thirds of the army in Texas will be disbanded by order of the War Department to Gen. Sheridan, directing him to muster out all troops whose services he thinks can be dispensed with.

— The rebel Brigadier-General B. J. Hill of Tennessee was arrested in Washington on Friday evening for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He is a tall, lean looking fellow and very poorly dressed. Having no money to pay his fine, the Justice sent him to the workhouse for a term of sixty days.

— In Alexandria, Thursday, the rebel Col. S. Mosby attracted a crowd wherever he made his appearance, and his presence occasioned much indignation among the soldiers on duty in that city. He came down from Warrenton to be admitted as a member of the Bar, but Gen. Wells arrested him on the charge of having broken his parole.

SOMETHING TO BE DEPENDED UPON.—We have found in DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP, a pleasant medicine, and sure cure for Dysentery, Diarrhea, Cholera Morbus, &c. All druggists sell it.

☞ The reasons of our CALIFORNIA WINES enjoying so great a popularity, are because they are the purest and cheapest Wines of their class ever sold in the country.

ALL THAT'S BRIGHT MUST FADE, is not applicable to a fine set of teeth brushed with Fragrant SOZODONT. THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in	15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its Officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operating over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,) 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents and inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
Has besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, more than others, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All needless fees of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration of the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me FIFTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uniformity of success, great legal and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1865.

THE TAX ON U. S. 7-30 NOTES, imposed by an Act of General Court in New Hampshire, is a fair subject of discussion. This act of our legislature strikes Uncle Toby as being neither constitutional nor wise, neither patriotic nor practicable. A letter from the Treasury Department says:

"The law exempting from taxation government securities is so specific and clear that it cannot be questioned. The bonds were disposed of, and purchased with the provision of law as a part of the contract that they were to be exempt from taxation, and the country has received an equivalent for such exemption, in the additional price received for the bonds."

Let this pass, as conclusive in regard to being unconstitutional, as the acts of congress are part of the Supreme law of the land.

As to the lack of Wisdom and Patriotism: we have not seen the list of the yeas and nays; but we have understood and now believe that every copperhead in the two houses voted for the bill, which is a bad sign, looking to such folly and treachery as they have displayed for four years. But they, being a minority, could not carry the measure without help; and so Union men enough were found to go with them, and erect the folly into a statute. Their motives we know not, and therefore judge not, but we pity their weakness.

The practical effect would be, if all the Northern States could be wheedled into such a foolish measure, and it should be conceded that they had the right to do so, that the credit of the government and of the national currency would be practically destroyed,—and repudiation and confusion would follow. Northern traitors and southern ex-rebels would combine together to make the Union not only a rope of sand politically, instead of a National Government, but to make it financially a mere sand bank, poor and barren.

But all the Northern States will not do it,—probably no other State in New England will attempt it, after its failure in Connecticut. In New Hampshire no tax can be made under it, till next April. It is not true, as suggested by those who pushed the bill through, that the bonds are all or chiefly held in large sums by the rich, but many a man or woman of small means has $50 or $100 laid up in this form. If these people are to be taxed 25 per cent. on their income from this source, they will be likely to sell their bonds next March, to somebody out of the State, say in Maine, within 30 minutes walk of Portsmouth. And if any of our rich men have a large sum in such Bonds, nothing can be easier than for them to transfer their funds or themselves to Maine or Massachusetts.

While it is difficult to see the motive which Union men could have, in support of such a scheme, the motive of the copperheads is quite plain. They professed that they had no confidence in our government, and during the whole war did what they could, to make its credit bad in the money market: while loyal men generally put a good portion of their savings into U. S. bonds. Now the Government stands, but the rebellion has fallen; and as high taxes must be paid, the northern allies of the rebellion are anxious of their neighbors who happen to have $100 exempted by law. Moved by envy, they made this effort, which is destined to be fruitless, except in vexation and disappointment to its projectors.

GOLD having declined during the past week, a commercial paper in New York says:

It is a subject of regret that the power of influencing the market should be subject to the control of one man, without limitation or responsibility, except in a general sense. No announcement is made; perhaps under the circumstances it could not be done without lowering the price in advance of Government sales, yet the uncertainty has a very unfavorable effect upon both buyers and sellers, with the exception of those who are permitted to look behind the curtain and see the way the machinery is handled. To such it must be a very productive harvest time. But those who are not initiated should use great care and be able to step out in time.

We do not think it any more a subject of regret, that one man, and he the Secretary of the Treasury, should control the gold market,—than that a set of gamblers, notoriously in the rebel interest, should have exercised that control for two or three years. The fair trader, who needs gold to pay duties on, or for other legitimate purposes, need not be afraid of the effect of the Secretary's rules. Others are welcome to stay and be bitten, if they don't choose to stop out.

— The celebrated Merino buck "Gold Drop," belonging to Mr. Hammond of Middlebury, died a few days since. Mr. H. had refused $10,000 for him, and it is said valued him at $25,000.

— 25,000 cigars were seized by revenue officers in Boston, last Friday, at some chief hotels, because the boxes had no revenue stamps on them.

A RIOT AND A LIE.—Not many days ago we copied a Richmond item, mentioning a riot at Aquia Creek, and stating that it grew out of a plot by negroes to drive off all the white laborers there. We intimated then that the story was doubtful. An official investigation since shows that the white laborers were the aggressors in the Aquia Creek riot, and the negroes acted in self-defence.

In a dispute between a single white and black, the white man lifted an iron bar to strike his fellow,—but the black man drove him, and he came back with more whites like himself, who held the negro while he beat him with switches till he got tired of beating. That night the negroes arrived with spades and shovels, and marched upon the quarters of the whites, who fled and obtained military support, by telling outrageous lies; and besides having a Maryland company of U. S. volunteers, they armed themselves with shot guns. With this force they assaulted the negro quarters while the inmates were abed. In the fight that occurred, one negro was killed and several severely wounded.

The affair has been investigated by Gen. T. M. Harris, and the white laborers, 40 in number—all discharged Confederate soldiers—have been arrested, tried, and sentenced to service in the chain gang of Fredericksburg for sixty days. The superintendent of the gangs on the railroad, E. H. Thompson, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for encouraging the whites in this whole matter, and the Lieut. of the Maryland company is to be brought before a Court Martial.

TENNESSEE.—Nashville papers of Saturday contain a proclamation of Governor Brownlow, proposing certain questions to clerks of county courts and sheriffs, with the view of ascertaining whether or not the elective franchise act was fully complied with in conducting the recent election. Information has reached the State Department that in some of the counties it was erroneously construed, in others it was willfully evaded, and in some instances it was totally disregarded. The Governor invites all loyal citizens to communicate information in relation to the question, and assures the loyal citizens of the State that no array of numbers however great, no censure of disfranchised citizens however loud, no combination of apostate Union men however respectable or valued, will prevent the execution of said law according to the substance and spirit of it.

SOUTH CAROLINA.—An order recently issued by Gen. C. H. Van Wyck, commanding the military district of Western South Carolina, was lately received at Gen. Howard's headquarters, from which it appears that, acting under the authority of a military post commandant, a number of former slaveholders have been guilty of brutally punishing their employees. In his general order, General Van Wyck administers a severe rebuke to the officer, authorizing the insertion of a punishment clause in the contracts between employer and employe, and all others, that similar offences will be summarily punished. He closes with some wholesome advice to the planters on the subject of the treatment of their colored employees, earnestly requesting their co-operation in the work of establishing the free labor system in the South.

POST OFFICE ACCOUNTS.—Ever since we had a Post Office, the Government has been in the practice of demanding immediate payment of all indebtedness from postmasters; but where the balance was to their credit, it was allowed to sleep on the books of the department without notice being given to the postmaster. It has been determined by the present administration to change this policy, and where a balance exists to the credit of a postmaster to pay it; where to his debt, to demand it. The government will no longer withold from its officers the amount shown to be due them by its own books.

ATLANTIC CABLE.—The London Herald of August 2 says:

"The state of affairs in connection with the Atlantic cable has led to an advance of the insurance premium of 25 guineas to 50 and 60 guineas on the Atlantic cable. Up to the middle of Wednesday the signals received were singularly distinct. The Great Eastern was then nearly two-thirds of the way to Newfoundland. She was in the deepest water of the whole route—2400 fathoms, a little over 2 1-2 miles. It was at this time that the signals to Valentia became unintelligible and gradually ceased."

Not very encouraging to stockholders.

A THIEF CAUGHT.—Jeremiah Townsend, clerk in the Savings bank at New Haven, Conn., who absconded last May with about $100,000, has been captured in Liverpool by two Philadelphia detectives, on his arrival at that place. Townsend sought to use his revolver but was prevented. Nearly $99,000 of the stolen money was found in his possession. He sailed for New York in the custody of the captors, per the steamship Etna for New York, on the 2d.

— Two returned rebels were hung a few days since at Rumney, Mo., for spouting treason.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows will meet at Nashua on Thursday.

—— A new company called Smyth's Rifles, has been organized in Manchester. James R. Carr is captain.

—— James Britton, a young sailor belonging in Durham, fell from a baggage car near that place Saturday, and was killed.

HANOVER, Aug. 12.

F. W. Miller, esq.: Dear Sir:—Upon farther inquiry, I am inclined to think that we have both gone a little too far in our controversy. From my recollections of the gentleman whom I assigned to the room which I am told you occupied, whose name I did not learn at the time, I cannot believe that you are a very unreasonable or exacting man. I am sorry that this does not apply to all who came to Hanover during Commencement week. But you are not responsible for their peculiarities.

Although I am not now inclined to say more about a libel suit against yourself, I am really grateful to you for stirring me up, thoroughly, to a study of the law, which I had nearly decided to lay aside. You will pardon me for adding, that when admitted to practice, whether retained as counsel in libel suits, or those of any other nature, I shall hope to treat with becoming gallantry all the floral gifts which my friends of the gentler sex may see fit to bestow upon me.

Now, my dear sir, if you will pay a visit to our house when we are quiet, we will endeavor to give you a cordial reception, and show you that we have comfortable accommodations for our guests, although we cannot surround them with all the luxuries and delicacies of the Revere or Fifth Avenue.

And now we will join you in a brief criticism upon the Exercises of the week in question. First, the Soldier Alumni (and the writer is one of them) are very grateful for any expressions of esteem; but of what use is it to have a man's name placed upon a public tablet, when the same name is not worth a straw on paper? We are suffering more or less from Army Experience, in regard to health,—for very few men return to their homes from camp except in impaired health. We need money to aid us in the road to professional usefulness—where shall we get it, or those of us whose bounty was only a pittance?

Second,—where shall the families of the brave and lamented Souther and Foster, and we know not how many other Alumni, who might be included in the same designation, find means for their support and education? Will not a word on this point be sufficient?

Third,—was one of the most recent and liberal donors to the College—himself a decided Republican—entirely in the wrong when he expressed displeasure at the introduction of negro suffrage, by a distinguished graduate of the College, at a literary festival?

Fourth,—we are sorry that Mr. Powers—a young man of uncommon promise—was scarcely alluded to in reports of the week.

B. P. SMITH.

POSTPONEMENT.—A Washington letter of Sunday says:—

The Democratic convention to be held here on Wednesday next to endorse the policy of the President, has been postponed. The authors of the call have not received at the hands of Mr. Johnson the consideration they expected. It was originated by a few individuals who fancied they could make themselves great men with the administration by bringing the leaders of the whole Democratic pary to the support of the President. They have failed, and want now to explode their own torpedo.

Exactly so; they reckoned without their host. The president is no doubt a democrat; but is not a copperhead, and we think not a fool.

☞ A rather singular circumstance happened at the town of North Berwick, Me., on Saturday last. The dead body of a soldier, placed in a neat coffin, was received there from the cars, and directed to a person named Maddox. The body is said to have come from Concord. No person in the town recognized the body, nor is there any person by that name in the town. The corpse was detained as long as it could be kept, and then decently buried in the public cemetery.

☞ The propellor Meteor, which ran into and sunk steamer Pewabic, took fire on Friday morning, in the St. Mary Ship Canal basin, and was scuttled and sunk; passengers lost their baggage, but saved their lives. Both boats belonged to J. T. Whiting of Detroit. Was Jonah on board both of them?

— The Brazilian fleet, after a fight of nine hours, destroyed 4 Paraguayan steamers, 6 gunboats, and killed and wounded 170 men, including the Admiral. The Brazilian loss was 1 steamer and 300 men. The Paraguayans captured Bora after five days' fighting.

— New Orleans advices to the 11th say quantities of cotton arrive daily at Houston, Texas; some negroes in T. commit robberies; the people there are cheerfully inclined to reconstruction; corn is so plentiful as to be a drug; cotton not so plentiful; the elections in Mississippi are said to be "conservative," alias rebel.

— A locomotive, on the Grand Trunk railway, was seized in Vermont last week, by the Custom House officers, having liquors on board, smuggled in from Canada.

— The Jenkins, now in jail New York, who lavished the money of the Phenix Bank on a fast woman named Vieve Browcer, is said to have a wife and three children.

— The National Bank circulation issued during the past week is $3,804,530; total circulation thus far, $169,598,960. Total capital authorized, $387,350,341.

— Mexican accounts to June 22 speak favorably of the prospects of Juarez and the republic. We don't rely upon them, but hope for the best.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anchres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named T. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly easy.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same as the Mutual Life Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 400 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $2 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate its facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable Invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Local.

☞ The U. S. steamer Franklin, which has been an "institution" on the Navy Yard for the last eight years, left on Saturday for Boston, probably never to return She was towed outside by the steamer Monticello and the smart little tugboat Portfire, when she was taken charge of by the steamer Vanderbilt and reached Boston on Saturday night.

☞ The bark Ethan Allen, formerly a naval vessel, and recently sold at auction, is now being repaired at the North End, and will be ready for sea in about three weeks.

POLICE COURT, August 12.—Charles A. Wyland, drunk, fined $3 and costs $3.86. Wm. Adams, drunk, $3.86 costs and $3 fine. John Griffin $3 fine and $3.86 costs for getting drunk.

Thus it is, and thus it will be for sometime to come: men will get drunk, they will have an institution called a "police court," and they will have laws, and officers to enforce them; hence combining these antagonistic forces, rum, officer, law and judge, and there must be explosion. They cannot harmonize any more than saltpetre, charcoal and fire, or any other elements diametrically opposed to each other. And yet men continue to drink, get drunk, and get published, one after another, like the buffalo herd which is driven over the precipice, tumbling one by one into the abyss below. And for the same reason that the wild ox makes his fatal leap, does the police court drunkard persist in his course of conduct—simply because he cannot help it. His volition is gone. He is at the mercy of his depraved appetite. His tattered garments, his crazy dwelling, his heart-broken wife and skeleton children, are fearful finger-posts on the highway of life, warning those who travel that way, that it leads to hell.

For the Chronicle.

☞ Our Auctioneers do get off a good thing sometimes. At the great sale of the "Shells of Ocean," the other evening, Capt. W. had been assuring his patrons that all the articles were perfect specimens, and that the colors were all natural, etc, etc. "Here gentlemen," continued he, "is a shell with the Lord's Prayer engraved upon it." "The Lord's Prayer," ejaculated Quiz, "Is it natural?" "Does it look natural to you" quickly responded the witty knight of the hammer, and the laugh went through the crowd. BONO.

THE "PHILHARMONIC" EXCURSION AND PIC NIC, at Dover Point, will take place on Thursday Afternoon next, Aug. 17th, at half-past four o'clock, in steamer Pioneer. Members can procure Tickets for themselves and friends at Carter's and Burtt's Stores, Congress St., and at J. H. Head's. A business Meeting of the Society will be held at Mercantile Hall on Tuesday evening, Aug. 15, at half-past 7, and all members are requested to attend. Per order.

☞ The English papers make mention of the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to the French iron-clad Magenta, at Plymouth, Eng.; and also "the great event of the day, the visit made by their highnesses, the lords of admiralty, the Duke of Somerset, and Earl Grey, the secretary of war, to the iron clad, which magnificent ship is now the exclusive object of conversation among the inhabitants of Plymouth. It is generally admitted that the English navy has no ships which can be compared to it, and the rumor was that the English admiralty had immediately given the order to build up a vessel on that model, which was to be adopted for the whole navy." All these great public characters, and this famous craft, at old Plymouth, is not unlike the surroundings of Portsmouth at this time.

HORSES FEEDING ONE ANOTHER.—M. de Bousanelle, captain of cavalry, in the regiment of Beauvillers, relates in his Military Observations, "That an old horse of his company, that was very fine and full of mettle, had his teeth all of a sudden so worn down that he could not chew his hay and corn; and that he was fed for two months, and would still have been so had he been kept, by two horses on each side of him that ate in the same manger; that these two horses drew hay from the same rack, which they chewed, and afterward threw before him; they did the same with the oats, which they ground very small, and also put before him. This," added he, "was observed and witnessed by a whole company of cavalry, officers and men."

BEHIND THOSE ROSEATE GATES, the lips of girlhood, thy should be a fragrant palace, elegantly furnished with ivory and coral. Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT SECURING PATENTS, or more eminent for SUCCESS IN THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such Work does the proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications CLAIMS FOR APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16, 1865.

CONFISCATION.—It has already been stated that preliminaries in the work of confiscation have been commenced in Richmond by the seizure of the famous and extensive Tredegar Iron Works, which supplied a large portion of the heavy ordnance used by the rebels during the war. It now appears that confiscation agents are also busily engaged in taking descriptions of all property liable to confiscation and giving notices staying the payment of rents to the deposed rebel owners. A letter from Richmond says:—

This movement was apprehended since the failure of the deputation from that city to induce the President to modify the thirteenth clause of the Amnesty proclamation, which excepts from pardon persons worth over twenty thousand dollars. It was supposed at first that this clause had reference only to parties who held commissions in the rebel army above the rank of colonel, or a corresponding rank in the navy. Now however, the opinion seems to prevail that all persons in the confederacy not known to have been loyal to the government, are subject to the decree of confiscation. All seem now to concur in the idea that the agrarian policy is to be enforced, and that a sweeping system of confiscation, which will embrace all classes owning over twenty thousand dollars' worth of property, has been fully and finally determined upon with a view to the payment of the Northern debt, or as much of it as possible.

Not the Northern debt, says Uncle Toby, but the National Debt of the United States, contracted in the effort to put down the rebellion. The effort is successful—and now the whole country must be assessed as equally as may be; and the late rebel States and their people must be made to pay their proportion.

CRIME AND PHILANTROPHY.—There is no State in the Union where so many crimes of the most horrible atrocity are perpetrated as in Massachusetts.

So says an Exchange paper:—but the statement is far from being true. Atrocious crimes are committed there, as elsewhere—but not more or more atrocious. The same paper then says:

If her philanthropists would apply to the reformation of the morals of her own people one-half the zeal they manifest in correcting those of others, it would be better for all concerned.

The same men and women, who labor as philanthropists to correct morals abroad, are doing what they can, to reform home morals; for example, almost every active man who labors to destroy slavery abroad, labors also to destroy intemperance at home. While as a general thing, those who grumble at one form of benevolent effort, and say it ought to be in another form, very rarely help in any form. This is true of Massachusetts; and as true in New Hampshire. We remember papers that have snarled at all attempted reforms for many years, and know of some new ones made on purpose to snarl. No true philanthropist expects their praise or aid,—but the contrary. "A serpent will bite without enchantment, and a babbler is no better." U. T.

☞ A Newbern, N. C., dispatch of Monday says:—

The Jenny Lind, with a cargo of rum, molasses and tropical fruits, arrived from the West Indies to-day, being the first commercial arrival from that quarter since the war.

Subscription books were opened to-day for the establishment of the First National Bank of Newbern.

Immense amounts of cotton and other products from all parts of the State are daily arriving in Newbern. Three lines of steamers plying between this port and the North are unable to furnish sufficient transportation to keep the wharves clear, and they are likewise unable to supply the demand of the mercantile trade in this city on their return trips.

MILITARY COUNCIL.—The New York Herald's Richmond correspondent states that a grand military council is to be held in that city during the last week of August, at which President Johnson, Secretary Stanton, Gens. Terry, Turner, Curtis, Schofield, Howard, Howley, and others will be present. It is supposed that final action will then be taken upon the grave issues of state policy, growing out of the recent election held in Richmond.

— On Monday morning, the old frigate Congress was raised and started for Norfolk. While off Sewall's Point she got aground, and additional steam power being applied she was got off with the flood tide, and proceeded up Elizabeth river. At 11 o'clock she was at Baker's Landing, Norfolk.

— A correspondent of the Illinois State Journal, who has traveled through the central portions of that State, says the wheat is not injured to exceed twenty per cent.; oats are damaged but little, barley about twenty per cent., while corn is improved fully twenty per cent., by the late heavy rains. He thinks the corn-crop will be immense.

— It is said the human body has twenty-eight miles of drainage through its seven million pores. An exchange thinks that isn't enough to cleanse some bodies it has seen.

Communication.

AN ELOPEMENT.—In a certain hamlet not one hundred miles from this city, there occurred, a few weeks ago, a desperately romantic affair, which was as full of love as a country turkey is of food just prior to Christmas. A "highly respectable" young lady became intensely fond of a lowly respectable young gentleman, who, while growing into the sweet affections of the daughter, was inheriting the utter hatred and contempt of the parents, insomuch that all the restrictions which human ingenuity could plan had been placed upon the fair damsel, yet all to no purpose.

The young girl would not be baffled, having just as fertile an intellect as the authors of her existence, and was smart enough to checkmate every move. Hence she held interviews with "him," and conjugated the Latin verb amo through all its different moods and tenses, until the hour arrived when it seemed proper that the mystic words should be spoken which would bind them together "for better or for worse, till death should part." * * *

One summer night, about one o'clock, when all nature was hushed in quiet repose, naught being heard save perhaps the fall of the early summer sweet-apple (which had warned the parent tree by its daily approximation towards blushing maturity, that it would soon leave its protecting roof and cast itself upon the mercies of the world,) as it tumbled from limb to limb, crashing through leaves and boughs to seek a resting place; or the distant hum of the ever-running brook; or the wild shriek and then the low growl of the dissipated tomas cat holding "sweet converse" with his neighbor tom or tabbey—all of which were significant, perhaps encouraging, perhaps admonitory. But it mattered little, as omens are only noticed by the idle and the superstitious.

On this exquisitely splendid night,—when the full round moon would sail out in her majestic beauty from behind the clouds ever and anon—remaining only thus exposed so brief a space of time as to tantalize the poet, but fall long enough to gratify those who were preparing for a grand strategic effort to accomplish long-cherished purposes,—our heroic friend (the male portion of the enterprise) might have been seen in a certain locality, alighting from a chaise, and then proceeding a short distance along the road, which is lined on each side with tall and leafy poplars, stops opposite a large old-fashioned country mansion, with its front yard filled with currant-bushes, apple, pear and cherry trees; while in the back-yard, and near the long barn with red-painted doors, might be seen the tall well-sweep which had bowed its head so many times in obedience to the pull of the thirsty visitor, and uprising, produced the old "iron-bound bucket" filled with cold, sparkling water.

He steps back a few paces, makes a signal, gets one in return, and then with throbbing heart he waits. Not long, however, as a few minutes brings the idol of his soul (the feminine portion of the play,) bounding over the stone wall; and in less time than we consume in writing it, the carriage wheels were rolling them away at a four-minute gait, leaving the unsuspecting "parients" under the supreme control of Morpheus, who held them thus enchained until the faithful steed had placed about twenty miles between the runaways and their inimical relatives at home.

To cut short an already too lengthy story, the synopsis of the concluding chapter is—the hunt for a clergyman, the tying of the nuptial knot, the three weeks' absence, the return home, the rage of the parents,—especially the father—final yielding of the mother, her conciliatory policy in the matter, gradual subsiding of the waves of anger, and at last a gentle melting together of hearts, old man shakes hands with his son-in-law, &c., and ultimate happiness of all.

YOUIS, P. KIN.

— A blind lady living in Kennebunk, who was over 71 years of age at the commencement of the war, has during its continuance knit for the soldiers 53 pairs of stockings.

— Be merciful—don't throw your water melon rinds, and peach skins and stones where they will take people from their feet. We hear of serious accidents from this most reprehensible carelessness.

— The N. Y. Express says a New Orleans correspondent of the Tribune, who has criticised Gen. Canby's administration rather sharply, reached N. Y. under arrest Monday, and was put under the charge of Gen. Hooker.

PRENTICEANA.—A man went through the streets of St. Paul crying two eagles for sale. Of course they were bawled eagles.

Many who claim to "loyal to the backbone" were loyal to the rebellion's backbone as long as it had a back-bone.

What's the use of cleansing our streets if our neighbor of the Democrat is afterwards to be allowed to walk in them?

A southern paper thinks that "something is on foot in South Carolina." She herself is on foot. She used to ride "the high horse," but can't now.

—Flora Temple has been sold for $15,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Durham, on Friday, Aug. 11th, as some boys were on a raft of logs on Lamprey River, Albert C. Perkins, son of Thomas K. Perkins, fell into the river and was drowned. He was about 12 years old. His body was found in about an hour after.

—— Messrs. Abner Merrill and sons of Exeter, raised 150 bushels of winter rye from six acres of land.

—— In Plaistow, on Wednesday night, Aug. 9, Mr. Henry Jones's fine barn (one of the finest in this County,) together with his carriage-house, store-house and shed, was entirely destroyed by fire. The barn contained fifty tons of hay, mostly first quality. The fire broke out about 12 o'clock, in the store house, and spread rapidly to the main barn. Mr. Jones and family were aroused from sleep by the furious barking of the watch-dog. The cattle, horses, carriages, and most of the harnesses were saved. At one time the main house was in great danger. The insurance will not cover the loss in personal property. Mr. Jones's net loss will be about four thousand dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown.

—— Among the wounded passengers in the Norwich Railroad train last week, we notice that Mrs. Nellie M. Greenleaf, of Exeter, wife of Capt. Greenleaf, was somewhat bruised on her right arm and shoulder, and a cut on the back of her head, and injured internally. Mr. Luke Julian, of Exeter, was on the train and pretty well stirred up, but not much injured.

—— On Sunday, in Manchester, an accidental fire burned over forty acres of land in the southern suburbs, destroying much timber and young wood. The drouth is quite sharp there.

A SMART IRISHMAN.—About a hundred years ago, a young Irishman by the name of Burnside was hired as a laborer, by Mr. McGregor, the Presbyterian minister of the Scotch Irish settlement in Londonderry. Soon after the young laborer became interested in one of the minister's daughters, and married her, much against the wishes of the proud and aristocratic family. On the Sunday morning after the wedding, as the young man escorted his bride to church, the family wished to treat him with insolence and contempt. Mr. McGregor was in the pulpit and his family was in the pew. As Burnside walked up the aisle with his wife, the McGregors opened the door and admitted their sister, but closed it against the entrance of her husband.

Burnside not wishing to be outwitted, notwithstanding the stern and sober looks of the congregation, and notwithstanding the contemptuous and proud bearing of the McGregors, put his hands on the railing, leaping into the pew and sat down beside his wife. Soon after Burnside with his new wife moved to Northumberland in Upper Coos, where he became quite a thrifty farmer. In a few years he visited Londonderry, and while on this visit to the lower part of the Province went to Portsmouth and called on Gov. Wentworth.

The Governor received him very kindly, and seemed glad to learn something about the distant settlements in the wilderness. During the interview Burnside reminded the Governor that they very much needed a magistrate in Northumberland, as there was none for a long distance. "Yes," said the Governor, "I should think you did need a magistrate very much;" now Mr. Burnside, you are well acquainted in that region can't you name some good man for the office? "Well," said Burnside, "there's nobody there but neighbor Spaulding and myself, and faith, he ain't fit."

Burnside, of course, obtained the appointment, and as he was leaving said, "and now Gov. Wentworth, when I go back to Northumberland, they will ask, did you go to Portsmouth and see the Governor, and how did he treat you? and what kind of liquor did he give you? now what shall I tell 'em?" We can readily imagine how Gov. Wentworth sent for his best liquors, and with what pleasure the new magistrate returned to Northumberland, where he became prosperous in business, and left a fine estate to his children.

— The Providence Bulletin says that Brown Burlingame, of that city, who was arrested in Montreal on suspicion of being connected with the plot to abduct the rebel Sanders, reached home Saturday, suffering from disease of the bowels, and died Sunday morning. He had been engaged in purchasing horses in Canada, and the idea that he had anything to do with the abduction scheme was preposterous.

— Madame Jumel, the widow of Aaron Burr, left property valued at $700,000. The Episcopal church in Carmansville has been very small and quite poor. The rector was very attentive to Madame Jumel. She left the society money enough to build an elegant church, and made the rector her residuary legatee, by which he will inherit the snug sum of $100,000.

— A prominent Connecticut lawyer, recently officiating at a Masonic funeral as chaplain, in his address to the friends of the deceased, quoted as Scripture the passage from Sterne: "God tempers the wind to the shorn lamb."

— Gov. Maroon, of Florida, in his proclamation, does not re-appoint old local officers, but only authorized them to record deeds, attend to probate business, &c., leaving the military to preserve order.

— The King of Portugal has closed the Cortes. He promised a strict law for the abolition of slavery in the Portuguese possessions.

SOME ON A WALK.—We learn there was a wager last Saturday morning between Mark M. Mitchell of Yarmouth, and the agent of steamer "Clipper, which came off under the following circumstances: It seems that Mitchel arriving at the landing, finding she had just left, made a bet with the agent that he would walk to Portland and arrive before the steamer made her appearance. The bet was taken, and the distance, 13 1-2 miles, walked in one hour and forty-eight minutes, beating the boat some fifteen minutes. The first wager was five dollars, and the winner offered to stake $20 that he would do the same on the return trip, but was not taken up by the owner.—Portland Adv.

REPORT.—The Committee selected to attend the annual examination of the Hudson River Institute, Claverack, Columbia Co., N. Y., for 1865, represent three religious denominations. They have given close attention to the recitations, and to the social order and discipline of the School. This is one of the most widely patronized institutions of its kind in the country; and the Committee are happy to say that, in their judgment, the scale of teaching is uniformly of a very high character. Thorough recitations are prized above the showy and superficial. This make-of study hard, but most remunerative. This Committee are conversant with the actual state of scholarship in the leading institutions of this description of the North; and they wish distinctly to say that they know of few which equal, and of none which surpasses this institution. They heartily congratulate the officers, teachers and pupils of the Seminary, upon graduating a male and female class this year which would confer honor upon any educational establishment of its kind in the land.

The government of this institution is a yet rarer success than its tuition. The difficult problem of a mixed School of young gentlemen and ladies conducted on a large scale, has found a better solution here than elsewhere within our knowledge. The surroundings of this Institute are unsurpassed in natural attractiveness and convenience; the community is one of substantial yeomanry; the buildings ample and neatly elegant. The students are distributed in six forms, according to their age and advancement. Military drills and gymnastic exercises conduce to the physical vigor of the pupils, who are trained as well to commercial life as for a collegiate course.

of America, as unquestionably FAR SUPERIOR to all other similar instruments. Among those who have given written testimonials to the superiority of THE CABINET ORGAN are such men and musicians as embrace a great part of the musical talent of the country.

It must be readily admitted that an instrument which receives the indorsements of such an array of the most competent musical judges, must possess most decided points of excellence and superiority; and a careful and candid inspection will satisfy any one for himself that such is the case.

All persons interested are invited to send for full description of these instruments, with styles and prices.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anores," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, envelopped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

POLICE COURT, August 14.—John L. Brewster for drunkenness, fined $3 and costs, $3,86. Committed.

James Bible is again in trouble. He became intoxicated and from that condition he relapsed into a state of drunkenness, and for this latter offence was directed to turn over in fines and costs $6.86. Of course such an unreasonable demand could not be answered by James. As well might he have called on Wm. H. Hackett, Esq., and removing the injunction recently placed upon that justly celebrated piece of property—the Portsmouth Steam Mill—have set the machinery in motion, and brought the price of shares up to $1.00. He was committed.

John O'Brine has got himself into a pickle. He became drunk and was fined $3 and $3.86 costs. He has gone up to dwell in the cottage by the Alms-House, where he will doubtless be used to keep pork and beef from spoiling, which he will do as well as any other man, judging from his appearance. He is the strongest brine we ever s—aw. Upon coming in contact with him, one involuntarily cries out "O' brine!"

Michael Cannady, to whom some of our young men fled for refuge at the time of the "draft" and who took excellent care of the unfortunates,—being enabled so to do by maintaining "strict neutrality"—got drunk and was fined $3 and costs $3.86.—He had no money and therefore was committed. We doubt not that some of those young men referred to, had they been made aware of Cannady's situation, would have cheerfully paid his fine for the sake of the name of "the land they loved so well!"

Wm. S. Hadley, for selling liquor, bound over in the sum of $200, Joseph Holmes and Charles A. Wiggin acting as sureties.

David Marshall, for assaulting somebody, fined $10 and costs $3,86.

— In Boston, on Sunday evening, just before 10 o'clock, as Mrs. Elizabeth Bates, wife of James M. Bates, was returning home alone from a visit to a friend, she was seized and gagged by three or four men, and hustled up stairs at 179 Court street, grossly abused, and detained till two o'clock in the morning, and then put into the street. Her husband in the meantime had been in anxious pursuit of her. They informed the police, who arrested four men, (all foreigners) whom Judge Wright committed to jail for trial.

— We have reports from Virginia, via Gov. Pierpont and Co. that they don't know what to do with the negroes, as they steal pigs, poultry, and vegetables, and the white people are paralyzed and refuse to defend themselves! Credat Judæus.

— Howell, the Savannah rebel, who insulted and assaulted a U. S. officer and got knocked down for it, has been sentenced to $250 fine, six months imprisonment, and then to be sent out of the military district; another rebel in the same row, is imprisoned.

— At a recent meeting in New York, one of the speakers, Rev. Mr. Jones, in advocating the claims of the colored men to vote, stated that the census shows that in that city the negroes pay twenty-five thousand dollars more than the cost of their own poor; that in proportion to population thirty-seven of them went to war to every twenty-five white men, and that the number who cannot read is only one in seven, while of whites it is one in five.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

IS WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

The Eagle Hill Mutual Coal Company.

The subscriber has succeeded in obtaining a limited number of shares in this popular Company, which has proved such a success in Boston and vicinity, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of Portsmouth to obtain their coal at a saving of three or four dollars per ton. COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, and has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (for the Act of 1857,) 76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and the opinion or advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors are advantageous for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PRESENT DISPOSITION than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he would respectfully request to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The long and extensive practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All access, or of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in the strongest form for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made no twice-rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE PRINTERS CASE.—Some of the gentlemen connected with the type-setting machine, have sent us a pamphlet, containing a very ingenious essay on "the Printers Case," i. e. the series or group of boxes in which types are distributed, and from which they are set. It is an interesting paper to printers, and worth reading by other persons who like to look into such matters. Many of its suppositions are highly probable as well as ingenious, especially that the lower case as well as the upper, was originally alphabetical merely,—as appears by the present arrangement of b, c, d, e—f, g, and l, m, n. But we notice two erroneous suppositions which we can easily correct, and believe the writer will be obliged to us for the correction.

The essay says:

Now q must soon have been found utterly unworthy of a large box, and as it was so very rare, it is natural that it should have been grouped with x and z in the left-hand lower corner.

Not very soon says Uncle Toby; the q kept a half box at the right hand, till within 50 years, and we now have a fount of types laid less than 40 years ago, with q at the right. The q was put into a quarter box at the bottom of the left, only within half a century, so far as we know.

So of the figures. The essay says:

There is little ground for deciding the arrangement of these upper boxes in the lower case, but it is probable that when the figures were introduced, there was one continuous row of boxes of the size common at present, namely, one half as long and one half as wide as the others. * * * *

It is probable that the figures were placed at first with the one and the two over the e box and the others in order to the right, placing the cipher in the upper right hand corner, and it is probably that the present arrangement was not decided until the importance of the e, as the letter of the greatest frequency in the language, was discovered.

Now it does not seem probable to us that the figures were ever in the lower cast at all, till recently. For 9 boxes in that case were occupied by the ct, the long s, and its combination s.—And it was only when the long s disappeared, that we saw figures in the lower case for the first time.

The oldest Capital cases we ever saw (we have some at least 100 years old) were almost exactly like the modern case, 7 rows of 7 boxes, on each side. At the top began A. In the two lower rows, at the left, were figures

Parentheses, brackets, &, £, were in the 4 spare boxes.

By and by these two lower rows were made into 5 instead of 7;—we have one or two of these. Then the lower right hand boxes were also made in fives; of these we have a number.

☞ Negro suffrage does not seem to be popular in the West. So says an exchange; and there is some truth in it. And it is also true (says Uncle Toby) that anti slavery views did "not seem to be popular in the West," nor the East, the North, nor the South! They were unpopular, and the men who expressed them were proscribed, until the logic of events convinced many of the most stubborn unbelievers. Judge Taney, James Buchanan, the Lecompton Swindle, and the rebellion, all did what they could to crush out abolition,—but they staggered, and falling on slavery, crushed out that instead, with a fearful loss of life and treasure. This loss was the penalty we paid for near a century of unrighteous alliance with dishonesty. Do we wish to persevere in a kindred wrong.—and so pay another penalty? We hope not. It is safe to do right, but dangerous to do otherwise.

☞ A stranger, apparently from the country, made his appearance on the streets of St. Louis, recently, attracting much attention by the unusual loftiness of his stature. He measured seven feet two and a half inches in his boots, and wore a tall white stove-pipe hat, which made him look as long as the moral law. He was good-natured and seemed to enjoy the attention which his extraordinary longitude attracted. At one time at least five hundred people surrounded him, and he looked down on the multitude from his lofty eminence like a jackass among a flock of sheep.

☞ A strike of the coal miners in the Lackawana valley has now lasted for about two weeks, and there is yet no prospect of the employers acceding to the wages demand of the workmen, or of the latter, who it is said have a fund of eighty thousand dollars, to fall back on, submitting to the terms of the former. Consequently the mines for miles along the valley, lately the scenes of life and industry, are almost deserted. By the law of compensation, when the miners refuse to raise the coal, the dealers are always ready to raise the prices.

— There is said to be $878,000,000 invested in petroleum in this country.

FENIAN DEMONSTRATION.—There was a grand Fenian demonstation at Framingham last Saturday. Among the other speakers was Hon. Henry Wilson, who uttered the following sentiments:

"If on any spot on God's green earth a people aspired to freedom, his sympathy was with them. Wherever liberty had an altar or freedom a champion, his heart was there. God made us of different nations, but humanity impels us to support each other, and lend an influence in support of all oppressed people. We live in a country great and free, and our influence should be every where to inspire and cheer the hearts of struggling men all over the globe. Our country is once more united, and it is a proud day for every man that struck a blow to sustain the integrity of the Republic. His position gave him an opportunity of observing the deeds of those who went out to battle for the flag, and none exhibited greater heroism or devotion to the Union cause than men of Irish blood. The citizens of this free Republic hate despotism and love liberty the wide world over. In conclusion Mr. Wilson said, let all men and women of Irish birth and parentage observe in the future, as in the past four years the same principles; give heart and hope to the land of their adoption, unite on all things for the prosperity of all the people. But he could not ask them to forget the green land on their birth. Let them give hope, confidence and aid to her sons who are striving for her regeneration."

FRIGHTFUL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday morning an extra freight train on the Housatonic Railroad was stopped about three miles from Bridgeport, Conn., by an accident to a cylinder of the engine. The passenger train which followed, warned of the danger, hitched on to the freight train, and was slowly drawing it back to Bridgeport at the rate of about 8 miles an hour. When near the Poyounock Mills, the train was met by a new locomotive coming up the track on a trial trip. At a curve on the road the new engine came suddenly in collision with the train backing down. Several of the cars were entirely demolished, the engine going literally through the rear passenger car. Six persons, three of them ladies, were instantly killed, and twenty were severely wounded. Very many were scalded by the steam issuing from the locomotive boiler. The Conductor was somewhat bruised, but went to Bridgeport and returned at once with a special train, attended by several physicians, all of whom at once gave their united energies to alleviate the distress. The citizens of Bridgeport and the people residing in the vicinity of the accident were promptly in attendance to relieve the wounded in every way which sympathy and kindness could suggest.

TAKING THE VEIL.—The Chicago Republican has the following:

It appears that the rebel women of South Carolina are much exercised on the subject of veils. In the happy days of slavery black women were not permitted to wear these graceful articles of female costume; but now that all are free, Dinah and Elsie demonstrate their liberty by putting on veils. This seems innocent and harmless enough, but it rouses the ire of the aristocrats, upon whose former prerogatives Dinah and Elsie are encroaching. Some vow that they will tear off the veils of their sable sisters wherever they happen to meet them; others are resolved that they will nevermore wear veils themselves so long as niggers are permitted to wear them.

We beg to suggest a compromise to the beautiful and enraged, though subjugated, rebels. Let them take the little veils which are now in fashion. They are so small as to be almost no veils at all. With them their dignity and their complexions will both be safe.

☞ Edward Ketchum, who seems to have constituted himself the firm of Ketchum & Cheatum, has created great excitement in Wall street, New York, by forgeries of gold certificates to an amount in the vicinity of $2,000,000. Charles Graham, broker, suffers to the tune of $286,000; the Fourth National Bank $250,000. The defaulter, who has absconded, was a member of the firm of Morris, Ketchum, Son & Co., is 25 years of age, has been married two or three years, and has one child. It is reported that he abstracted bonds from the safe of the firm, but to what extent is not known. The last seen of Ketchum was at a trunk store on Broadway, where he had some 15 packages of money—thought from a glance to be as much as $60,000, and where he bought a travelling bag.

The Tribune thinks that Mr. Ketchum, of the firm of Ketchum, Sons & Co., will be able to meet all of the forgeries, drafts and liabilities of his son. He is estimated to be worth from five to six millions.

— At the time the Atlantic cable broke, it was about 600 miles distant from Newfoundland. At last accounts the steamer was endeavoring to discover the location of the buoy, showing that they had not abandoned all hope of laying the cable. Mr. Mackey, Superintendent of the Newfoundland line, is yet hopeful that the Great Eastern will arrive in a few days with the cable all right.

— A slave ship, manned wholly by Arabs, and having on board 283 negroes, was captured last May near Zanzibar, on the east coast of Africa, by the British war steamer Wasp. Three of the Arabs were killed in the fight which took place, while the Wasp lost one man killed and eleven wounded.

—— Hon. J. W. Patterson is to deliver the address at the Vermont State Fair, on Thursday, Sept. 14th.

—— Rotation in office is not a popular doctrine in the town of Stratham, the first Postmaster holding his office for 63 years.

——Mr. Stephen Scammon, of Stratham, has a cow, which he thinks will beat any other cow in New England for butter and milk for one year, and will bet five hundred dollars on the same—and he wishes to learn the name of the owner of the cow who offered to bet $200. As both cows are to be at the New England Fair at Concord, we hope that their owners will have an opportunity to test their valuable qualities. Mr. S. says he has been offered $875, for his cow, but will not sell it for less than $1,000.

—— Stephen Scammon of Stratham says he has an Egyptian sheep, whose wool is two feet in length. There would be no difficulty in pulling that wool over almost any one's eyes.

☞ The Grand Encampment, I. O. of O. F., met at Nashua on Monday afternoon. This branch of the Order is represented to be in a very flourishing condition. The net increase during the past year is 76. The financial condition is good. John E. Rider, of this city, was elected M. W. G. P. for the ensuing year.

—— Rev. John W. Haley, formerly of Tuftonborough, and late pastor of the Christian Church at Eastport, Me., has accepted a college professorship at Merom, Indiana.

—— John Ward of Freedom has an acre of Northern corn, planted May 26, nearly all of which measures eight feet in height, and a portion of it 8 feet 4 inches.

—— We regret to learn that Hon. D. J. Daniels, Mayor of Manchester, died on Tuesday evening.

— Maj. Gen. Hooker has issued an order dividing his department of the East into six divisions, with a major general at the head of each. If we do not live "quiet and peaceable lives in all godliness and honesty" in these parts, it will not be for lack of military government. The commanding officer for this district, embracing Massachusetts New Hampshire and Vermont, is Maj. Gen. D. E. Sickles.

— By the arrival of steamer Pauline Carsatt at Cairo, we have New Orleans dates of the 9th. The Mexican Ranchero, of July 28, which the New Orleans Times says is rather doubtful authority, reports the sacking of Corpus Christi and the desecration of a family vault by United States soldiers. Gen. Lopez has left Matamoras for the city of Mexico.

— It is estimated by old policemen of Richmond that not less than two thousand colored prostitutes have taken to street-walking since the occupation of that city by the Union forces. These poor wretches were once respectable house servants; but with freedom came licentiousness, and they now fill the air with the vilest language.

— The Maine Democratic State Convenmet at Portland on Tuesday, and after the adoption of a series of resolutions defining the position of the Maine Democracy on national questions and endorsing President Johnson's policy, nominated Hon. Joseph Howard of Portland as their candidate for Governor.

— McNulty, under sentence for life in the Massachusetts State Prison for the murder at East Boston, of police officer Hodgdon, several years ago, and pardoned out two or three weeks since on account of failing health, has died of tubercular consumption.

— A correspondent writes from the Austrian watering place of Gastein, that a rich Englishman has for some days taken up his abode on the Malnitzer Tauer, a mountain more than six thousand feet high. He lives in an extremely comfortable tent, but the cold obliges him to warm it with a stove.

— The excitement in New York at the change in the Custom House there, was wide-spread and intense. Mr. Draper gives place to Preston King, and the lesser fry, of whom there are about 1200, may prepare to leave the snug places which they have occupied the past four years.

— On the 22d of May a terrific hurricane visited the Society and Palmerston Islands, entirely washing away one of the latter, leaving nothing but coral breakers, invisible in a heavy sea. These islands are well known to whalers in the South Sea.

— The Boston Herald's special dispatch from Washington, under date of the 18th inst., says there is the highest authority for stating that Jeff. Davis will be tried during the month of September, by a civil tribunal. Ex-Senator Pugh, Chas. O'Connor and Gillette, are his counsel.

— It is the law in Japan that no fir or cypress tree can be cut down without the permission of a magistrate, and for every full grown tree that is felled a sapling must be planted. We wish some parts of our country might be Japanned in this particular.

— Gold, in New York, on Wednesday, 141 1-2.

— The Superior Criminal Court in Boston is meting out the law in a manner that will not meet the approbation of rogues. Four burglars have received sentences of 20, 15, 15, and 8 years respectively at hard labor in the State Prison.

— Dick McCann, an ex-rebel Major, was arrested in Nashville on Monday, on a charge of having been a member of a Court Martial which hanged several Union citizens at Knoxville during the war, and will be taken to that place for trial.

— The freedmen are said to be leaving Virginia for the North by the thousand, and the people of the Mother of Presidents are pleased thereat, believing it will sooner cause an influx of white labor.

— On the sands at Scullercoats, near Tynemouth, England, a board has been fixed, on which is inscribed the following notice: "Any person passing beyond this point will be drowned, by order of the magistrates."

☞ The Lady's Friend for September is received from the publishers, Messrs. Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia. Full of matters of interest to the ladies.

— Policeman Walker was shot dead in New York on Tuesday morning, while trying to rescue a woman from a gang of ruffians. Ten of the villains have been arrested.

— The town of Stevenson, Tenn., was almost entirely destroyed by fire on Tuesday morning, supposed to have been caused by an incendiary.

— What more natural than that sentimental young ladies, when they change their condition of single blessedness, ceasing to be pensive, should be ex-pensive.

— Maj. Gen. Hooker is soon to proceed to St. Louis for the purpose of leading to the altar a wealthy and beautiful widow of that city.

— Mr. F. E. Lane, a marine painter of some note, died at his residence in Gloucester on Monday night.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anchres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign makt-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—Hitherto many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and add, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, envelopped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

☞ We find an item in the Boston Herald stating that the steamer Franklin arrived in Boston Harbor Sunday morning, adding that "she has been in course of construction at the Portsmouth Navy Yard over thirty years." Substract about seventeen years, Bro. Herald, and you will be nearer the mark. The vessel was commenced in 1852 and completed ready for launching in '54. She remained on the stocks ten years, when orders were received to launch her, and preparatory to setting her afloat, a part of her planking was taken off, and the vessel calked.

☞ The hosts of friends of Mrs. Mary Neal of this city, will regret to learn that she met with quite a serious accident, at the residence of Hon. Wm. Simes in Greenland, on Saturday morning last. By a fall from a single step only, we believe, the small bones of her ankle were broken in a very painful manner.

☞ Our thanks to ex-Mayor Steam Fire Engine, for a sample box of extra nice clarified Maple Sugar, like that which we are going to have a tub of next year—from the farm of Mr. Joseph Knight, Corinth, Vt.

It was a little singular we should happen also, on the same day, to enjoy the hospitalities of another of our Hon. ex-Mayors, at his suburban home, where his well known enterprise and energy are making the wilderness blossom as the rose—and we came away resembling the messengers to the land of Canaan.

☞ A very elegant and appropriate monument has recently been placed in the lot of the late Mr. Robt. Rice, in the South Cemetery. It is of white marble, unique in design, and of elaborate and exquisite workmanship.

POLICE COURT, August 15.—John Leary, drunk, fined $3 and costs $3.86.

Hosea Tucker and Marcellus Marston, brawl and tumult, fined $3 and one-half the costs each, amounting to $5.51.

H—— S—— amuses himself by urging his faithful steed into a rate of speed beyond that which the law prescribes, and the sensation experienced costs him $9.80.

Mark Spinney, for selling two glasses of liquor on Sunday, was held to answer in the sum of two hundred dollars for his appearance at the fall term of court. Also for keeping a disorderly house he was held in the sum of $100. His sureties were John Donovan and William Downs.

☞ As we predicted, the Agamenticus,—in the trial of speed from this city to Portland, on Tuesday, with the Dictator—beat her rival badly, making the trip in five hours and ten minutes—nearly ten knots an hour—the Dictator coming in some three or four miles behind. It also may not be amiss to state that the latter vessel got the start of the Agamenticus one mile and a quarter. There is a good deal of blowing by the friends of the D. in regard to her merits, but disinterested parties fail to see her good points. With her furnaces—66 in all—she consumes 7000 lbs. of Cannel coal an hour, while the Agamenticus burns 2000 lbs. in the same length of time. The former has one turret and two guns, and the latter two turrets and four guns, of the same calibre as the Dictator's. The D. draws twenty-two feet of water,—thus rendering her incapable of entering but few of our harbors—while the A. draws only twelve. A force of 135 engineers and firemen is required to run the D., while only 40 are required to run the A. These are facts, and may be of some value to the public in enabling them to decide between the respective merits of the two boats. It probably would not be out of place to state here that the Dictator was built in New York by Mr. Ericsson, and the Agamenticus built at this Navy Yard—the former costing, we believe, nearly three millions, and the latter about half that sum.

THE RACE OF THE IRON CLADS.—The Boston Journal of Tuesday morning says:

It appears by our dispatches from Portland that the race of the iron-clads from Portsmouth to that city resulted in the triumph of the Agamenticus, she beating the Dictator a mile and a half and making the distance at the rate of nearly ten knots an hour. The Portsmouth people will crow loudly over their victory, though it is not as decided as it might have been. Still it is a victory. It seems that the officers of the Dictator do not give it up, but claim that if it had not been for the heating of a crank she would have won the race. These ifs are bad things. The Dictator, too, had time enough to have got her machinery in good order and to have been fully prepared for the race. We are inclined to believe that, after making all proper allowances, the Agamenticus is her superior in sailing, as she is in her aggressive powers. And therefore we rejoice with the Portsmouth mechanics in the success of their monitor."

The Portland dispatch of Monday evening reads thus:

"The Dictator arrived here at 4.55 this P. M. The race from Portsmouth was a well contested 50 miles run. The Agamenticus made the distance in five hours and ten minutes, being nearly ten knots an hour. The Dictator was a mile and a half behind her when they arrived off Portland, and should have an allowance of 17 minutes for stoppage on account of the heating of a crank pin. At 2.45 the Dictator hauled off and bore down the bay for a sail, so that the party might arrive at the expected hour, 5 o'clock. The Dictator is somewhat foul and the Agamenticus clean. The vessels are evidently pretty fairly matched for speed. The officers of each claim a decided superiority in sailing."

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS. The following letter from the distinguished Pianist and Organist, ROBERT HELLER, has just been received:

Messrs. MASON & HAMLIN—Gentlemen: I was invited the other evening in Portsmouth to hear some music at the house of a friend, and was astounded on approaching and entering the house to hear the tones of what I supposed, at first, might be the Great Organ in Boston, heard, as my friend A. Ward says, through a piece of smoked glass. I discovered at length that the organ I really heard was one of your Cabinet Organs, and if you have any more like it, do all that you can to make everybody have one in the house. It is absolutely charming. It sings, plays, dances, is melancholy, is everything that human can make it. I thought that my Ghostly Cabinet was a great idea, and so it is, for I can raise the spirits of the defunct, but with your Cabinet you can raise the spirits of the living.

Yours always, ROBERT HELLER.

By an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that A. Pearson is the Agent for the sale of these Organs in this vicinity.

A CURIOUS NOTICE.—The Alleghanians, Vocalists and Swiss Bell Ringers, on their tour round the globe, gave twenty two concerts at Honolulu, Sandwich Islands, with great success. The N. Y. Musical Review copies the following notice from a native paper, in the Hawaiian language:

"NA ALLEGANIANI.—Oia ka Poe Mele a kani Bele—I ka poaono, hora 2 1-2 hana lakou ma ka hale-kula Alii, i mea e hiki ai i na keiki lilii a me na kamalii kula a pau e hele a e lohe ia lakou, a ua piha ka hale i na keiki, na kamalii kula a me na makuahine a lakou no hoi kekahi."

Our readers will bear in mind that this Troupe appears at the Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings, Aug. 18th and 19th. Mr. D. G. Waldron, of this city, who accompanied the troupe round the world, is still with them as Manager.

☞ We are glad to see that the managers of the Portland & Kennebec R. R. have appointed Walter Hatch Master of Transportation of their Road. Mr. Hatch was long and favorably known to travellers over the Eastern R. R. to Portland, and subsequently for many years to the patrons of the P. & K. Road as an energetic and faithful Railroad man; and we are glad to see his talents appreciated by the management of the P. & K. Railroad.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these Stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the sight in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can much cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market price, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croaking of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE COOKING STOVE.

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension oven there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their superior tenuity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 30 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world, and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq., Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Meadum, Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
H. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions; and legal opinion or advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The business practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All inventors, who find a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them the early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDWIN BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. H. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
H. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 18, 1865.

☞ The Daily Copperhead says:

The only at all successful attempt to elevate the negro is what is called slavery. That is: an intelligent, humane and philanthropic gentleman consents to take charge of a certain number of men, women and children, to supply food and raiment, care and counsel for them all, for the labor of a part. This system has worked admirably in the southern States for many years.

Tom Jefferson did not think favorably of these philanthropists—and John Randolph drove the "Soul-driver" from his door. The system worked so admirably as to create a rebellion, and destroy itself thereby.

The same print says:

Look at emancipation everywhere else, with the uniform result of ruin to both races and utter desolation to the country.

The British West Indies are not desolated: nor is either race ruined. Nothing is ruined there but the meanest aristocracy on which the sun ever shone. That is ruined, never to be restored.

The Faneuil Hall meeting on the reorganization of the rebel States, was respectable in size and also in the character of those who participated in its action. They took precisely the same ground that Chas. Sumner took at the commencement of the war—that the general government has a right to do whatever they deem the public good requires within those States. That is the substance of all their arguments; but they do not declare what unavoidably follows from those premises, and what Mr. Sumner has announced—that those States by rebellion committed suicide and are no longer States. That is what they should declare to be consistent. Mr. Sumner's position is the best that has yet been taken by any body on that side; but President Johnson satisfies us in the fullest measure. Exchange.

It is somewhat doubtful whether Pres. Johnson himself will be satisfied with it a great while. It is not of half so much consequence to be consistent as it is to be right. As to the States committing suicide, the figure may be rather too strong;—but does not their case appear something like that of a citizen who has committed a crime? An incendiary sets a town on fire, and we send him to the State Prison; he has lost his powers as a citizen, but has not got clear of his duties. We shut him up and make him work, but we don't let him vote; we tax his property, if he has any, but we don't let him enjoy it. We know that President Buchanan mumbled out something about the U. S. having no right to coerce a State, but nobody troubles himself about that now. The People of this Country demand safety and peace, and when they are satisfied of the right way to get them, they will walk in it. If Constitutions or Laws forbid it, they will alter them.

☞ We notice by a Cincinnati paper of recent date, that Rev. Dr. Rust, formerly of this city, and now President of the Wesleyan Female College,—having completed his Eastern tour, had returned to that city, and is making active preparations in regard to the new year of the College—with increased facilities for that pioneer institution of female learning, now fully equal to any similar school in the land. President Rust is possessed of many pre-eminent qualifications for his post: a ripe scholar and a genial gentleman, he combines with sufficient dignity, the rare faculty of making every one about him feel at home. — Among the several thorough and accomplished teachers connected with the institution, Mr. Richard H. Rust, son of the President, and a recent graduate of the Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn., a young gentleman of the highest order of ability, succeeds to the chair vacated by Prof. Foye.—The trustees of the College intend to commence early in the ensuing Spring, the erection of new and elegant buildings, with all the modern improvements—an edifice that shall honor Methodism, and be an ornament to the Queen City of the West. Q.

MEXICO.—The Tribune's Matamoras correspondent says the late rebel Gen. Shelby has organized a corps of 4000 mounted men for the Mexican service, and is in command of it. The corps is for special border service, and is formed entirely of men in the late rebel army. La Commerce says 10,000 men are to be sent into the country north of Matamoras, under command of Gen. Danai. Many of the ex-rebel officers who went to Mexico are now glad to get back under the old flag.

NEW ENGLAND AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITION.—The preparations for the great Exhibition which is to be made at Concord, in our State, commencing on the 5th of Sept. and continuing four days, are in good progress. In conversation with Mayor Humphrey, one of the Trustees for New Hampshire, a few days since, we learn that the grounds are being fitted up in good style, at an expense of about $3000. About 400 covered pens for horses and cattle are being constructed, and suitable buildings are to be provided for the various departments of the exhibition, which we trust will not only be a credit to Concord and the State, but also to New England.

☞ The counting room of Hamlen & Patten, on Commercial street, Portland, was entered between 12 and 1 o'clock Tuesday night; the safe blown open, and U. S. bonds, money and notes of hand to the value of from $20,000 to $22,000 carried off. On entering the office next morning, Mr. Hamlen found that the safe, a large one, weighing three or four tons, had been blown open with powder, and cleaned out of its contents. The explosion was so severe as to tear off the heavy door, and throw it it with great violence against the partition, about eight feet distant. The robbery was evidently the work of professionals. A jimmy was found on the floor, bright and polished, and newly ground, and a fragment of cigar, showing that the operators took the matter coolly. An investigation showed the manner in which the safe was broken, as follows, the tools being left behind perhaps, as objects of interest: The principal tool used in entering the safe was a wire about 3-16 of an inch in diameter, and 6 inches long, with a lip on one end and a finely-cut thread on the other. This was passed into the key-hole and turned so that the lip held it firm. The lock was then charged with powder. A small plate, large enough to entirely cover the key-hole, was then slipped on the rod, and a nut held it close.

☞ The Richmond Republic of Monday thinks Gen. Lee will not accept the Presidency of Washington College, to which he has recently been elected. The college to which he has been invited is, next to William and Mary, the oldest institution of learning in the State, and was liberally endowed by General Washington during his lifetime. The Republic says that Lee has recently expressed the intention of leasing a farm in Albermarle, and residing upon it with his family.

— It was stated at the temperance convention at Saratoga, that the names of thirteen hundred rich men's daughters in New York are on the list of applicants for admission to the Asylum for Inebriates at Binghampton in that State.

— A recent letter-writer to the New York Herald indulged in poetic ramblings over the picture of Jeff. Davis at his casemate windows at Fortress Monroe, watching the shifting waves of the sea for weary hours of each dragging day; but the pith of his imagery is taken out by the fact that from neither window of Davis's room can the ocean be seen.

— A magazine in Richmond, containing 2000 rounds of shell, shot and rifle cartridges, formerly the property of the rebel government, exploded on the afternoon of the 14th. Fragments of shells were thrown for miles around. Several houses were struck, but the inmates escaped. Many narrow escapes are reported. The origin of the explosion is supposed to have been accidental. It is reported that a member of the 11th U. S. Infantry and a negro were killed by the explosion.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "sauces," "lepines," and "Swiss levers." in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. He was at last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and add, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Principal Agency, Brandreth House, New York. Price, 25 cents per single plaster. Sold by all dealers in Medicines. je23dawlm Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums. Sold by all Druggists, for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

Local.

☞ On Thursday afternoon about half past three o'clock, fire was discovered in a barn on the farm of Charles Hayes, Esq., and before assistance could arrive, the whole building was in flames. The alarm was given in this city a few minutes after its discovery, and three hand engines were sent out, but too late to render any great service, save to prevent its spreading to the adjoining buildings. The origin of the fire is unknown. Mr. Hayes informs us that he came out of the barn about five minutes before the flames were seen bursting from the roof, and thinks no one had been in the barn since the morning. If not the work of an incendiary, it probably caught from the ignition of matches which possibly might have been dropped while stowing the hay, and the intense heat of the sun's rays would have been of sufficient power to have caused them to burn. This conjecture is the more probable from the fact that the fire commenced near the roof. The barn was about 80 feet in length by 50 in width, containing about 75 tons of new hay, besides tools and implements of farming of various descriptions, all of which,—barn and contents—were entirely consumed. There is a partial insurance of $850 on the barn, but none on the hay. Loss about $4000.

The carriage house near by was saved with great difficulty, the wind blowing the flames directly upon it. Not much damage was done to it however, as the engines kept playing upon it all the water they could procure. Great credit is due the firemen for their assiduity in getting to the scene of the conflagration, and for the service there rendered. REP.

For the Chronicle.

☞ A sublime instance of gratitude came to our notice a day or two since, which is worthy of record. On Wednesday evening, as the 5:30 train was leaving the Eastern Depot in this city for Portland, a well-dressed elderly gentlemen stepped aboard, mistaking this train for the one bound for Boston. He discovered his error however just as the train started, and in an attempt to get off caught one foot in some of the gearing of the cars and tumbled headlong. The train was moving at quite a rapid rate when he fell, and but for the presence of mind of a young man who happened to be near by, must have been crushed beneath the wheels of the rolling train. This young gentlemen seized the unfortunate man who was hanging between life and death, and by an almost superhuman effort lifted him up bodily, enabling him to extricate his foot from the place in which it was caught. Such remarkable preservation from instant death would naturally awaken feelings of gratitude in the heart of most people, but this man never uttered a word of thanks or showed the least sign of gratefulness towards him who saved his life. He said nothing except to express a regret that he missed the train, and to inquire "at what hour the next train left for Boston?" It might be hoped that in the excitement of the moment he forgot to thank his preserver, yet this hope is dispelled by the fact of the two having afterwards met at the Rockingham House, and altho' this strange individual was aware that the man who saved his life a few hours before was present he made no allusion to the matter. These statements are strange but true. We did not learn the name of this old man, but we have the name of the other actor and would give it, had he not modestly requested us to withhold it.

Reported for the Chronicle.

POLICE COURT, August 17.—Benj. F. Walker and his companion Amanda E. Walker, for keeping a house of prostitution, were bound over for trial in October in the sum of $300 each. Wm. B. Russell and Augustus Walden, bondsmen. The house of ill fame here referred to is situated on the corner of Water and Charles streets, and as a den of infamy will compare favorably with any "institution" of its kind here or elsewhere. It has long been a place of resort for the low and the vile, and if it has been the object of Mr. and Mrs. W. to keep as filthy an establishment as possible, they have succeeded admirably.

A young man who lacks discretion assaults a young female named Emma Langdon—whose sole object in coming to this city is, to work in the mill, and therefore not such a woman as some would imagine—and gets his pocket-book lessened of $10.86—$7 fine and $3 86 costs.

THE OLD ALLEGHANIANS TO NIGHT. Tickets for Parquette seats are for sale at Preston's and Thacher's Stores, and we are informed that only a limited number will be sold, to prevent a regular crowd. So those wishing should secure seats early. The troupe are very popular, and have in other towns been turning away hundreds nightly from their doors, who could not gain admission to hear them, owing to the crowded state of their halls. The Baptist Register says of the Alleghanians:

We can conscientiously commend the Alleghanians to all lovers of good music and rational, moral amusement. Go to their concerts and take your children. We wish every one to enjoy the pleasure of hearing them.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked " 20 "
Flour Biscuit baked " 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operating over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid good dividends of 7 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and and iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK,

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine the truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron B. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Nise, and others.

July 21st, 1865.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 BEDFORD STREET, BOSTON, on all diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE. By a long course of study and practical experience with unlimited success, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting them for an honorable individual for business or society. Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.—Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receipt of the descriptions of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capotes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three or $1 and a stamp.

Highly Important to Females

IN DELICATE HEALTH.

Dr. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston. Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment. Dr. Dow, since 1846, has his time confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street. Those who need the service of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

P. S.—Dr. Dow imports and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can produce at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
Inventors, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, since full access to all patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can safely employ a person competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such uninkemkable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 19, 1865.

RANDOLPH, CLAY, AND CALHOUN.—Nine and thirty years ago—it was Saturday, April 8, 1826—a memorable duel was fought on the bank of the Potomac. Mr. Calhoun, then Vice President, had permitted and rather encouraged John Randolph to denounce Henry Clay in debate, calling him a gambler and a blackleg. Mr. Clay gave Mr. Randolph an opportunity to explain by writing, to ask whether he intended to call him a political gambler, or to attach the infamy of such epithets to his private life. Mr. Randolph declined any explanation, so, in accordance with the customs of those days, Clay sent him a challenge by Gen. Desup. Randolph accepted, naming Col. Tatnall of Georgia and Major Hamilton of South Carolina as his seconds. Mr. Johnson of Louisiana was selected by Mr. Clay to act with Gen. Desup.

The parties met on the bank of the Potomac, and after exchanging salutations took their stations. Before the word was given, Mr. Randolph's pistol went off accidentally, the hair trigger having been sprung. Another pistol was handed him, and both parties fired at the word, neither shot taking effect.

While Col. Tatnall and Gen. Desup were reloading the pistols, Col. Benton rode up, and united with Mr. Johnson and Major Hamilton to stop hostilities, but in vain. The parties again took their stations, and when the word was given, Mr. Clay fired, his ball passing through Mr. Randolph's coat. Mr. Randolph then fired in the air, saying: "I should not have fired at you, sir, had not my pistol gone off accidentally and changed my determination." Then advancing, he said: "Sir, I give you my hand." "I take it," replied Mr. Clay, and thus ended this famous duel. But Randolph never got over his dislike of the Kentuckian, and gave instructions that when he died, he wished to be buried feet towards the West, that when the Archangel's trumpet sounded he could spring to his feet facing that d——d rascal Henry Clay. I have seen the grave, and the instructions had been obeyed. It is in Charlotte county, Virginia, near where Sheridan's troops have been.

It should be added, for the benefit of young readers, that John Randolph was a crack-brained F. F. V., sarcastic, erratic, quixotic, and so far as men could see, useless; that Clay and Calhoun came into Congress when young men, and joined together in pursuading Pres. Madison to recommend the War of 1812; and that after their separation, Calhoun became the deadly enemy of Clay, as in the case before us, and as in the case of any man or any power over which he could not rule.

☞ The Mississippi Convention met on the 8th. The ablest and most talented men in the State were present. The following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the President appoint a committee of fifteen to inquire and report to this Convention such alterations and amendments in the Constitution of the State that may be proper and expedient to restore the State to its constitutional relations with the Federal Government, and protect the citizens against invasion and domestic rebellion.

Resolved, That two of the committee be appointed to inquire into and report to that body such action as may be proper to be taken in relation to the act of secession adopted and approved January 9, 1861, by a convention of delegates of this State. Also to report what legislation is necessary to be taken in regard to Executive, Legislative and Judicial measures that may have been enacted since the act of secession was passed.

☞ The Providence Journal, announcing the death of Capt. Purkis, in the 80th year of his age, says:

Some of our older readers will remember a gallant deed which he performed in the last war with Great Britain, and which made his name widely known. He was on board a small craft, called the Little Sarah, which, while on her way from Providence to New York, was captured by a British frigate. The other seamen were taken from the vessel, but Purkis was left on board. Four British seamen were put in charge of her, with directions to take her into Halifax. After she was fairly out of the way of the frigate he began to plan a mode of escape. The weather becoming rough, three of the four Englishmen went below to secure the dead lights. He then quickly closed the slide of the companion way and fastened it. The man at the helm sprang upon him, a violent scuffle ensued, and Purkis proved more than a match for his antagonist. He succeeded in binding him, and then steered for Newport, and delivered up his four prisoners to the authorities. He declined to receive any remuneration for his services, but in later years, when misfortunes had come upon him, Congress granted him $700 in consideration of his exploit. In 1849 he was appointed Inspector of Customs at Providence.

A MELANCHOLY AFFAIR.—Daniel S. Ellison, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was drowned Monday evening, at Rye Beach. He had arrived that day, at 12 o'clock, on a visit to his uncle, Rev. Wm. Ross of Rye; and at 6 P. M., while bathing at the beach, and in sight of a relative, he was seen to sink. A lady friend, who was rowing in a boat at the time, hastened to his assistance, but did not succeed in saving him. His body was soon recovered, but life was extinct. He was a most estimable young man, just of age, and had been married about six months.

— The large button factory of Maltby, Morton & Co., in Waterbury, Conn., was totally destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock Friday morning. The building was of wood, three stories high. Loss $60,000, insured $40,000. The fire probably incendiary. A large number of hands are thrown out of employment. The factory is to be immediately rebuilt.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Among smart old men, the Nashua Gazette mentions "Mr. Joel Shattuck, of Pepperell. He is eighty-one years of age and looks as young as a man of 60. He works regularly, and for a man of his years he is very hale and hearty. He was in our office last week. The day previous he cradled grain nearly all the forenoon, and reaped a half an acre of oats in the afternoon."

—— A Mr. Stowes eloped from Burlington, Vt., last week with the wives of three most respected citizens of Nashua. All the women were mistresses of the scamp. They crossed to Canada on a lumber barge, under cover of night. The old Turk was last heard of at St. Leon, C. E., closely pursued by one of the injured husbands. Why didn't he take a dozen or two of "anxious and aimless" and go to Utah?

—— John Hosley, Esq., has been elected by the city government of Manchester as Mayor of that city, to complete the term made vacant by the death of Mayor Daniels.

—— A house and barn in Chichester, belonging to Mrs. Sally Sanborn, were destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

—— The engineers have commenced surveying the route for the new railroad from Goffstown to Keene.

—— The citizens of Bedford are making arrangements to celebrate on the 31st August, the fortieth anniversary of the pastoral labors of Rev. Thomas Savage over the Presbyterian Church in that town, at which time a memorial fund will be presented to Mr. Savage for his long and faithful services as a Christian minister.

—— Eight cases of small pox were discovered in the old Coos Hotel, Lancaster, on Sunday. Forty persons occupied the hotel, and those infected were removed.

—— Dover has received a steam fire engine, built by the Amoskeag Company.

—— Thomas H. Cushing, Esq., a well known bridge builder and contractor of Dover, has been engaged by the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad Co., to build a railroad bridge across the Susquehannah from Havre de Grace to Perryville, a distance of nearly two miles and which it is estimated will cost about $2,000,000. All the trains on this important route have heretofore been ferried across the river on the deck of a steamer.

—— Another fan factory is to be established in Nashua, to be operated by steam.

—— The gentleman who offered the munificent gift of $100,000 for the founding of a free school of industrial science at Worcester, provided the citizens of that place raised $50,000, which they have done and more too, is John Boynton, formerly president of the Miller's River bank at Athol, Mass. Among other liberal donations of Mr. Boynton may be mentioned the gift of $10,000 to his native town, Mason, to found a public library.

—— Under the Militia Law of this State, as amended by the Legislature of 1865, there was authorized a company of N. H. Volunteer State Militia (Infantry), to be located at Dover, and designated the "Granite State Zouaves." The organization will be William Mellen, Captain, Chas. Stackpole, First Lieut., Henry Tatner, Second Lieut.

☞ The following named gentlemen were nominated at Alfred, Me., on Thursday the 17th of Aug., as candidates for election in the ensuing election in York County; State Senator, Western District, Nathaniel Hobbs of North Berwick; Eastern District, —— Weld of Buxton; Northern District, Jeremiah Mason of Sanford, County Treasurer, Sylvester Littlefield of Alfred; County Commissioner, Thomas Quimby of Saco.

— Four roughs assailed an inoffensive man on Eliot street, in Boston. Finally, fearing further violence, the assaulted man made a bold stand, and, drawing his pocket knife, went in on the offensive, and vigorously using the weapon, inflicted no less than six stabs on the body of one of the roughs, and two stabs on the body of another, at which the assaulters all took flight.

— About $23,000 of the $30,000 required to build the new Universalist school is already subscribed and in the hands of the committee of location, which consists of Eliphalet Trask of Springfield, Mass., Rev. Dr. Miner of Boston, Mass., and Rev. Mr. Bailey, of Lebanon, N. H.

— A fellow known as "Old Jim Smith," who had been a leader in outrages on Union men in Tennessee, was recently arrested near Nashville. The Sheriff stepped aside to give some curious persons an opportunity to look at the outlaw, and instantly seven bullets went buzzing thro' Old Jim Smith's body.

— The Providence Journal speaks of a squash vine in that city which grows 18 inches daily, and at last account was 60 feet long. It will soon get beyond the limits of the State.

— Pliny Moody of South Hadley, Mass., killed a large snake recently, and found inside it 33 young ones, each alive and about 8 inches long.

PORTLAND, Aug. 18th, 1865.

Confiding ourselves to the care of that model conductor, Payson Tucker, we arrived in good order in the Forest City last evening. The P. S. & P. R. R. Depot, which lost its head-house by fire a few months since, is being repaired to last for this winter, when it is proposed to build a station house to meet the wants of this important terminus.

The Vanderbilt and Dictator, lying at anchor down the harbor, are being visited by lots of people to-day, steamers making excursions to the men-of-war with visitors. Notwithstanding the rumor that Wood's hotel was to be completed, I cannot yet hear the sound of axe, hammer or tool of iron about the premises. It may be that, like King Solomon's Temple, the several parts will fit exactly without the aid of tools. But I fear the completion of this structure has been too long delayed for such a result. The political cauldron has begun to warm in Maine. The candidates of the several parties, Gov. Cony, Republican and Judge Howard, Democratic, have been re-nominated, the former for an election, but the Judge will of course come out second best.

It is a singular fact that the policemen of Portland now and then "take something." Yesterday several blue-coated gentlemen were seen going through the streets with bottles containing liquors supposed to be intoxicating in their nature, which they had seized. Doubtless the late possessor of the liquor thought the police officers "took a drop too much" for the good of the man of the shop.

Among the live men in which this energetic city abounds is John Lynch, Representative to Congress elect from the First District. Mr. Lynch is a merchant and a good business man, and one can but hope that in his Congressional career he will be more fortunate than his predecessors Wood and Somes, and not permit politics to spoil his business operations. I notice lots of Portsmouth people in town—among others your former aid, Thompson, who has lots of friends Down East. There is an unfinished iron-clad afloat near the Railroad Bridge, looking as if the Government would ere long bleed for her cost. She is built by a contractor. OCCASIONAL.

— Sec. Harlan, at Washington, in a serenade speech, said of Pres. Johnson:

If, then, we as Union men have no cause to complain of the President for anything which we could not allege with equal force against his predecessor, let us see that we give him no cause to break with us.

— A Washington dispatch says the court for the trial of Wirtz is being reconstructed, and three Major-Generals will be added. Letters from soldiers in all parts of the country, offering to testify, continue to pour in.

— Mrs. Dolly Pendleton, who died in Norwich the other day, at the age of 90, was born, married, died, in the same house, and never lived in any other. She had 62 years of happy married life, and leaves an aged husband.

— A Paris correspondent says the Queen of Spain and her Prime Minister are not on good terms. A strong republican feeling exists among the officers of the army and a revolution may be considered as imminent.

— Ford's Theatre, in Washington, is to be altered into a fire-proof safe, for storing the records and archives of the rebellion, at a cost of $28,500. A fit use for the spot where "one of the foremost men in all the world" was murdered by base conspirators.

— A small earthquake shook Tennessee and Mississippi on Thursday morning. A larger earthquake of the moral order seems desirable in these same States, about this time.

— A Washington dispatch says Maj. Herod, of the 6th Illinois cavalry, who was sentenced to be hanged, has had his sentence commuted to 10 years in the Albany Penitentiary.

— A new sort of "stand up drinks" has been introduced in Sprinfield. A bar-room is now opened where nothing is sold but pure iced milk, by the glass. The business has proved very profitable to its proprietor, and might be introduced elsewhere.

— A new way of apologizing for averted face:—"Excuse my back; it must not be taken as af*front.*" The new style of bonnet helps matters some. It don't make much difference which way ladies sit!

— In Tennessee it appears that 6 Union congressmen are chosen, and 2 "conservatives." These latter people, we suppose, seeing slavery cannot be saved, will try to save something as near like it as possible.

— G. B. Hubbel was again successful in the fourth match for the billiard championship of Connecticut at Hartford on Wednesday.

— New Orleans is reported unusually lively, and never before so prosperous in summer.

— In Kentucky we perceive somebody guesses, or hopes for, a Union majority; but we doubt it.

— The Ohio Democratic Convention nominated Alex. Long for Governor, and passed "strong state sovereignty resolutions."

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "ancres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named F. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, cured it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Principal Agency, Brunswick House, New York. By the yard or single plaster. Sold by all dealers in Medicines. je29dawlm Burno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Recommended by Surgeons, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address, DR. S. DURNO, P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

Local.

☞ The "Philharmonic" Excursion, on Thursday afternoon and evening, was pronounced by all to be well up in time and tune. The steamer took the Society and friends, about 300, up to Dover Point—a charming sail, all too short—where the afternoon and evening were spent in lounging, walking, bowling, rowing, singing, and what not, so that all had a good time. Among the guests we were glad to notice, with other musical gentlemen, the former President of our old Forte. Sacred Music Soc'y, and the President of the Dover Mozart Soc'y, who expressed themselves well pleased with the impromptu performances of the Philharmonics. Mr. Day, as usual, directed the choir, and Miss Emery was pianist. About sixty hot suppers and good were served in the hotel; and the larger portion of the company pic nicked on the lawn, enjoying the glorious sunset. "The journey home" was musical enough—and we shouldn't wonder if the Philharmonic should be heard of again ere long.

☞ On Thursday last, a horse, buggy and harness were stolen from a private stable in Kittery, in the middle of the afternoon. The thief entered the stable and taking out the horse harnessed him into a carriage—to obtain which he was obliged to remove four or five other carriages,—doing it with as much coolness as though he owned the team; in fact, his audacity saved him from being caught, as two or three persons saw him, but supposing it was all right, thought nothing more of the matter until inquiry was made by the owner for his horse. The buggy and harness belonged to a Mr. Fernald of Eliot, and the horse was owned by Mr. Elias Remick of Kittery, the stable in which the team was kept being used by Navy Yard workmen to put up their horses.

The thief came thro' this city, beyond which no traces have as yet been found of him. It is strongly suspected that the sudden disappearance of the son of a gentleman of Kittery has some connection with the matter, but we withhold particulars for a few days.

☞ Ice would seem to be getting scarce and low in this city, though the price is not so low—judging from the fact that some of our butchers are unable to procure their stock of the crystal at 40 and even 50 cents per 100 lbs., and have been obliged to send to Portland and import the same of late.

☞ Maj. Hackett will sell at auction, at 12 o'clock to-day, some Pews in the North Church. We are told that there is quite a demand for seats in this Church, and the sale presents an opportunity to any one to obtain a pew, as the sale is to be positive.

☞ The Method'st Camp Meeting at Epping is to commence next Monday, and continue through the week. Trains on the C. P. Railroad, will leave Portsmouth four times a day. See advertisement.

☞ Mr. P. A. Collins, of the Fenian Brotherhood, is to deliver a free lecture at Union Hall, this (Saturday) evening at half-past 7.

☞ The Alleghanians gave "a ringer" of a Concert last night, and will "shake 'em up" once more to-night. A musical correspondent gives a few notes on the performances, elsewhere in the "Local."

☞ Our reporter should have stated that Mr. Hayes' barn was insured $1600, and the contents $600. With regard to the origin of the fire, but little notice seems to be given the fact that a train passed along within a few rods of the premises about half an hour previous.

☞ To-day is the last chance to get 4 per cent. discount on City taxes. Also to save discount on linen goods, &c., at Wendell's auction store. See advertisement.

A "WATER TAKER" suggests in a Communication, the necessity of an immediate and thoro' repair of the platforms, cisterns, coverings, &c., at the Fountain Head of the Aqueduct.

☞ The usual Services will be held in the Christian Chapel, Court St., to-morrow.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Rockingham Association of Universalists was held at Kingston on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 16 and 17. There was a full attendance on both days, and the exercises were of much interest and pleasure to the assembly. Eleven ministers were present, including two of other denominations. Sermons were preached by Rev. Messrs. Goodrich of Pawtucket, R.I., Hanson of Haverhill, Mass., Twiss of Lowell, Mass., and Adams of Providence, R. I.

THE GREAT NEW YORK FRAUD.—The N. Y. Commercial says Ketchum, Son & Co. have made an assignment to P. C. Calhoun, President of the 4th National Bank, and Mr. Bement, formerly partner in the firm of Ketchum, Rogers & Bement. The house and furniture of Edward Ketchum have been seized by the sheriff.

GOLD, Friday, 142 1-2.

THE ALLEGHANIANS.—The Concert of this Troupe of Songsters and Swiss Bell Players on Friday evening was a decided success; and to give a full criticism of these world-renowned artists would be intrenching too largely upon our crowded columns. But suffice it to say that in their years of practice together they have reached that degree of perfection of harmony and vocal ability which always characterizes the educated artist. Their hearts, as well as their tongues, seem set to music, and consequently their programme becomes a discourse, scarcely less eloquent than musical. Miss Hiffert, the leading alto, is a lady of queenly presence, with a voice of great power, and an impassioned energy of manner. Miss Jenner, the soprano, has a voice of peculiar sweetness and melody, beautifully adapted to the delicate graces of song. Mr. Boulard, the basso, and Mr. Fernald (a late assistant to the troupe) appeared to advantage in their rich, glowing quartettes and choruses. Mr. Galloway—well, we have to laugh at the mere mention of his name, for he is inimitable in his serio-comic role. "Laughing helps digestion" is the old adage, and we believe that Mr. G. was worth a "pound of physic" to the audience. The music of the Swiss Bells was charming, and remarkably well performed. On the whole, the Alleghanians' concert was an excellent one, and we advise all who could not attend last evening to go to-night, this being their farewell here, on which occasion they give an entire change of programme.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16.

When in 1492 Christopher Columbus set sail from Genoa,—had he been "posted," instead of pushing his bowsprit in at Salvador, he would have gone direct to Pier Wharf, and taken on board a goodly number of those nice girls (whose names should appear here, only I think my good looks somewhat dependant on my hair remaining on my head,) for a sail "down river;" or else with Mr. Tucker, who was born at the same time, (of course we mean "Old Dan,") would have taken the "Pioneer" for a Moonlight Excursion to the Shoals. Note: Parties getting up Excursions will find it adds to the excitement to engage a first-class thunder squall and some very good advice, to accompany the Band.

But Columbus not knowing the customs of the country, missed a heap of fun, which we didn't—the memory of which will always be most pleasant. There were no sour grapes or frozen apples,—but all was "sunshine and flowers for aye"—for which somebody ought to be thankful, and especially the young ladies. * * * River Picnics, Moonlight Pioneering, Greenland Festival, Beach Rides, etc. * * * All of this is glorious, and its re-enjoyment we shall not miss, unless it be that we can't find a moon, a beach, a horse and buggy and a girl.

We were pleased to find Portsmouth in so good trim—in town, the street grades and residences; and out, the forts, Navy Yard and hotels,—a pleasure we re-enjoy in part from some new photographic views which Messrs. Davis sent me by mail this morning.

We wish somebody would paint the "Ocean House" pink, or green; have the river tide changed in three hours, instead of six; publish the Chronicle twice a day; buy up a good-sized prairie out West to put under a brown stone house; have a handsome statue placed on the Haymarket Square; regulate the city clocks and the sun, so as to make the halcyon days of vacation longer; keep the girls unmarried;—and in the bright and cheery hereafter which may come to all of us who strive for, and deserve it,

"We'll take a cup of kindness yet,
For Auld Lang Syne." N.

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 20 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

Coal at Cost.

The Eagle Hill Mutual Coal Company.

The subscriber has succeeded in obtaining a limited number of shares in this popular Company, which has proved such a success in Boston and vicinity, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of Portsmouth to obtain their coal at a saving of three or four dollars per ton. COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid a dividend of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fine or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

LOAFERS.—The Indianapolis correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial comes down with a ponderous blow upon a class of gapers and idlers too common in that as well as in our own city. We know there is many a lady who will thank us for reproducing it here, in hopes it may bring a blush to the cravens who are guilty of such ungentlemanly practices. Hear him:

There is nothing unlawful in a crowd of smoking, expectorating, staring, swearing hipods, who, with hands in pockets and backs carelessly leaned against the nearest wall, take birds'-eye views of all passers-by, paying particular attention to the jaunty little hats and trim coats, or rather to the faces under the one and the forms inclosed in the other; no, nothing unlawful, but something highly offensive and disagreeable. Whatever may be the private calling of these gentry, they are all tailors, morally speaking, as they are constantly making breaches of good manners.

To bring a blush to the cheek of innocence; offend good taste; make virtuous ears tingle with shame and indignation, and quicken the pace of timid women; these are the special triumphs of these bands of loafers, dressed in shoes, and these their daily pastime. If only the draft had blessed them with a call, if they could but be put to some rational use—these idlers, these drones in the hive of society—what a happiness it would be. But, blow high or blow low, rain or shine, there they are, a formidable phalanx of wickedness; a dreaded battery of profanity; a staring, ogling, impudent troop, that any decent, well-bred woman would rather go a mile round to avoid, than to run the gauntlet of their insulting eyes, and loose, unmanerly tongues.

WOULDN'T BITE.—A witty clergyman had been lecturing one evening in a country village on the subject of temperance, and, as usual, after the lecture, the pledge was passed around for signatures.

"Pass it along that way," said the lecturer, pointing towards a gang of bloated and red-nosed loafers near the door. "Pass it along—perhaps some of those gentlemen would like to join our cause."

"We don't bite at a bare hook," gruffly muttered one of the rummies.

"Well," replied the ready clergyman, "I believe there is a fish called suckers that do not bite."

"Want to see Grant mighty bad, do you?" said a blue-coated veteran to the people crowding aboard the cars the other morning, on their way to the capital to get a squint at our famous General. "Well, why in thunder didn't you come down to the front, when he wanted to see you, hey?"—Waterville Mail.

— Punch's cartoon represents a flock of mermaids sporting with the Atlantic cable line. Old Neptune shouts from the bank: "Aho-o-o-o oy there! get off o' that 'ere cable, can't yer—that's the way t'other one was wrecked!!"

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agents of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unexpressed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given show that more of my Patents were SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGE AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, AUGUST 21, 1865.

MISSISSIPPI.—In the State Convention, an ordinance ratifying all judicial proceedings in the courts, including judgments, decrees, deeds and indictments, also ratifying all marriages, contracts, and sales, also ratifying all State laws, was passed to a third reading.

A memorial, which was adopted to be presented to the President of the United States, praying him not to garrison the State with negro troops, was referred to Gen. Osterhaus to be by him forwarded to the President. A memorial was also presented praying that steps be taken in behalf of Jefferson Davis and Governor Clark.

An ordinance prohibiting the Legislatnre from imposing any civil disability or punishment or forfeiture of estate upon any person engaged in the late war with the United States, or for political opinions occasioned thereby, was also passed to a first reading.

Not a very promising kind of reconstruction.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The New York Times's Washington dispatch says pardons are freely sent in, indorsed by the Governors of Mississippi, Virginia, Alabama and North Carolina. Gov. Johnson of Georgia is not so ready to indorse the applications.

Maj. Castleman and Lieut. Mounford, rebel spies, arrested Friday night, have been paroled to leave the country and never return.

A member of the late rebel Congress has come with a letter from Gov. Pierpont, recommending the withdrawal of colored troops from Virginia, because they are obnoxious to loyal Virginians. The order for withdrawal has not yet been issued.

The Herald's dispatch says the opinion is confidently expressed that the Government will not undertake the trial of Wirtz, but cause him to give State's evidence in the approaching trial of Jeff. Davis, whereby it will be proved that Davis was the direct and prime instigator of cruelties to Union prisoners.

Telegrams received from Gen. Pope enclose the announcement by Gen. Sully that there is no doubt a permanent peace can be secured with the Sioux and Cheyennes Indians.

☞ A New York colonel, for drunkenness and cheating the Government and his men, has been sentenced by court martial "to be cashiered and dishonorably dismissed the service of the United States, forfeiting all pay and allowance now due or that may hereafter become due, and that he be fined the sum of $10,000, and be confined at hard labor at Fort Warren, in Boston Harbor, for the period of three years, and also that he be forever disqualified from holding any office of honor, trust, or profit, under the Government of the United States." The President has approved the action of the court martial in his case.

GOLD, Saturday, 144. Sent to Europe, $200,000.

— Accounts from Mexico favor the Liberals.—The freedmen in Texas work well for fair employers.

— Twenty-five planters are under arrest at Vicksburg, all charged with either maltreating or willfully killing their former slaves.

— A Catholic curate at Seville, Spain, denounced the electric telegraph, railways, and the substitution of steam power for hand labor, as "the devilish devices of Satan to aid Protestants in the perversion of modern society."

— A scamp named Frank N. Case, who had recently been convicted of having married ten wives, all living, and of being on the point of marrying the eleventh, committed suicide by hanging himself in the jail at Cedar Fall, Iowa, on Friday morning.

— The mackerel catch has been large so far this season, and is still growing larger and the fish better. It is well to put these facts on record, as they will not be learned at the fish markets.

— The property of Hagar & Ludering, of Richmond, has been libelled for confiscation. They are immensely rich, and did the entire bank note engraving for the rebels.

PHYSIOLOGICAL PHENOMENA.—An army correspondent writes:

In the army, and among returned soldiers, I have noted one fact, in particular, somewhat at variance with usual theories. It is that light haired men, of the nervous, sanguine type, stand campaigning better than the dark haired men, of bilious temperament. Look through a raw regiment, on its way to the field, and you will find fully one half its members to be of the black haired, dark skinned, large boned, bilious type. See the same regiment on its return for muster out, and you will find that the black haired element has melted away, leaving at least two-thirds, perhaps three-fourths, of the regiment to be represented by red, brown and flaxen hair. It is also noticed that men from the cities, slight, to appearance and apparently at the outset unable to endure fatigue and privation, stand it better and campaign much better than men from the agricultural districts. A thin, pale looking dry goods clerk will do more marching and starving than many a brawny plowboy who looks muscular enough to take a rail by the middle and throw him over a staked and ridered fence.

NOTES OF A TRIP TO NEW BRUNSWICK.

Mr. Editor:—I promised that I would tell you something of my excursion to New Brunswick, but the trip was so full of enjoyment that I feel conscious I cannot do justice to the subject. The trip to St. John is an exceedingly pleasant and agreeable one,—is made by the steamers of the International Steamship Line, which leave Boston and Portland semi-weekly for Eastport and St. John. The boat leaves Portland at 5 P. M., and on going on board and securing a state room, one takes a look at the natural seaport—on which our Uncle is spending so much in improved fortifications—with much interest. Eaton, the business-like agent at Portland, has given us a good state-room, and we sit down presently to a capital supper. Bluenoses and Yankees play the international game of knife and fork with singular ability, and as Portland Light disappears in the dim distance, so do the heavy and light viands on the well-supplied table of the "New York" "go down" before the attacking party,—some of whom have had their appetites sharpened by a day's sail, and others by a mean dinner at Portland. The steamer New York was formerly on this route, and for some years during the rebellion was in government service. She is now in capital order, and is a favorite boat—commanded by Capt. Chisholm, who understands his business.

Supper over, with a bright moonlight night, we take out our mear—but stop! I must bear in mind that no one connected with your establishment is allowed to smoke—we sit on the deck and watch the fleets of fishermen and various craft gracefully dancing over the ocean's swell. We stay up until we have passed the "New Brunswick", gaily lit with signals, and retire to a comfortable berth, in the full confidence that the experience of Capt. Pike, the pilot, will guarantee a safe night's rest.

We reach Eastport in good season in the morning, going through the narrows, the fog kindly absenting itself, so that we get a good view of Campo Bello. Eastport is a smart place. The fire of last season has given an opportunity for new buildings that are going up in its principal streets. Every one that has ever been at Eastport knows Robt. Mowe, jr., the great business man of the town. What Mowe does not know of business in that latitude, is not worth knowing. We found here our friend Sam'l D. Leavitt, a Hampton boy, who, since Bion Bradbury has vacated, does the law trade in Eastport. Our experience is, that the American Telegraph Co. might pick up a better informed and more gentlemanly telegraph operator than it can boast of in the present incumbent at E., a suggestion that we hope Morris Ketchum will act upon when he gets over his present slight difficulties.

After discharging and loading immense quantities of freight, we are off for St. John, which place is reached early in the afternoon. The individual who offered to bet that "all St. John's" would be on the wharf at our arrival would have lost the bet. There were not over a thousand spectators present. The hackmen pressed us on all sides to accept their excellent conveyances. Having had some experience in conveyancing, we accepted the offer of one who was known to our fellow voyager Perkins, and rode to the Waverly, where we were welcomed by the proprietor with true English hospitality. It having been soon noised about that we were in town, we were waited upon by Mr. Samuel Austin, of Turner's American Express, (one of the great institutions of St. John,) and invited to ride about the city and suburbs in his carriage, an offer which of course we at once accepted.

St. John is a city set upon a hill. It consequently has excellent opportunities for drainage; and fine streets are maintained throughout the city, while the roads leading into the country are kept in first rate order. It has many public and private buildings of fine appearance, evincing taste in architecture, coupled with ability to keep pace with the age. The people are generous and hospitable, and are on the most friendly terms with those of the States. We made an early call on your friend Ellis of the Daily Globe, whom we found hard at work in his sanctum. He gets out a good paper, popular in New Brunswick, and does a large amount of hard work to produce this result.

The Suspension Bridge, over the St. John River, is a noble structure, and its inspection well repaid our visit thither.

The European & North American Railroad commences here and runs towards Halifax. It is under government management. Its thorough construction and well-furnished rolling stock evince the care that is shown in these matters by the British people. The tide rises here about 21 feet. At low tide the waters of the river St. John are about 12 feet higher than those of the harbor; at high tide the waters of the harbor are about 5 feet higher than those of the river, and the strange sight of a fall outward and inward at every tide is here seen.

Shipbuilding has been extensively carried at St. John. In ordinary years 100,000 tons of shipping have been built in one season, but at present there is but about 30,000 tons in course of construction.

The merchants here have pleasant recollections of generous commissions for deal freights paid by Portsmouth ship owners, although but few Portsmouth ships have of late visited their harbor.

When gold was first at a premium in the States, quite a business was done in exchanging silver for New Brunswick bank notes; and as these banks, unlike ours, pay specie for their notes, the bills went into the banks and gold was paid out in lieu of them, but this affair soon corrected itself; and the going rates of gold are as well known daily, and are of as much commercial importance as in New York, and greenbacks are exchanged for gold or New Brunswick bank notes in large quantities by those who wish to use money in the Province.

The country around St. John seems to be well cultivated, and the rich crop of hay being gathered would lead one to infer that it will not cost much to keep a horse in that region the coming winter.

Loch Lomond, a beautiful sheet of water about a dozen miles from the city, is much visited by the Saints John in the summer, and on its surface boating is largely enjoyed. By its shore Ben Lomond, a beautiful mountain, rears its green sides. This place is celebrated for the size and flavor of its trout. It is stated—but with how much truth we know not—that on one occasion a Conductor of the Eastern Railroad ate over a hundred trout at one sitting, at the Ben Lomond House! I know that such fellows generally run full, and take all that offer to go on board, but I am inclined to believe that this a mere fish story.

There are lakes between this lake and the city, which furnish St. John with water by means of an aquaduct; but from the appearance of a large number of the shops where mountain dew is sold, one would imagine that cold water was not the only beverage used in the Province.

But the time arrives for our departure, and we again embark upon the steamer. The plank is hauled in, the last passenger jumps on board, and the last lounging man that is not going in the boat is sent ashore. We steam rapidly for Eastport. No matter for fogs. Capt. Pike and the Engineer can tell by time and revolutions of engine just where we are, as well as the old Nantucket skipper could tell his whereabouts by tasting the mud on his sounding lead.

Eastport is again reached. We load with innumerable boxes of herring. We go to the Custom House, and see him of the Sentinel standing sentry over the lines of Uncle Sam, exacting duty of every one bringing goods into the States. The passengers' baggage going to Eastport, examined previously by the U. S. Custom House officer from Portland, is sent ashore, and we are off for the Forest City. A good English fog hugs Campo Bello, as if it feared she would be seized by the "Americans," and annexed without as much as saying "by your leave." We have a fine night, every one says. Songs are sung on the deck, and a smooth sea keeps every one well. Another good night's sleep, and we awake bright and early in the morning, off Portland, getting in before breakfast time. Here we take the cars for Portsmouth, and after an absence of four days find ourselves again at home, well pleased with our international excursion.

THE CABLE.—The first telegraphic despatch received from Aspy Bay about the Atlantic cable, on Tuesday morning, was to the effect that a large vessel gaily decorated was in sight coming into that harbor. In the depression which succeeded the later news brought by the schooner First Fruit, the telegraphic people forgot to explain the phenomenon, and some speculation has been excited as to what it could be. A theory, which a New York reporter heard a certain foreigner expounding to his comrades bears an air of probability. The foreigner remarked:

"Aw! blarst it, gentlemen, the fact is you see, that, that, big ship with ball them flags, which beverybody thought was the Great Heastren, turns hout to 'ave been nothing more or less than a small fishing smack, with the red shirt of one of the fishermen hung up in the rigging to dry, and which hall those hapes at Haspy Bay mistook for the woyal ensign. Aw! ha, ha! Postively demme!"

☞ The Anglo-Rebel Pirate Shenandoah has recently been burning more whaleships in the Pacific ocean, and is in pursuit of a fleet of 60 sail, at the north. The master of this pirate should be made to walk a plank,—and then we'have a small oil bill to present to Mr. Bull.

— The Richmond election was set aside by the military authorities, because the votes of those Virginians who had served in the rebel armies were received, while the ballots of those who had served in the Union armies were rejected, on the plea that the latter were not residents.

— The Sharp's rifle factory at Hartford was entirely closed on Saturday night, for the first time since it has been in operation. All the Government contracts have been filled.

☞ Several counterfeit one dollar United States notes were recently presented to the Treasury office for redemption, but were readily detected by experts in that bureau. There were numerous counterfeit fifty dollars, but none, so far as known, of the denomination of one thousand, five hundred and two hundred dollars. All the others are counterfeited.

— Nearly ten thousand acres of land have been leased to colored people near Vicksburg this year, and most of it is under successful cultivation.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "anchors," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been laid up for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, you knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months the knee was perfectly cured.

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the disease arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1256, New York City.

POLICE COURT, August 19th.—Addie Jenkins and Abbey Davis, for night-walking, sentenced to the House of Correction for 30 days, and pay costs $5.74 each. Appealed. Wm. H. Dennett and Wm. H. Allen, bondmen.

☞ Admiral Joseph Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, visited the Navy Yard on Saturday from the Shoals, where he is spending a short season. He was saluted at the Navy Yard on his arrival by a battalion of marines under command of Lieut. H. J. Bishop, and then escorted to the Commandant's office. After stopping a few hours he returned to the Shoals.

☞ Hon. Aaron H. Cragin, U. S. Senator, was in this city on Saturday and visited the Navy Yard, in company with other distinguished gentlemen.

☞ The steamer Portfire at the Navy Yard, which was sent out to the Appledore House, Smith's Isles, on Saturday morning for Admiral Smith, made her return trip just inside of one hour, which isn't bad when we take into account the fact that her boilers foamed badly from using salt water, thus rendering it impossible to obtain much over forty lbs. of steam,—sixty being the average pressure. She was not designed particularly for speed, but she cannot be beaten so easily as one might imagine from a cursory inspection. If any one in this vicinity owning a steamer doubts this just pick her up some time, and try her for about ten miles.

☞ Read the item headed "Loafers," on our first page.

☞ Our Police Court Reporter visited the Shoals on Saturday, and was received with the usual salute of two or three guns. He gives his opinion of these islands in detail, from which we have been permitted to make a few extracts.

"This barren but healthy locality has charms which no animal can fullly appreciate save a first-class poet, of which we saw many on our passage out. (A small boy used as a deck hand said they were porpoises, but we know better.) The rocks at the Shoals, of which there are many, are very hard, much harder than some men's heads, and a few that are heavier. The water in the vicinity of the islands is of a quiet, pensive blue color, deriving its pensiveness from the many thought-less mermaids, which can be seen with the aid of a piece of smoked glass almost any day sportively frisking about in the placid waters.—It was told us by an exceedingly unhealthy looking individual that these amphibious creatures are dangerous. They cast furtive glances at us, and thinking they had some evil designs, we hurled them back.—Our sick looking friend regarded it as a skillful strategic defence of the reporter's morals. * * We were never so fully impressed with the unreasonableness of Old Neptune (whom we met when about half way out) as upon this occasion. From our long interview with him we are fully persuaded that he is an insatiate customer. * * Coming in, we ogled, with a pair of powerful glasses, Whale's Back lighthouse, for the purpose of discovering the horse which the man from Concord (who a few years since was appointed keeper of that light) drove over to this sequestered spot, from Rye Beach. Failing to discern anything of the kind we kindly inquired of a bystander concerning the gentlemen from the country, and were informed that he relinquished his attempt on account of the wet condition of the road, and concluded to wait until the heavy rains had subsided.

* * * On entering the harbor we fished up a piece of manuscript, and upon drying the water-soaken sheets found them covered with verses the subject being "An Ode to the Sea," and it occurred to us that the writer must have been sea-sick and being of a vindictive nature, owed the sea a grudge. Copies of the above poem can be obtained by enclosing a 5 cent revenue stamp for return postage, and forwarding it to the office.

A NATIONAL BABY.—A correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin is responsible for the following:

It is not too late to record an interesting incident that occurred at the illumination on the evening of the Fourth of July, which a legal friend (good authority) and a judge in such matters, related to us as happening under his own eye. He was enjoying the lights and shadows of the occasion, perhaps listening to the melody of some fair one by his side, when, loud as Biddy bewailing her lost heir, came these notes of grief—

"My God! where is the mother of this baby? I don't want a baby. Good woman, come, take your child. Where is she? What shall I do? There, now! Stop your squalling, you little brat! Poor little thing!

Our friend stepped up to learn the cause of this strange outcry.

"A woman, a perfect stranger to me," said the speaker, "handed me the baby to hold for just one moment, and, be jabers, she was gone in a moment, and never came back at all—and what shall I do with a baby?"

"Keep it," shouted out a sympathizing friend, "it will be worth a thousand dollars to you."

"Get married," said another, "it will be a good start."

"Go to housekeeping; it is a good thing to have in a family."

"Who'll take this baby? Who wants a baby? I can't keep this ——thing!"

Just then, as the air was lighted by the glare of a rocket, a young couple who had manifested an unwonted interest in the matter, attracted the attention of the possessor of the baby. The moistened eye and quivering lip of the female showed how her woman's heart was working and yearning over the abandoned little one; and to them, with the quick instinct of the Green Isle, the holder of this treasure trove addressed himself:

"Are you married?"

"Yes."

"Got any children?"

"No."

"Take this baby, then."

"I don't want a baby," replied the husband.

"But I present it to you gratis."

"But I tell you I don't want it."

"Why, it's a good baby—a bran new baby. See it's little teeth. Never saw a better baby. There, now, little pet!"

"Take it, James, dear," whispered the wife; and her appeaking look went to the heart of her husband, and won for this cast-off waif of humanity a home, and for these twain something to live for—something to love in this vale of tears. May Heaven's choicest blessings crown their lives and brighten all their future.

Morning Chronicle.

A LITTLE TOO RIPE.—As many of our readers are doubtless aware, it is the custom for the planters at the South to purchase clothing for their slaves by the wholesale; and, as of course they have not the opportunity to examine closely each article, they are sometimes swindled, by a few bad ones being thrown in among the good. An acquaintance of ours tells us that on one occasion he laid in a box of shoes, and distributed them among the negroes. A few days afterwards, "Old Bob," a favorite servant, found that the shoes that had fallen to his lot were bursting out. So, going to his master, he said:

"Massa, where you buy dese shoes?"

"I bought them in New Orleans, Bob," responded our friend.

"Well, where did the New Orleans people buy 'em?"

"They bought them from the people up North. They bought them from the Yankees."

"Well, what do de Yankees get 'em?" persisted the negro.

"The Yankees?—why, they pick them off of trees, Bob."

"W-w-w-ell," responded the darkey, holding up his shoes, "I reck'n de Yankees didn't pick dese pair soon enough, massa; I reck'n he waited till—till—till dey was a little too ripe."—Exchange.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies. It has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, and has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a selection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1865.

☞ Nowhere has the cloven foot been more unmistakable stuck out, than in Mississippi and Virginia. In Mississippi, the convention petition the president, not to garrison that State with Negro Troops, and in Virginia Gov. Pierpont asks the president to remove the negro troops, because they are obnoxious to the loyal citizens! Now why do we need garrisons there at all? Only to keep ex-rebels in order. Must we, to please these very rebels or their friends, take away the U. S. black troops;—if so, whom must we send? Must we keep in service our northern young men, away from their homes, away from their native climate, and away from their work? No: we must get them home as soon as they can be spared. What then? shall we enlist as soldiers, the rebels just paroled from Jeff. Davis' bands of robbers, and trust them to keep loyal whites and blacks in order? We trow not. But we can get the blacks, who are loyal, and who were born in that climate, and have friends and families there, to enlist in the U. S. regular army, and garrison the South, under good officers. It will be the cheapest and best way,—and probably the way. It is neither common nor proper to let paupers choose the overseers of the poor, or to let prisoners appoint the jailer.

MISTAKES CORRECTED.—Some papers have asserted that the young Ketchum thief was, at least in profession and pretence, a religious man and a Republican: but he was neither. He was not a communicant in any church, and of no more than average repute for morals:—and the journals which have called young Ketchum "a loyal leaguer," are answered by the statement of the Chicago Journal that this fast individual kept open house in that city, and made a great splurge during the sessions of the convention which nominated McClellan. So it seems the sensation papers lie under a mistake or otherwise.

UTTERLY FALSE.—The New York Express, in a bitter tirade against Boston says:

A man is not a man in Boston, unless he thinks like Wendell Phillips & Co. There is no toleration to men of other faiths, religions or politics.

It would be difficult, says Uncle Toby, to make a statement farther from the truth than the above item. Not more than one man in a hundred in Boston, agrees with Wendell Phillips' faith or religion; and very few agree with him in politics.

SUFFRAGE.—Only three States give the suffrage to white and blacks on equal terms and without limitations. These are Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire.—Exch.

Massachusetts gives equal suffrage to white and black: the limitations of it are to those who can read and write, and who have paid the last year's tax,—and these limitations are alike for all colors.

— The ALLEGHANIANS give their opening concert in St. Johns, N. B., this evening.

— The walls of Rome are in many places so antiquated and decayed that they fall to ruin of themselves. On the 18th ult., between the Porta San Paolo and the Porta San Sebastiano, the wall toppled down to the extent of thirty metres.

— The excess of expenditures of the Canadian government over its receipts for the last year was $868,934. A Canadian exchange says: "The end must soon come, for no country can go on continually spending more than it receives."

— Benny Eyler, aged 85, and Anna Grey aged 75, married and set up housekeeping in Xenia, Ohio, last week. Benny is a muscular splitter of rails, and Anna rides on horseback with singular ease and gracefulness.

— Gen. Howard on one occasion, when being entertained with a dinner, taking a glass of water in his hand, said: "Gentlemen, I am from the State of Maine. I don't go back on my State. I give you, gentlemen, the Maine Law, the true beverage of the soldier."

— Ephraim M. Baynard, one of the oldest and most successful planters on Edisto Island, S. C., died recently, leaving the magnificent bequest of one hundred and sixty-six thousand dollars, in city six per cent. stock, for the benefit of the Charleston College.

— A census has recently been taken at New York. It was predicted that the population would prove to be 1,300,000. The census takers, however, only make the number 700,000, and now the supervisors gravely refuse to pay the expense because a larger population is not reported.

— Much complaint is made of the high prices of meat, and it is likely to continue. Last year hay was scarce and prices high, and the farmers sent to market much of their stock. This year hay is abundant, and every farmer having plenty to keep his stock prefers to keep the profit of it on his farm, and a very wise conclusion it is for him.

NORTH CAROLINA.—Mr. Adrian Dickinson, a merchant of Beaufort, recently from Fayetteville, says it is not safe for a Union man to express his sentiments in that city. Two women, school teachers, recently went from Wilmington to establish a school for colored people at Fayetteville. The Sheriff would not permit them to land, and informed them if they were men they would be served as such people were before the war. While in Fayetteville Mr. Dickinson says a negro was strung up by the thumbs in the public square, and received 49 lashes from a civil officer recently appointed by Governor Holden. Collisions between the military authorities and representatives of the civil government occur continually, and the officers of the army are looked upon with contempt.

The Wilmington Herald says upon pledges of respect for the United States authorities, the National troops were withdrawn from Fayetteville, but the result has been of speedy development. The National authorities finding themselves deceived, have found it necessary to garrison Fayetteville again with negro troops.

It is quite obvious that the rebellious barbarians must be kept under military rule till they become civilized,—and then they may safely be entrusted with civil powers—but not till then. They are not fit for freedom yet,—but they must pass through an apprenticeship.

TEXAS.—A committee appointed by citizens of nearly all Northern Texas, who pledge themselves to abide by and defend all lawful authority to confer with Gov. Hamilton regarding measures to restore the State to a civil government, are at Austin to carry out their instructions.

THE POPE AND THE FENIANS.—The Rt. Rev. Dr. Wood, Bishop of Philadelphia, has sent us, says the Catholic Mirror, the following missive from Rome, in relation to the position of the Holy See towards the Fenians, in which it will be seen that the decision attributed to that august Tribunal by certain Fenian journals of this country is pronounced to be "utterly false":—

Rt. Rev. James F. Wood, Bishop of Philadelphia: The Sacr. Cong. Vcn. Inq. has desired me to signify to your Lordship that the assertion made in certain newspapers to the effect that the following decision had been given by the Holy See, to wit: "Fenianos non esse inquietandos." "The Fenians are not to be disturbed," is utterly false.

I communicate this at the request of the aforesaid congregation, lest it should be supposed by any one that anything in favor of this Society has emanated from the Holy See. In the meantime, &c.,

ALEX'R, CARD. BARNARO.

GEN. SCHENK ON THE PRESIDENT'S POLICY.—In a speech at Chillicothe, Ohio, on the 16th inst., Gen. Schenck is reported to have said:

"Only ten days ago, in a full and free interview with him, the President said he regarded the local governments set up in the rebellious States as temporary experiments simply to give the people an opportunity to show whether they will develope the right spirit and policy necessary for a full restoration to their proper position in the Government. While regarding them as experiments, he intends that the military force of the Government shall hold them in check, so that if they be found straying back into rebellious ways the military will be there to prevent them from again making the trouble they have heretofore caused.

The President in this conversation, referred to the course that had just been pursued in reference to the Richmond election, where the citizens manifested their rebellious spirit by electing to office the very men who had just been in arms against the Government. It was with his sanction that the military authorities set aside that election, and he gave this as an example of what might be expected in other cases of a similar character."

— A Washington dispatch says that at a recent political meeting in Charles County, Maryland, a negro, for cheering a speaker who endorsed the Union, was beaten by a large number of citizens, including among them a magistrate named Dent, Dr. George Mudd, brother of the assassin, and others. Dent, the magistrate, subsequently sent the negro to jail for attempting to defend himself.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.

Ketchum, Son & Co.—A condensed synopsis of the operations of this house may be of interest to you.

Morris Ketchum, the senior of the firm, is about 60, was rich and influential, and one of the solid men of New York, worth several millions, and a large banker and operator. Edward B. Ketchum, the son, and embezzler is 35, was in excellent position, worth money and respected for social and business talent.

Chas. Graham & Co. wealthy bankers, losers of two million, in addition to Ketchums loss of not over $2,500,000. Graham was broker, outside and known operator, recognized buyer and seller for the house of Ketchum. Young Ketchum raised money from three of the city banks, and different banking houses, to extent of over $2,000,000 by forged gold certificate.

Gold certificates are filled slips or checks, given for gold by the "Bank of New York: in other words receipts for gold deposited with the bank, negotiable on the market as gold, for convenience and safety.

Certificates are in books like checks. It costs $1000 to have the privilege. If you wish to deposit $5000 in gold you take it to the bank, they sign and countersign a filled certificate, and it represents $5000 gold till cancelled at the bank. Young K. bought a book privilege, filled up the blanks in amounts to please—forged the bank sig natures, and put them with other banks and brokers as collatual or security for thousands borrowed. These thousands to amount of two million, and more besides out of Graham, said $300,000 at the last pinch out of his own concern (Ketchum, Son Co.), he lost (or is supposed to have lost,—developments don't show who won,) with the exception of $60,000 carried away.

Young Ketchum used the signature of the firm only once, and that against themselves for the $300,000 the last morning. This evidently as a last resort, to avert the crash one day to secure escape,—$260,000 of it paid forged bonds presented, and scented by him as coming that day.

Ketchum, Son & Co. were receivers of exchange deposits from Eastern banks who lose. They will pay not over 60 cents probably less. Graham & Co. 30 cents. The combined amount will be not less than four millions. This includes the $300,000, their own (Ketchum) loss, deposited by young Ketchum with Graham to pay forgeries. Ketchum was accustomed to deposit with Graham to meet drafts.

The Fourth National Bank loaned on certificate $260,000,—Importers & Traders $335,000. The check or certificate book was found at Ketchum's house. It is intimated by some that he is concealed in this city. His property has been attached.

Ketchum Son & Co. have lost over two million. They owe their customers, New England Banks, &c. three and a half millions. They have assigned for the general benefit. Young Ketchum used out of the book 345 forged certificates for $5000 each. Also used two millions of securities and 30,000 cash, the property of the Ketchum house and the rest comes out of Graham & Co.

Mr. Ketchum Senior was out of town and telegraphed for, to hear the facts. Rather a hard lesson to learn of one's own son, admitted to every privacy, privilege and advantage of the business of one of the leading houses in the city. Hardly any one fully understands the full transaction. Many suspicion a good deal, and some insinuate much more, but the best face of the affair is that the houses of Ketchum, Son & Co. and Graham & Co. are honorable victims like the banks and other outsiders. Such is Wall Street. N.

A ROBBER'S DEFENCE.—The Nashville, Tenn., dispatch of Saturday contains an account of an interview between the local editor of the paper and the noted guerrilla chieftain, Champ Ferguson, now on trial there. He denies having committed many acts charged against him and states that those whom he killed were seeking his life; they were in arms hunting him down and waylaying him. He says he never harmed a Federal soldier in the regular service; has taken many prisoners. He states that he could not have been taken in ten years if he had remained in Clinton county, Ky., his home, and not surrendered; that he surrendered in good faith as a regular confederate officer and not anticipating prosecution.

KEITT'S PLANTATION.—The slaves of the once notorious Lawrence M. Keitt now occupy his plantation in South Carolina, and will harvest about three hundred acres of corn this season. There are forty "hands" on the estate, among whom the crops will be divided. Potatoes, peas and sorghum are also largely planted, the yield from which will be considerable. Mrs. Keitt is in the interior and is represented to be in needy circumstances.

— Two engine companies in New York had a fight at a fire on Sunday night. One man was killed; many wounded; twelve arrested, and the police held their engines and their engine houses.

☞ The Army and Navy Journal for August 19 completes the second volume of that popular journal. In their prospectus for the new volume the publishers state that so far from considering their mission at an end, because of the end of the war, they can see no reason "why the paper should not be published in a better manner than ever, not through the next year or ten years only, but through the century. Trying to do honestly, faithfully and well what it undertakes, the paper will appear in a new suit next week." Published at 39 Park Row, New York: terms, $6 per annum.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "ancres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear In riding or any business pursuit, it is all of a piece and moves as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, and warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Darne's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 50 cents for one box, or $1 for three boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 1255, New York City.

☞ Visiting the Navy Yard a day or two since, we observed the piers of the bridge leading from the Yard to Kittery Foreside flanked by a hundred boats (as near as we could judge,) at the Kittery end of the bridge, showing that work is not wholly suspended on the Yard if those little craft are daily filled with workmen. We learn, in connection with the fact of numerous boats being moored alongside of the bridge, that this is a recent change, workmen formerly landing at wharves built by the government on the southern slope of Kittery Foreside, and near the present landing. The innovation was made on account of a rise in the rentage of the landings by the owners thereof, government refusing to accede to the increased demand.

☞ Our corps of reporters is as able as it is extensive. We have already given the experience of one who visited the Shoals. Another, who has been to the beach to see the Indians, gives us the benefit of his research. Looking into a tent occupied by a few squaws and more lady visitors, he remarked that the brown creatures were better bred than he expected, but that the Rye seemed to predominate over the Indian, though it was no rare thing for that to be the case in another way. He then went on to say that he thought the enforcement of the Sunday liquor ordinance caused a great many people from this city to visit the beaches to get some "Extract of Rye." What other stale joke he would have perpetrated upon the subject we don't know, as we "choked him off" when he had got thus far.

POLICE COURT, August 19th.—Frank Muchmore and Edward Flynn, for robbing gardens, sentenced to House of Correction for 30 days, and to pay one-half of costs, $2.04 each.

August 21st.—Michael Cunningham, for keeping shop open Sunday, fined $20 and costs $7.79. Appealed and gave bonds in $30. Frank Jones and John E. Rider, bondsmen.

William Downs, for keeping shop open Sunday, fined $10 and costs $5.62. Appealed and gave bonds in $30. Frank Jones and Newell Clifford, bondsmen.

Michael Cunningham, for keeping a noisy and disorderly house. Case continued until last Monday in October.

A CRASH.—On Monday forenoon about half of the great elm at the corner of Cabot and Middle streets, being much decayed, broke down from its own great weight.

ANOTHER CRASH.—A little after two o'clock, Monday afternoon, the old flagstaff in front of the Franklin House fell across the street, just as one of Mr. Dennett's hacks passed. The topmast caught on the building opposite, but did no damage. The flagstaff had been standing many years, and had rotted completely off close to the ground. It was Mr. Hadley's intention to have taken it down at once, but the fall has saved him the trouble.

NAVAL.—Commander E. T. Nichols has been detached from special duty at this navy yard, and ordered to duty at the navy yard, New York.

Lieutenant Commander E. Y. McCauly, formerly stationed at this yard, has been ordered to duty, as an assistant to Commander Turner, at the Philadelphia yard.

☞ The Post Band, from Fort Constitution, favored the citizens in the vicinity of Market Square with some of their music, before leaving on their excursion down the harbor on Monday afternoon.

☞ Attention is called to Mr. Hahn's advertisement of selling out his stock of goods.

MORE STEALING IN NEW YORK.—The Tribune contains reports of another defalcation. A book-keeper named Henry Singer in the wholesale grocery business has appropriated $10,000, the property of his employers. He admits to having taken from twenty-five to thirty dollars daily for a year or more past.

The Tribune says the Wall Street teller who decamped with $150,000, is reported to have sailed for Cuba with Ketchum. His friends have paid up the full amount of the defalcation and his name will not appear in print. (Perhaps not—but then perhaps it will.)

VIRGINIA.—Richmond correspondence states that the action of the government in ignoring the recent election is having a salutary effect. It is estimated that there are 40,000 negroes on the Peninsula, who have followed our armies during the war. Orders have been issued to muster out seven more regiments, and it is intimated that only enough military force will be left in the State to prevent vagrancy. The Christian agency has broken up.

— A Charleston letter says a military investigation has been ordered into the conduct of Gen. Hatch, but no one can be found to bring any charges against him — The health of Charleston never was better. Most of the candidates for the State convention have withdrawn in favor of new men.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Mirror says, it is probable the 4th reg. N. H. volunteers, will be mustered out, under a late order.

—— The people of Cornish are to celebrate the Centennial Anniversary of their town's settlement, Sept. 1st.

— At New Orleans, some U. S. soldiers supposed Kirby Smith was in Beauregard's house, and they surrounded it, keeping B. and some other persons all night in a cotton press. B.'s dignity was hurt, and he complained to Gen. Sheridan, who was "annoyed, (it is said) and righted the matter with B." No great matter, we think, to suspect B. of harboring K. B. was a mere mercenary rebel, entitled to the very smallest consideration.

— Mr. William Crooke, a respected citizen of Medford, while on a visit to Saratoga Springs last week, feeling unwell in the night, walked out of a long open window, mistaking it for a door, and fell a distance of about 40 feet, breaking both his legs, and receiving other such injuries that he died in a short time. The deceased was 43 years of age.

— In Mississippi, it is said the report of the committee as telegraphed, will be substantially adopted, giving Mississippi a free State Constitution.

— Richmond correspondence says Col. West, commanding at City Point, has been temporarily brought to Richmond by Gen. Terry's orders under arrest.

— Madame Ratazzi, the Princess de Solms, is about to start a newspaper called the Courrier de Florence. The object is "the reconciliation of the Papacy with Italy."

— In Calais, Me., it is said the taxes are $44 on $1000. This is because of a foolish effort to pay off the town's debt too rapidly.

— Gen. Schofield has been granted two years' leave to visit Europe.

OLD APPLE TREE.—George Annable, Esq. has this week cut down an apple tree in his garden in Deer-street which was set out in 1786. It has been a regular bearer of fruit up to this year. We have had a taste of some fine English codding apples, from a tree in the garden of Samuel Lord, Esq., which is more than a hundred years old. It was in the garden when the celebrated John Paul Jones was a boarder in that house.

ELIOT MAIL CARRIER.—For twenty-three years Mr. James S. Toby has carried the mail regularly between Eliot and Portsmouth post-offices, twice a week. The rated distance is six miles. In only three instances in that time has he failed of reaching the post office within the regular hour. With exceptions of slight detentions by sickness, being on jury, &c. he has attended to the business personally, travelling nearly 30,000 miles between the two offices. He has now resigned his position in favor of Mr. Wm. H. Staples, a young man who has been in the army, and been wounded in the shoulder by a ball. May he continue as long on the track, and be as regular as his esteemed predecessor.

VERMONT, OR NEW HAMPSHIRE?—The papers inform us that the anniversary of the battle of Bennington was celebrated at Bennington, August 16 and 17. The exercises were under the auspices of the Vermont Historical Society. The address by Rev. E. H. Chapin of New York. There was a military and civic procession, and the Historical Society held meetings on both days, at which historical papers were read.

Some question whether the battle of Bennington was fought in Vermont, or New Hampshire? Bennington was chartered by Gov. Benning Wentworth of New Hampshire in 1749, and from him it took its name. When the revolution commenced, that locality was known as the New Hampshire Grant. In Jan. 1777, seven months before that battle, it first took the name of Vermont, but was not admitted as an integral part of the American Union until 1791. New Hampshire soldiers, under the valiant Stark did credit to our State on the occasion, but it was in infant Vermont that the battle of Bennington was fought.

Gen. Hampton who escorted President Davis South, until more convenient to leave him to his fate, has reached Havana en route for England. Toombs, and a precious number of the distinguished leaders are as yet incog, though many have turned up in Mexico. The meeting in London and Paris, with Mason and Slidell, must be very cordial and harmonious—glad things are "two worse" Slidell's estate in New Orleans has been confiscated and sold.

The process of reconstruction, and conformation must necessarily be slow, as in most of the rebel states the fire-eaters, (affairs being left for them to manage,) would elect secession men; while in portions of the different states a good harmony exists between landholders and the emancipated slaves. All must be held for the present under military rule.

The deposites in the New England and New York Saving's Banks amount to nearly two hundred and sixty-one millions—more than all the saving deposits of Old England, and more than in all the other States of this Union. So much for the miserable yankees of New England and New York, mostly settled from that Pilgrim band. A good item for English Rookery contemplation.

THE SEASON.—The ground is now drier, we are told, than it has been for years. It is some two months since there has been a rainfall of any amount. The pastures look well, so do the potatoes, corn and other crops; and the second crop of hay will be nothing. Last year the dry term was earlier, and the rains coming in the first part of August gave us an excellent potato crop, while the hay was short. This year it is reversed—plenty of hay but not so good a prospect for potatoes. The area that suffers for want of water is limited, however. In Maine they have frequent showers, and in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia the earth was never so verdant; in the north part of New Hampshire and Vermont they have had plenty of rain; and so at the West. In the country as a whole this is one of the fat years.—Newburyport Herald.

Since the above was written, we have had about half an inch of rain, which has afforded temporary relief, but more is needed.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. George M. Mason, eldest son of the Hon. Jeremiah Mason, died suddenly, and without a struggle, in Boston, on Wednesday morning, while reading a newspaper, in the office of the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company, where he had called, as was his daily custom. So quietly did he pass from earthly life, that the clerks in the office supposed he had fallen asleep, until, on a closer observation, he was found to be insensible. Respiration and pulsation had entirely ceased before the arrival of physicians, who were sent for immediately after his condition attracted attention. Mr. Mason was a native of Portsmouth.

HUDSON RIVER INSTITUTE.—The committee selected to attend the annual examination of the Hudson River Institute, Claverack, Columbia Co. N. Y. for 1865, represent three religous denominations. They have given close attention to the recitation, and to the social order and discipline of the School. This is one of the most widely popular institutions of its kind in the country; and the Committee are happy to say that, in their judgment, the scale of teaching is uniformly of a very high character. Thorough recitations are prized above the showy and superficial. This makes study hard, but most remunerative. This Committee are convcisant with the actual state of scholarship in the leading institutions of this description of the North; and they wish distinctly to say that they know of few which equal, and of none which surpasses this institution. The surroundings of this Institute are unsurpassed in natural attractiveness and convenience; the community is one of substantial yeomanry; the buildings ample and neatly elegant. The students are distributed in six forms, according to their age and advancement. Military drills and gymnastic exercises conduce to the physical vigor of the pupils, who are trained as well to commercial life as for a collegiate course.

One thousand persons were added to the population of Great Falls, N. H. in three weeks, by the influx of factory operatives. A like increase has taken place in other towns. Lowell has probably made up the six thousand inhabitants she lost from 1860 to the enumeration of 1865. When the factories started up there and elsewhere, a few weeks ago, they sent advertisements to all parts of New England and the British Provinces, offering such wages that a migration fever at once sprung up. Thousands of Canadians, in the lowest and rudest state, were collected by runners employed for that purpose, and rushed forward.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months and more than 600 shareholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe to invest here as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Greaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Important to the Afflicted.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos. 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, BOSTON, on the diseases of a PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE. By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratifying reflection of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Dr. Dow devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms and board at moderate rates. Medicines sent to all parts of the country, with full directions for use, on receiving descriptions of your cases. Dr. Dow has also for sale the French Capottes, warranted the best preventive. Order by mail. Three or $1 and a red stamp.

Highly Important to Females

IN DELICATE HEALTH.

Dr. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No. 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Dr. D. has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women than any other physician in Boston. Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment. Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered. Office hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 DENDICOTT STREET. Those who need the service of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

Dr. DOW's Female Pills are unsurpassed, and has for sale a new article, called the FRENCH SECRET. Order by mail. Two for $1 and a red stamp.

SPANISH ROUGE,

FOR POLISHING,

XL

Or Cleaning Gold, Silver, Silver Plated, Britannia, Brass, Tin, Steel, Iron, Copper, Glass, or Metal of all kinds. For the small sum of 25 cts. an article cannot be beat. Twenty-five cents invested in a package of this, will add more to the looks of a home than ten times the dollars spent in new ware. Every article of any kind of metal about the house can be kept to look like new. How much pleasanter to have a hundred dollars spent in keeping bright and clean, which causes a smile upon the face of all. The labor of keeping every article of metal about the house bright, has been reduced to a mere pastime and pleasure. It removes the tarnish at the touch of the hand.

It is a mineral without any composition whatever, therefore can do no harm.

Put up in three different qualities, for the finest Gold to the coarsest Brass.

Try the Spanish Rouge, and it will become a household word and a great assistant. Every person who has a bright metal article to use, the manufacturer needs it. For sale by Druggists and Grocery Dealers everywhere.

NEW YORK SOUND.—A correspondent of the Boston Advertiser, writing from New York, gives the following suggestions, pertinent and timely.

A convocation of political men of the State of New York was held at Saratoga Springs on Wednesday. Most of its proceedings have not yet been made public, but enough is known to warrant the declaration that the Union men of the State will stand by the President as one man. They have as a general thing little faith in the reorganization of loyal State governments in the eleven recusant States, but are disposed to let the experiment be tried to the utmost. Before President Johnson will tolerate rebel State administrations he will adopt negro suffrage to any extent.

A resolution was adopted affirming the sacredness of the national debt, and declaring the man who favored its repudiation, or the assumption of the rebel debt, a traitor, and deserving to be treated as such.

This matter is more important than it appears to cursory view. Saratoga is full of Southern men, come to attend the races; and they talk politics. They accept the verdict of the war, and yield up slavery. To be sure they talk about the negroes, that they will not work unless compelled; i. e., that they will not work for the planters. They even would almost consent to some form or other of colored suffrage. But confiscation is their term of horror. They expect to manipulate politics so as to bring about the assumption of the rebel debt. Their property is invested in that. The extreme humility of Governor Brown of Georgia is to be attributed to his anxiety to save the property of the banks of that State.

As for loyalty at the South, it is as easy to get tarpitum out of the blood of a refugee of our first revolution as secessionism out of the blood of this generation. The two are similar; both hate freedom and republican institutions.

— A swimmer having made a bet of five hundred francs with Count S—— that he would swim in the Seine for ten minutes, holding a book in both hands all the while, and reading aloud, gained his wager on the 25th of July, a considerable crowd of boats being collected in the river filled with persons anxious to see the feat.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a very large collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary of a Solicitor to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,

Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1865.

ACTION AND COUNTER-ACTION.—Some people seem to be afraid the Fenian Brotherhood will be mischievous in our land. And others have a great fear of the Roman Catholic church and priesthood in this country. This latter fear was expressed recently in our hearing. But looking at things more coolly, there is not much ground for fear of either; as one thing counteracts another. In a late communication to the Biddeford Union, an Irishman and a Fenian says:—

We are willing to admit that our Rev. Pastor is an uncompromising man against drunkenness and immorality, but we question the right of Rev. E. Vetromile or any other clergyman to interfere with our political principles as Fenians.

Let this latter idea once get hold of the Irish Americans generally, and they would no longer vote in a solid mass for the mere false name of a party, under the soft-soaping of priestly demagogues. If a priest has no right to interfere with their politics as Fenians, then he has no right to interfere with them as Democrats or Republicans, Union men or Rebels. But all the catholic priests we have known, took the liberty to be the general advisers of their flocks on all subjects—social, political, moral and religious; and we could never see any reason why they should not do so! We have rather deemed it their prerogative. We would, however, have them, and all other people, so intelligent and so candid as to judge for themselves what is right, not only in politics, but in religion and morals.

The teaching and preaching of the priesthood, clergy, or ministry, should be received with all due deference—but true men and intelligent women should surely do their own thinking,—and if they did so, could not be greatly misled by any priesthood, ever so crafty. And it is surely the duty of every public teacher to stand by the right and protest against the wrong, whether it is called by a political or a religious name. It may not bring him praise or pelf,—but it will tend to bring purity first, and then peace, in which he will share, and for which he will rejoice. U. T.

THE TRIAL OF THE REBEL CAPT. WERZ, has begun at Washington, where on Monday Henry Werz was arraigned before a military commission, charged with maliciously, willfully and traitorously combining, confederating and conspiring with Robert E. Lee, James H. Seddon, Northrup and others, to injure the health and destroy the lives of Union soldiers in rebel Southern prisons, and also with murder in violation of the laws and customs of war. The specifications allege most cruel practices, such as starvation purposely, the vaccination of soldiers with impure matter, the furnishing of rotten food, and the employment of bloodhounds.

After the charges and specifications, Col. Chipman, Judge Advocate, asked what answer the prisoner had to make. Judge Hughes, as one of his counsel, who are Messrs. Hughes, Dewer, Peck and Schoode, asked time to prepare his defence, which was over-ruled by the Court. Judge Hughes in order, as he said, to facilitate proceedings, filed several pleas: 1st, denying the jurisdiction of the Court to try the prisoner, it having no authority to do so by statute or well-established usage. [The Court overruled this plea, very promptly.] 2d, that this case is not brought it by competent authority; 3d, that the prisoner is not a naturalized citizen, and was never in the land or naval service of the United States, which now being at peace, and the civil war having ceased, there is no authority to punish him.

The prisoner protests he ought not to be tried, but discharged. He claims that just before the time of his arrest at Andersonville, Capt. Noyes, on duty near that place, applied to him for information, which he cheerfully communicated to him, and he accompanied Capt. Noyes to Gen. Wilson's quarters, the former promising him safe conduct, and giving him assurance that he should not be arrested.

The prisoner further protests that he came within the terms of the capitulation between Gen. Johnston and Gen. Sherman.

☞ Sundry Democratic conventions have endorsed the President's policy of reconstruction, as they understand it. It is somewhat doubtful, however, if they see plainly to what his policy leads; or if they will be willing to follow him in the next step he will surely take. It would go far to condemn any man, to be thoroughly approved by rebels and traitors. In the present case we think there is very little danger of it,—so much do we rely on the sound judgement of the President and Cabinet, and of Congress and the people. We have also, much reliance on the Judiciary as now constituted.

— The Spiritualists will hold a State Convention at Ludlow, Vt., Sept. 25th, 26th and 27th.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The Wilmington Herald says Gens. Ames and Duncan and Col. Donellan, who lately visited Fayetteville and vicinity to investigate charges of cruelty toward the freedmen, found the charges true. Two negroes were tied up and publicly whipped by the sheriff on the sentence of a magistrate in the town of Fayetteville. Other negroes were tied to trees and whipped, and then left tied until a storm prostrated the trees, and the poor negroes fell with them and lay a long time before being relieved. Citizens, too, have presumed to exercise the authority of masters over these people and punish them at their will with such severity as to them seemed fit. It is even reported that negroes have been killed by the cruelty of those who should be brought to punishment. In consequence of these outrages a negro garrison will be established at Fayetteville, and the freedmen will be protected.

The Raleigh Progress learns from Col. Lawrence, commandant of the post at Goldsborough, that six negroes were killed at or near Warsaw, N. C., some two weeks ago. The former owner of the blacks left on the approach of the Union army, the negroes remaining. They went to work and made a crop. The former owner returned recently and ordered them to leave. The negroes refused, and the proprietor of the place getting some neighbors together, with arms, ordered them off again, and on their refusal to go, attacked them, killing six. The matter is being investigated.

BARBARISM.—The Southern Christian Intelligencer of August 5 says; "If one tenth part of the reports are true which are coming from the South thicker and faster, a most shocking state of things exists. From localities where there are no National troops come reports that negroes are being hunted down like dogs and dispatched without ceremony. The newspapers in the South are filled with accounts of these brutal murders, which foot up an aggregate of several hundred deaths per day, which is doubtless only a small portion of the real number.

An Alabama paper says that this business has become so extensive and common that some planters even boast that they could measure their lands with the dead carcases of negroes. If negroes can be shot down daily in garrisoned towns where the authorities have the power to stop this state of things, it is very reasonable to suppose that this brutal work is carried on most extensively where the blacks have no protection. This wholesale murdering of human beings is, we fear, the practical working of the conspiracy to exterminate the whole colored race, which is revolting in this Christian age."

MAXIMILIAN OPPOSED TO SLAVERY. Some weeks ago a rumor was afloat to the effect that the Emperor of Mexico was favorable to the establishment of slavery in in his dominions, but it seems the report was false. On the contrary, about six months ago, when a proposition was made to the government by very influential persons for "African colonization," as well as for the introduction of Chinese laborers, (nothing less than the establishment of slavery under the cloak of "colonization,") the Emperor gave his most emphatic refusal, and ordered his Minister of the Interior to make known to the parties that he "would not tolerate even the suspicion of slavery in the empire." Not only the above quotation of a special decree from the Emperor gives denial to the report, but article sixty-four of the organic law, promulgated on the 10th of April last, expressly prohibits "slavery and involuntary servitude."

☞ At Sheffield, that notorious hater of America, Mr. Roebuck, made a long address, at the close of which he alluded to this country in terms which will show the spirit by which he has been animated in his abuse of the Northern States. He said:

Recollect that the United States of America extend over a territory so large and so beautifully fertile, that by-and-by when it is filled, as it will be filled, with the great Anglo-Saxon race, that people—mark my words, our children may learn to believe them—that people will govern the world. (Hear, hear.) My feeling was, and is, that they have manifested so arrogant a disposition, they have insulted England whenever she could be insulted, that I said: "I will, as far as I am concerned, aid and assist in breaking up that powerful union into communities that will be less powerful."

The rebellion, had it succeeded, was to do the very same thing—but it failed, and the Union is more powerful at home and abroad, than ever before.

☞ On Monday evening Mrs. Lee, aged about 40 years, widow of Thomas Lee, was burnt to death in Portland by her clothes catching fire from a lamp. Mr. Wood, living in the back part of the house, hearing groans and smelling smoke, burst open the door and found her in a sitting posture with nearly all her clothes burnt off, in which position she died a few minutes after being discovered.

— Gen. Logan's resignation has been sent in to the War Department and accepted.

MOLASSES FROM INDIAN CORN.—A discovery has been made, according to a report in the St. Louis Democrat, of a way of making molasses from maize or Indian corn, the quality of which is not inferior to that extracted from the finest cane, not liable to fermentation, and of good flavor, body and color and saccharine properties. The Democrat speaks of the cheap way in which it can be produced, and adds:

From one bushel of grain three gallons of molasses can be extracted at least. The market value, therefore, of the corn staple of our own fields, will decide the quotations of molasses, and preclude the possibility of these prime necessaries from preventing, as has often been the case, a wide difference in prices. Indeed, the farmer is thus made the recipient of the additional advantage and profit of raising his own saccharine, and saved the trouble and expense of making an exchange of products through commercial channels for the purpose.

— It is said that the York & Cumberland Railroad Co. will, another year, extend their line from Buxton to Great Falls via Alfred.

— The potato disease is making its appearance in some sections of Bristol County, Mass. It has also prevailed to some extent in the eastern portion of Maine.

— Last week an order was received by one of the worsted factories in Philadelphia, for a lot of about a thousand dollars' worth of scarfs, shawls, "nubias," and other articles, from Leicester, England.

— One Luther G. Gallagher has been arrested in New York and brought to Boston for trial, on a charge of forging commutation papers for rations. He will doubtless go to the State Prison.

— A fire in South street, New York, on Monday, destroyed Hicks' U. S. bonded warehouse, full of tea and coffee, also buildings used by riggers, with joiners, junk dealers, &c. Loss $500,000.

— On Thursday last, as Thomas Hanson, of Biddeford, was gunning at Old Orchard, he accidentally discharged his gun and the whole charge passed through his wrist, shattering the bones in a frightful manner.

— The Union Convention in Pennsylvania endorse Pres. Johnson and his reconstruction policy—fully believing that on a fair trial of the same, he will extend and modify it to suit the exigency of the times.

— The Utica Herald says a daughter of the old Duke of Wellington, whom her father disinherited for marrying against his wishes, passed through that place with her husband on Monday.

— Gov. Parsons, of Alabama, has removed Mayor Slough of Mobile, who was not friendly to the new order of things, and who was not just to the freedmen, and has appointed John Forsyth as his successor.

— Wm. Grimes, better known as "Old Grimes," a quaint old darkey, once a slave, known to all the citizens and to thousands of Yale College graduates, died on Sunday, at New Haven, Conn., aged 90.

— A Burlington, Vt., paper tells of a Brookfield girl, 15 years old, named Edith Wheatley, who has raked 100 tons of hay this season, and while guiding the rake has quietly pursued her knitting. Maud Muller must look to her laurels.

— George Kimball, of Saco, was severely injured on Thursday evening last by being run over by a horse which became frightened as a fire company was marching by. In attempting to cross the street he was thrown down and under the wheels.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book for September, has for a frontispiece, the "Spirit of 76,"—a Southern picture, apparently Virginian. The leading article is the solution of the great question, How to treat domestic household help, viz. with kind, intelligent firmness and patience.

— A German servant girl fell out of a third-story window at Cleveland, Ohio, the other day, and would have been killed had not a gentleman caught her in his arms. She asked him if he "wasn't ashamed of himself," and told him to be off "with his impertinence."

— Capt. Nye, of the ship Abigail, is said to have expressed his scorn and fearlessness of the pirates at the time of his capture, saying to Wordell, of the Shenandoah: "You have not ruined me yet; I have ten thousand dollars at home, and before I left I lent it to the Government to fight such fellows as you."

— The children of Portland who play in the streets have chosen a dangerous playground. But a few days since a child was instantly killed by a horse car running over its head. John Melaugh was injured on York street, on Friday, by the starting of a car on which he was playing, and which dragged him some distance. He died in consequence the same evening.

— In Montpelier, Vt., recently, two little boys named Jones had a dispute, and the younger, 8 or 10 years old, thrust at his brother an open knife, the blade of which entered the elder brother's side near the lungs. In drawing the blade from his side, the point of it was broken off and remained in the wound. It was found impossible to extract this piece, and it is thought the boy must die.

☞ The Portland Argus says that two young men of that city are about to attempt the trip from that port to Bangor in an egg-shell of a boat, without any deck, and but 17 feet in length, 4 1 2 in width, and 17 inches deep. They intend making a harbor the first night, but on the second day will strike boldly out to sea, passing Seguin many miles outside. The crew will be the same as that in the little craft Vision, that attempted to cross the Atlantic and was never heard from—two souls and a dog.

☞ Punctual as ever, Harpers' Magazine for September has made its appearance upon our table. In catering to the public taste the publishers furnish in this number among their great mass of interesting matter, three illustrated articles. The serials, by Charles Dickens and Wilkie Collins, maintain their interest as they approach the close. A. Williams & Co., Boston, wholesale agents for New England. For sale in this city by Messrs. Shores and Foster.

— A sale of 48 government horses in Boston, on Saturday, yielded $2830—the highest bringing $175, the lowest $45.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE
AMERICAN WATCH
IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "nurses," "lepines," and "Swiss levers," in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be.—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Durno's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, No. P. O. Box 1235, New York City.

☞ Rumors were prevalent on Tuesday that a man named Michael Gillagan was drowned in our river, in the vicinity of Church Hill, on Monday, and some accounts stated that a little son shared the same fate with him, but we have been unable to find any person acquainted with the particulars.

☞ The high wind which accompanied our welcome rain on Monday night laid a few old fences low, but we have heard of no great damage done by it.

☞ Persons in want of lumber are referred to Messrs. Merrill & Fernald's advertisement, in this day's issue. They will find them pleasant and accommodating gentlemen to deal with.

☞ The steam frigate Franklin, built at this Navy Yard, has been hauled to the wharf at the Charlestown Navy Yard, where her machinery, built at East Boston, will be adjusted.

THE IRON-CLAD RACE.—We have already devoted considerable space to this matter, giving the views of a number of our exchanges as well as those of our reporter on the subject. We give below an extract from the New York World, which paper seems inclined to hint that the Dictator is not all that she should be when the expense of her construction is considered:

THE DICTATOR FARCE.—The Assistant Secretary of the Navy has gone to the Dictator, and is lending his powerful aid to enable the contractors for that unfortunate machine to draw for the hundred and fifty thousand dollars yet paid on her; which, when received, will put them and their friends in funds to the tune of about eight hundred thousand dollars profit on the entire "job" of the pair of beauties called the Puritan and Dictator. The last performance was a race from Portsmouth to Portland—said to be fifty miles long—in which the Dictator, guaranteed to run fifteen knots an hour, was badly beaten by the Agamenticus, another iron-clad, which did not go ten miles an hour. But the report claims for the Dictator "an allowance of seventeen minutes for the stoppage of her machinery on account of the heating of a crank pin." We concede the allowance, and have no doubt she is richly entitled to it. We are willing to go further, and to concede that whenever she attempts to go eight knots an hour she will be entitled to just such an "allowance," and that any boat which can go ten miles an hour will be able to give her that start, on any distance not more than fifty miles, and then beat her "a mile and a half" as the Agamenticus did.

The true way to try the Dictator is at the dock, not at sea—when the contractors and assistant secretary ought to be aboard. If their presence did not keep the crank pin cool it would be of no use to try ice. The operation of paying over the balance might be performed at the same time, the impudence of which act would probably reduce the thermometer to a degree that would be entirely inconsistent with any heating, unless, indeed, the tax-payers might get a little warm.

The item is certainly racy, and though it may be founded upon fact, we have no doubt that much of its pungency is due to political differences. The Dictator and Vanderbilt left Portland on Sunday afternoon for Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Tribune's dispatch says: "Up to date 25,000 applications for pardon have been received; but it is stated that as yet the President has only signed 100."

Receipts from the Internal Revenue on Monday, $1,250,000.

The Times' dispatch says the officers who received resignations at Washington, have no knowledge of the reception of the resignation of Gen. B. F. Butler as an officer.

The President has returned from his excursion much improved in health.

Hon. Alfred Ely has been subpœnaed as a witness against Werz and not for him.

The Herald's dispatch states that the President is annoyed at the fact that certain persons have been accepting money for their influence in obtaining pardons. He stated that he wished the fact known that he investigated each case himself, and only granted such petitions as recommended themselves to his clemency. Some of those present asked permission to call again for further consideration, to which he significantly replied: "It would be some time before many more pardons would be granted."

Gen. Hancock has been brevetted Maj. Gen. in the regular army.

Two hundred paymasters will be discharged from the navy. All seamen in the Mississippi Department having less than two years to serve will be discharged. The entire naval force will be reduced to 10,000 men.

Victor Smith, Agent of the Treasury Department, who was wrecked on the steamer Golden Rule, reports that, after being five weeks on the reef, and with the help of divers and two wrecking schooners, he has recovered only $140,000 of $1,500,000 treasury notes lost in the safe. This was found some distance from the wreck, indicating that the safe had broken to pieces. A revenue cutter is to be dispatched to the relief of Mr. Smith.

GOLD, Tuesday, 143 1-2.

— Six persons have been arrested at Batavia, N. Y., on a charge of incendiarism. Two of them confess that, during the past year, the gang have fired more than twenty buildings, in pursuance of deliberate plots made at the shop of one of their number, who is foreman of a hook and ladder company.

— A Bridgeport, Conn., dispatch states that the coroner's jury on the bodies of the eleven persons killed on the Housatonic Railroad, on the 15th inst., have rendered a verdict that the disaster was caused by culpable negligence and want of proper caution on part of the President, Superintendent and other employees of the road. Two jurors dissented.

— The N. Y. Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondence says preparations indicate the forthcoming speedy trial of Jeff. Davis there. Additional restrictions have been put upon admissions to the Fort. Joe Johnston, while at Fortress Monroe, was asked if he wished to see Jeff. Davis. He replied: "I do not wish to see him or hear his name mentioned ever." This may be all true; but we do not rely on it.

— Mayor McLean, of Fayetteville, N. C., denies and contradicts the stories of cruelty to the freedmen there,—and the sheriff of the county endorses his statement.

— If a mirror is broken, it is a sign that a good looking lass will be missing in that house.

☞ Subscribers will confer a favor, and facilitate the prompt delivery of their papers, by immediately informing us of any deficiency or irregularity of our Carriers. All papers should be delivered before 7 o'clock—and all subscribers should furnish a secure place of deposit for their papers. We will give $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle. Our Carriers are not allowed to sell copies of the paper.

☞ Save your Rags and old Papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. URIAH BLAISDELL adds tiers to buy them.

☞ The reasons of our CALIFORNIA WINES enjoying so great a popularity, are because they are the purest and cheapest Wines of their class ever sold in the country.

We always like to recommend a good thing, and the best for this season is DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP. It will be found very pleasant, and a safe and sure remedy for Dysentery, Diarrhea, &c. It contains no opiates; excellent for children.

'TIS NOT A FABLE.—The immense and universal demand for the Fragrant Sozodont, is a marvel in the annals of Dentistry. It exceeds all other dentifrices combined.—Neither acid from the stomach, nor any other corresponding element generated by indigestion, can effect a set of teeth regularly purified by this Fragrant Vegetable antiseptic and preservative. ap21 1wood 3

SOUTHERN ENTERPRISE.—A lady once taking a ride in a slave State, when it was a slave State, saw a negress sitting with cooking apparatus just opposite a small break in the fence. She stopped and asked: "Why, what are you doing there?" "I'm tending the gap, mum," was the answer. The overseer of the estate had not wit or energy enough to stick up a board or rail, or a slat; so he sent Dinah "to tend the gap" and keep the cattle out! "Straws tell, etc."—Trans.

— In England "the latest photographic nonsense is to produce upon the handkerchief bought the physiognomy of the buyer in photography."

— Saratoga statistics are becoming quite plenty. On Friday last the Union Hotel encertained 1460 people, who consumed 1240 pounds of beefsteak, exclusive of other meats, and 400 quarts of ice cream.

— The Paris correspondent of an English paper tells the following six-horse story: A rich foreign parvenu, a few days back, paraded in the Champs Elysees in a carriage drawn by six horses. Greatly to his astonishment, he was waited on shortly after his return home by a high functionary of the police, who told him that in France no one was allowed to use six horses except the sovereign. He complained that he could not have as many animals in his carriage as he pleased; but he was informed that if he again presented himself with six horses the animals and the carriage would be seized, and he himself would be arrested.

— The South Eastern Gazette, England, reports that a young woman named Stevens recently had a difficulty with her lover, and attempted to commit suicide by jumping from a precipice on the coast, nearly six hundred feet high. She made the fearful leap from the top of the cliff, but her crinoline caught in the shrubbery growing out from the rocks at a point about one hundred feet from the top. Here the poor woman hung suspended the greater part of the day, making frantic efforts to tear herself loose and complete the work of self-destruction. She was finally rescued by her lover, who was let down from the top by a rope. It is to be hoped he will never have cause to repent that act.

PETROLEUM IS KING!

THE

UNION OIL STOVES!

Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.

A COMPLETE APPARATUS

—FOR DOING THE—

COOKING

And all the work of a Family of any size,

AT LESS THAN

One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!

THIS NEW

PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS

Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the

Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove

that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without

Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.

The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.

ONE CENT AN HOUR

"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 18 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 20 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "

And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small sized room in cold weather.

For use in the night in cases of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

☞ EXCURSION PARTIES will find it very useful, occupying very little space, and capable of doing a large amount of Cooking.

COAL AT COST.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.

This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, as it has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.

The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.

Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is as safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE

COOKING STOVE.

The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the

MAGEE COOK STOVE,

as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.

There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad-iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.

The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.

For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.

We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the

MAGEE COOK.

Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes

—of the—

MAGEE PARLOR STOVE

with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodeling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.,	Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill,	Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell,	John Sise, and others.

Or Cleaning Gold, Silver, Silver Plated, Brittania, Brass, Tin, Steel, Iron, Copper, Glass, or Metal of all kinds. For the purpose intended this article cannot be beat. Twenty-five cents invested in a package of this, will add more to the looks of a house, than a dollar invested in any other article in new ware. Every article of any kind of metal about the house can be kept to look like new. How much pleasanter it is to wait on when everything looks bright and clean, which causes a smile upon the faces of all. The labor of keeping every article of metal about the house in Spanish Rouge is reduced to a mere pastime and pleasure. It removes the tarnish at the touch of the hand. It is a mineral without any composition whatever, therefore can do no harm.

Put up in three different qualities, for the finest Gold to the coarsest Metal.

Try the Spanish Rouge, and it will become a household word and a great resistant. Every person who has a ring or ear-drop, to an engine manufacturer, needs it. For sale by Druggists and Grocery Dealers everywhere.

WELL-TIMED REMARKS.—No man ever felt anything but irritation at seeing a woman's gown doing the business of a crossing-sweeper, or attached any value to the amount of open work displayed beneath a looped-up skirt. If young ladies would only believe it—or rather, perhaps, if they did but attach any importance to it, when they do believe it—a man will be perfectly satisfied with their appearance, so far as these considerations are concerned, if their petticoats are spotlessly clean and their stockings guiltless of a wrinkle. We do not say that even these characteristics, when added to the well fitting gowns for which we have already stipulated, are to be attained without some expenditure of money; for cleanliness, at least in London, is not a cheap virtue, and it is not every dressmaker who knows how to make a dress. But, at any rate, the proposed standard is a good deal easier of attainment than the spurious fine-ladyism after which so many women toil in vain; and we cannot but believe that, if girls did but think more of pleasing the other sex and less of vying with their own, their parents would see reason to bless the change the next time they came to look over their milliner's bills.—London Saturday Review.

These remarks are as applicable on this side of the water as in England, with the exception that cleanliness is not an expensive luxury with us. To our mind the vocabulary has no adjective of sufficient power to express the degree of comparison in favor of a clean calico over a draggled or faded silk, or of a plain straw bonnet or hat over the shabby-genteel top-knots of "fuss and feathers" with which some very worthy women ape fashion.

— The Handel Festival has been outdone, so far at least as numbers are concerned, by the great gathering of the German choirs at Dresden, which has just closed. More than 20,000 singers, from every part of Germany and even from foreign countries, met to celebrate this festival. A building to accommodate 40,000 people was erected in the valley of the Elbe, and in this the concerts were given, under the guidance of the chief musicians of Germany.

— The Debats states that a Wurtemburger has swum across the Lake of Constance from Romanshorn to Friedrichshaven—a distance of three leagues and a half. For the sake of precaution he was followed by a boat, but he found no need of calling upon the rower for help. The distance was accomplished in six hours and twenty minutes. This, if true, throws the feats of Leander and Lord Byron into the shade.

— Six churches in Portland are now destitute of pastors.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
76 State street, opposite Kilby street,
Boston.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary on a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted; and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART During eight months, the subscriber, in courts of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SLATEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1865.

MRS. SURRATT'S COUNSEL.—The following, said to be correct, is from the Washington Star:

"On the 3d of June, Mrs. Surrat gave a note to her daughter for $3,000, which the daughter endorsed. The note was given for thirty days. A deed of trust was also given on Mrs. Surratt's house. After Mrs. Surratt's execution and several days before the note became due, without exchanging a word with Miss Surratt, Messrs. Aikin and Clampit gave notice to one or two of her friends that they would settle the note at a heavy discount. Certain promises were made but never fulfilled. At a later date they were informed that one thousand dollars could be paid them. In view of Miss Surratt's condition, and for that reason alone they consented. They took the one thousand dollars and surrendered the three thousand note to Miss Surratt. The trial lasted two months. This gave to each as a fee, and including the expenses of the trial, $250 per month apiece—and during the trial it must be understood they were obliged to remit all attention to other business."

This statement is a pretty good defence of the lawyers:—but they made only a poor defence for the criminal, though perhaps as good as the case would admit of.

THE PRESIDENT ON PARDONS.—The Boston Journal's Washington dispatch of Tuesday says "the rebel General Ewell was a personal applicant at the President's Mansion for pardon that day. The result of his interview with the President was not very satisfactory, as he was given to understand, courteously though firmly, that no exception could be made in his case, but that he must take his chances with the rest. The pardoning of rebels will soon be stopped altogether unless they cease their braggadocio and can approach the Executive in a more humble spirit. President Johnson has been severely exercised of late by their importunities, and Monday gave a large crowd of them to understand that he would bear them no longer. He also directed the Attorney General not to fill out any more pardons under the twenty thousand dollar clause until further orders."

JEFF D.—R. H. Gillett, one of the counsel of Jefferson Davis, in a note to the Albany Argus, says Davis has no more information concerning his trial than others have. In a letter from Davis, dated 15th inst., to Gillet, he says: "I am still ignorant of the charges against me, the source of them, and the tribunal before which I am to answer. Your letter gives me the first notice of the Washington indictment." Davis requests Gillett to have a conference with Charles O'Conner, his only other counsel, so they may be prepared for the trial whenever it may be brought on with as little delay as the nature and importance of the case will permit. A direct application to the proper department, asking to be informed, if not improper, when, where and before what tribunal Davis is to be tried, remains unanswered, because, as is supposed, neither has been actually determined by the President.

THE RISE in the price of gold and stocks is pronounced by the New York Evening Post to be due to the prevalence of the following rumor:

Wall street is somewhat disturbed to-day by the rumor that a strong party has been formed to induce Congress to authorize the issue of more currency to the national banks. The present limit for the whole country is three hundred millions, of which one hundred and seventy-two millions have been issued, and the remaining one hundred and twenty-eight millions have for some reason been promised to banks now organized. Thus it is complained that while several States have got more than their fair share, others have less; and the South has still to be provided for. The anticipation that the pressure on Congress will be sufficient to insure a farther issue of currency, which will bring on more inflation and speculative excitement, has given an upward impulse to the prices of gold and stocks.

WASHINGTON SCHOOLS.—On Monday, Aug. 21, one of the Trustees of Colored Schools for the District, made an application to Mayor Wallack for the amount of money set apart by the act of Congress, approved July 25, 1864, ordering the City Authorities to set apart a certain portion of the school fund to colored schools, and was refused. Senator Sumner has lately written a letter to the trustee upon this subject, in which he says—"The Lord yet reigns, and I am sure the diabolism at Washington cannot continue to prevail. You will not weary in opposing it. Work on, fight on. When Congress meets we shall insist upon justice. This is a talisman by which our country is to be saved. There is now nearly twenty thousand dollars of this fund due, which should go to the maintenance of the colored schools in the district." The matter is being pushed with all vigor, and it is hoped that Mayor Wallack will be balked in his game.

— Col. Shaw, of Rhode Island, now in command at Indianola, Texas, writes home that the government contracts for excellent beef, dressed and delivered there, at six cents a pound.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At Manchester, on Saturday, some tobacco and cigars were seized by the U. S. authorities, not having paid the excise.

—— A saw mill at Plymouth, owned by Thomas Glynn, was destroyed by fire on the 28th inst. The fire was caused by the friction of the machinery. Insured for $1000 in the Home Insurance Company, New Haven, Ct.

—— On Saturday evening, in Manchester, a young man in a cigar store, doing something in a window, fell through a large pane of glass and rolled upon the sidewalk: and shortly afterward, a clerk went through in the same style. Smart young men, but too dangerous to live in glass houses.

—— In the police Court, Concord, Saturday, Aug. 19, Saml. M'Cauley and Eldridge G. Verrill were held in bail in $200 each for keeping liquor for sale. Pat. Brosnham plead guilty to the same charge, and paid $50 fine with costs:—the second fine he has paid for this offence recently. On Tuesday, P. M. the police on searching the apothecary shop of Fitch & Underhill in Concord, found quite a stock of liquors.

—— On the Northern N. H. Railroad, a train loaded with railroad sleepers took fire, Monday, by sparks from the engine. No water was near; the engineer started the train to run down to Boscawen where water might be had; but the rapid motion raised a draft that fanned the fire into great fury; so the train had to be stopped, and seven platform cars and their loads of sleepers were burnt, leaving only some old iron. Of course the sleepers in the track were burnt also, and the rails so warped, that a piece of new track had to be laid, in a curve, round the wreck of the burnt cars and track.

—— The gathering of the family of the late Bradbury Morrison of Franklin took place at the homstead, Aug. 17. Ninety-six lineal descendants or connections by marriage, including the fourth generation from the progenitor, were present and joined in the festivities. The family though mainly confined to the counties of Merrimac and Belknap, has spread into the distant West. Representatives from Illinois and Michigan were present. This festival is an established institution and is celebrated every year. This was the 21st anniversary. The record of the family secretary shows no diminution by death during the past year, but quite an increase by marriage and births.

SOUTHERN ITEMS.

— It is thought there will not be more than 25,000 bales of cotton raised in Mississippi the present year.

— It is said the town of Stevenson, Ala., was burned on the 14th inst., nothing remaining but the depot, telegraph and express offices.

— Two negroes who committed a rape in Richmond, Virginia, having been brought to the Rio Grande with their regiment, were tried by court martial, convicted and hanged at Brownsville.

— A Montgomery (Ala.) paper says that city has now a larger population than before the war. "Planters and people from the country throng the marts of trade, laying in supplies. The hotels are crowded, the bar-rooms are filled, and attract the passers-by by the merry jingle of the glasses."

— The telegraph wire is up and working between Shreveport and St. Louis, via Camdem and Little Rock. The lines are also open to Houston and Galveston, Texas, and from Shreveport to Houston and Galveston, Texas, and from Shreveport to Vicksburg.

— Mrs. Jane Seymour, a lady 65 years of age, was shot and mortally wounded while sitting at the door of her residence at Memphis, a few evenings since. The murderer made his escape, which was favored by the darkness.

— Under the caption, "What Mississippi does not want," the Vicksburg Herald says: "She has no use for politicians; she has politicians enough already, native to the heath, which may prove the death of her again, as they have proved nearly the death of her once already." Mississippi needs no more of those self-appointed emissaries who come down here to teach the negroes their rights, and inflame their minds against their former masters, and against the race who are to employ them and benefit them, if they are to be learned the useful arts at all.

— The Petersburg (Va.) Express says the Southern States have been blessed with the most extraordinary crop of corn this year ever known, and that no contingency of drouth hail or storm can now injure the crop. Before this prospect of a beautiful corn crop the Richmond Times says the combinations to keep up the price of breadstuffs have collapsed. Emboldened by the short wheat crop, they advanced some time ago the price of all kinds of breadstuffs; but by no devices have they been able to keep up the prices.

— The Belfast Age says it is estimated that 1500 bushels of blueberries have been picked this season, on Isle au Haut Thoroughfare, Me.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.

Dear Chronicle:—"N." wishes you to reprint a line in his last week's letter, to read, "for which somebody ought to be thanked, (not thankful) and especially the young ladies"; and says the boats, buggies, beaches and bathing wouldn't have been anything without them.

Also he clips the following of Cooper's, as apropos of something here and "Out West":—

Another little private Mustered in,
The army of temptation
And of sin.

Another soldier arming
For the strife,
To fight the toilsome battles
Of a life.

Another little sentry
Who shall stand
On guard while evils prowl
On every hand.

Lord, our little darling
Guide and save,
'Mid the perils of the march
To the grave.

VIRGINIA.—A Virginia State Convention, which assembled at Alexandria some months ago, adopted the proposed anti-slavery amendment to the Constitution of the United States. It appears, however, there is total ignorance on the subject in the vicinity of Richmond, else there would not be such earnest advocacy of a convention to do what has already been done. As Gov. Pierpont and the Legislature which assembled at Alexandria are recognized by the leading men of Virginia as legal, it occasions much comment here that they should ignore the State Convention which assembled under the same authority.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Tribune's dispatch says all the colored troops are soon to be mustered out. (?)

The President has established an executive bureau for the consideration of pardons, and John Wilson, 3d Auditor, has been appointed chief.

The Herald's dispatch says all the batteries in the vicinity of Washington have been turned into arsenals, and artillery regiments will be stationed in the fortifications.

The Times's dispatch says the demand on the Freedmen's Bureau for laborers of all kinds exceeds the supply, and orders have been sent to Richmond to forward all unemployed freedmen from that vicinity, as Northern farmers and others pay more than the Virginians.

☞ In New York, Tuesday, George Glodwin, aged 28, a native of Connecticut, was arrested charged with forging an indorsement on a stolen draft on Trowbridge & Sons of New Haven for $3900, and paying for some jewelry therewith, receiving the balance in cash. He also, by forging the name of Aaron Smith, obtained possession of over $200,000 in bonds of the Tiffin and Fort Wayne Railroad at the St. Nicholas Hotel, and decamped. The arrest took place in New Haven, and the bonds were recovered. The thief is in the Tombs.

— A correspondent in Havana writes us word that if he wished to describe the island of Cuba in a single line, he should call it "The land of the flea, and the home of the slave."

— Of the seventy-five buildings destroyed by the fire at Quebec on Thursday night, only one was of brick. Nearly all the remainder were one-story wooden tenements. About one hundred families are left homeless.

— The night express train from Iowa, on the Dixon and Fulton branch of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, ran into a culvert which had been washed away by the storm Monday night. The engineer, fireman, an express messenger and one passenger were killed.

— It is worthy of mention as a remarkable fact in the municipal government of Washington, that half a dozen bakers, who have long been swindling the public by selling bread at short weight, were arrested by the police on Saturday, and fined two dollars for every loaf discovered short in weight. Quite a revenue resulted.

— It is probable that a grand rowing regatta will take place in Portland harbor early in October. Arrangements are now in progress. Mr. Brown, who is a member of the Una Club, is doing much for the encouragement of the manly recreation of boating in that section.

— Above Pawtucket Falls, in the Merrimac river, on Monday night, a match came off between the four oared boat owned by D. W. Manning and the two-oared boat of William Maher. The distance was three miles and return. The small boat did not contend the last half of the distance. The time made by Manning's boat, which completed the six miles, was forty-five minutes.

— On Sunday P. M. at Nashville, there was a riot at the German Turners' picnic, resulting in the wounding of Lieut. Hardy of the 15th U. S. colored infantry, and Lieut. Col. Tourenicht of the 13th ditto. The guards were unable to quell the disturbance until reinforced by three companies of colored soldiers. Revolvers were freely used. Quite a number of persons were injured. A number of the ringleaders have been arrested and sent to a military prison.

— A man named Frank Holstead was beaten, robbed and thrown down a precipice at Bergin Hill, Jersey, Saturday night.

— At Nashville, Tenn., Monday, the ex-rebel Gen. Wheeler was badly beaten by Col. Blackburn and Capt. Quinn, in consequence of a threat made during the war by Wheeler that he would kill Blackburn if ever he took him prisoner, as he was "a dammed home-made Yankee." Wheeler was in bed when attacked and severely beaten.

— At Liverpool, Aug. 12, nothing had been heard of the Great Eastern and her consorts, and nothing new regarding the cable.

— Rev. Mr. Lee, of the Geneva Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn, was robbed a few days ago, at some watering place, of his gold watch, gold studs, and $50. A day or two after that, being at Portland, he went with a party to Peak's Rocks, where he fell down into a gorge, with his head on some sharp-pointed rocks, and is dangerously injured.

A FEW REASONS WHY THE

AMERICAN WATCH

IS THE BEST.

It is made on the best principle, while the foreign watch is generally made on no principle at all. The foreign watch is mostly made by women and boys, BY HAND. While their labor is cheap, their work is dear at any price. Such watches are made without plan, and sold without guarantee. They are irregular in construction, and quite as irregular in movement. They are designed only to sell, and the buyer is the party most thoroughly sold. Those who have kept "sacres," "lepines," and "Swiss levers" in professed repair for a few years, will appreciate the truth of our statement.

THE PLAN OF THE AMERICAN WATCH

Instead of being made of several hundred little pieces, screwed together, the body of the American Watch is formed of SOLID PLATES. No jar interferes with the harmony of its working, and no sudden shock can throw its machinery out of gear. In riding or any business pursuit, it is all held together as firmly as a single piece of metal. It is just what all machinery should be—

1st. ACCURATE. 2d. SIMPLE. 3d. STRONG. 4th. ECONOMICAL.

We not only secure CHEAPNESS by our system, but QUALITY. We do not pretend that our Watch can be bought for less money than the foreign make-believes, but that for its real value it is sold for one half the price.

OUR SOLDIER'S WATCH (named Wm. Ellery) is what its name indicates—Solid, Substantial, and always Reliable—warranted to stand any amount of Marching, Riding or Fighting.

OUR NEXT HIGHER QUALITY OF WATCH (named P. S. Bartlett) is similar in size and general appearance, but has more jewels, and a more elaborate finish.

OUR LADIES' WATCH, recently brought out, is put up in a great variety of patterns, many of them of rare beauty and workmanship, is quite small, but warranted to keep time.

THE PROOF of the merits of our Watch may be found in the fact that we now employ over seven hundred workmen in our factories, and that we are still unable to supply the constantly increasing demand.

OUR THREE-QUARTER PLATE WATCH is thinner and lighter than the others we have described. Its fine chronometer balance is delicately adjusted to correct the variation caused by changes of temperature. These watches are the fruits of the latest experiments in chronometry, and are made by our best workmen, in a separate department of our factory. For the finest time-keeping qualities they challenge comparison with the best works of the most famous English and Swiss makers.

REMARKABLE CURE OF STIFF KNEE BY ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—How many persons, from stepping on a piece of orange peel, have been lamed for life. A case which might have been of this kind has just been brought to our notice. A gentleman from putting the heel of his boot on a piece of orange peel, was suddenly thrown down, and violently sprained his knee. He was six months confined to the house, though he had the best medical advice. As a last resort a very eminent physician was called in to see if anything more could be done. After examination he said, "My opinion is, your knee will never be bent again." He recommended that the whole leg and knee should be encased in a plaster of Paris bandage which would accelerate the permanent stiffening of the knee, and said, "the sooner it was done the better." But the patient, before trying this application and having a stiff knee for life, enveloped it in our Porous Plasters, and in less than two months his knee was perfectly cured.

Duros's Celebrated Catarrh Snuff is the best known remedy for Headache, Cold in the Head, Snuffles, Imperfect Voice, Bronchitis, and Catarrh. Few persons appreciate the diseases arising from disordered nasal organs. Sight, hearing, taste, and smell are frequently ruined by a cold in the head. The gas generated by the use of this snuff cleanses the entire head, and restores proper articulation. Its effects are pleasant and wonderful. It contains no tobacco nor other injurious ingredient. Colleges, Societies, States, and the most eminent of the Medical Faculty have awarded it testimonials and premiums.

Sold by all Druggists for 25 cents per box. Can be sent by mail on receipt of 30 cents for one box, or $1 for four boxes. Address JAS. DURNO, P. O. Box 2325, New York City.

POLICE COURT, August 23.—We trust we are not vain. In an intelligent community like ours, it doesn't pay for a man to be arrogant, unless he has plenty of greenbacks, in which case he can be anything—even a fool. We see this practically demonstrated every day. A man soon finds his level here in this enlightened city, especially if he drinks largely of rotgut which can be obtained at almost every street corner. But while we do not propose to boast, our assumption is that we exert an influence. This is no new theory. Nearly every penny-a-liner poet, lecturer, and philosopher has asserted it; asseverating that every human being, great or small, from the savagest savage under the rule of King Dahomey to the most intelligent Christian of the most enlightened government on earth, wields an influence.

Hence we incline to the belief that we are included, and begin to look about us for proof of this postulate. And as we are closely identified with the police court—an institution of reform, by the way—we apply the above theory to it and conclude that our influence has some connection with the fact that for two days not a single arrest has been made, and consequently no criminals in the dock. We trust that we are not mistaken in the belief that our fidelity in recording the terrible consequences of a disregard of the laws has something to do by its warning lessons with deterring others from following in the footsteps of those who travel the road to ruin and death. Yet we have some misgivings while indulging ourselves in this opinion, as it occurs to us that our personal appearance may have more to do with the matter after all, and that criminals are actually frightened away from the police court, lock-up, &c., which consideration of course has a tendency to check any feelings of vanity which may be possessed by us. It is a great comfort, however, to know that from some cause (it may be merely accidental) two days roll away without being marred by the record of crime.

☞ There are hundreds of persons residing in this city and its vicinity who never visited our Navy Yard, although almost within hail of it. There are thousands of others, however, that have availed themselves of opportunities of crossing the river to see this great manufactory of the paraphernalia of war; and we would refer both of the above classes to the splendid views of different portions of the Yard, which were made by Davis Brothers, and can be seen at their Photographic Gallery, opposite the Post Office. Those who are familiar with the geography of the Yard, its buildings and surroundings, would, on looking at these views, almost believe that they were actually on the spot. And we think if Mr. Davis brought his camera to bear upon the sound that is continually afloat in the air from the noise of the axe, hammer, anvil, &c., in the hands of the busy workmen, and photographed that, the deception would have been perfect! But that was impossible, as be obtained most of the negatives after six o'clock, P. M., when the work had ceased and all was quiet. The "view" obtained from the tower of the Office Building is excellent, giving a picture of the entire Yard, together with the surrounding country for miles away, which, with the dark clouds overhead—photographed as natural as nature herself—produces an effect almost enchanting. A package of these local photographic views and a stereoscope would afford a good evening's entertainment for the possessor or his friends.

☞ Mr. Stimson, the owner of the land on Kittery Fore Side, which was lately used as the landing for Navy Yard workmen, complains of errors in our statement about the removal,—and states that he sent word by his son to the officer commanding the Navy Yard, that the U. S. landing could be permitted there for $150, the U. S. to erect wharf he needed, and either party to dissolve the arrangement by giving three days notice:—that the price got somehow on the Navy Agent's books $125, which was all which that officer was willing to pay, and tho' advised by some to take it, Mr. S. declined:—and that he notified the Commander of the Yard to remove the boats, which was done.

☞ A boarding-house kept by a Mrs. Goodwin at Kittery Foreside took fire on Tuesday, and would doubtless have been destroyed, had it happened an hour or two before; but it broke out while the Navy Yard workmen were at dinner, and a few buckets of water promptly applied soon extinguished the flames. It is said to have been caused by the dropping of lighted matches inside the ceiling from the hands of a little child at play up stairs.

☞ Mr. Michael Gillagan informs us, at our office, that he was not drowned on Monday, as was currently reported, on account of his unexpected absence up the river on business.

☞ Rev. Ephraim Wiley, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, died lately at Jackson, La., aged 76. He was stationed in Portsmouth many years ago.

☞ A son of Howard Paul of Kittery, Me., on Tuesday accidentally shot himself through the arm while on a gunning expedition in a boat on the river back of the Navy Yard.

☞ The Ladies of St. John's Church will hold a Sale of Fancy Articles and Refreshments at Weld's Union Hall, Rye, this (Thursday) afternoon, Aug. 24, opening at 2 o'clock. The proceeds are for the benefit of domestic Missions of the Episcopal Church. Admission 25 cents.

☞ Any of our readers who have "an axe to grind" would do well to notice the advertisement of Messrs. Lombard & Co., in to-day's paper. Their wears have the true grit.

☞ "Hours at Home," for September, a valuable Monthly Magazine, "devoted to religious and useful literature," is for sale by J. H. Foster.

GOLD, Wednesday, 143 1-2. None sent to Europe that day.

— The coal dealers in Boston put the price up to $12 per ton Wednesday.

— In England, France and Germany gas and water pipes are now made of paper and bitumen.

— The crops in Wisconsin and Central Illinois are coming in better than former reports gave reason to expect.

— Colchester, the professed Spiritualist, on trial in Buffalo, N. Y., has been decided by the jury to be a juggler. Sentence reserved.

— It is reported from Washington that the Sec of War, by the President's direction, dissolved the Military Commission Tuesday morning,—and that Werz's trial would proceed Wednesday, under a new order. Our government has some new evidence in the case.

— Miss Petroleum, a fresh arrival at Newport, went out early to bathe, and she and her Newfoundland dog were enjoying themselves in the Elliptic fountain, when the boarders, coming down at 6 A. M., found the worthy couple splashing in their intended drink. The boarders wondered and laughed; the dog enjoyed it and barked with delight,—but nobody drank that morning.

☞ Subscribers will confer a favor, and facilitate the prompt delivery of their papers, by immediately informing us of any deficiency or irregularity of our Carriers. All papers should be delivered before 7 o'clock—and all subscribers should furnish a secure place of deposit for their papers. We will give $10 reward for evidence to convict any person of stealing a copy of the Chronicle. Our Carriers are not allowed to sell copies of the paper.

☞ Save your Rags and old Papers! Every family can supply themselves with a good newspaper from the proceeds of such savings. Mr. CHIAH BLAISDELL adve tises to buy them.

We always like to recommend a good thing, and the best for this season is DR. BICKNELL'S SYRUP. It will be found very pleasant, and a safe and sure remedy for Dysentery, Diarrhœa, &c. It contains no opiates; excellent for children.

☞ The reasons of our CALIFORNIA WINES enjoying so great a popularity, are because they are the purest and cheapest Wines of their class ever sold in the country.

THE FISHER'S BOY.

BY HENRY D. THOREAU.

My life is like a stroll upon the beach,
As near the ocean's edge as I can go;
My tardy steps its waves sometimes o'erreach,
Sometimes I stay to let them overflow.

My sole employment is, and scrupulous care,
To place my gains beyond the reach of tides,
Each smoother pebble, and each shell more rare,
Which Ocean kindly to my hand confides.

I have but few companions on the shore:
They scorn the strand who sail upon the sea;
Yet oft I think the ocean they've sailed o'er
Is deeper known upon the strand to me.

The middle sea contains no crimson dulse,
Its deeper waves cast up no pearls to view;
Along the shore my hand is on its pulse,
And I converse with many a ship-wrecked crew.

ENTERPRISE IN THE SOUTHWEST.—One of the largest and finest rolling mills in the United States is already in operation in Chattanooga, Tenn., which is daily turning out the best quality of railroad iron. A blast furnace is in contemplation, and a copper rolling mill of $1,000,000 capital is soon to be put up in the neighborhood. A large blast furnace will be commenced in the fall on the Tennessee River, above Chattanooga. Several coal companies are only waiting for machinery to commence operations in different localities around the place. The old coal mines are being reworked and new mines opened.

— The Prince of Wales won't go to the naval fetes at Oberbourg, because there will be no prince of the blood there to receive him; and the French Minister of Marine (Laubat) also refuses to go, because there will be no English Lord of the Admiralty present. Ah ha! Great artificial dignity is really a very great humbug. Real dignity troubles no one, and is no burden to him who bears it.

— At a dinner recently at Preston, England, a speech was made by Mr. Hodgson, the first builder of iron ships in England, in which he said that it was twenty one years since he had built the Richard Cobden, an iron vessel; and "I believe," he said, "she has not cost a shilling in repairs from that day to this, and I feel sure she will not do so for a thousand years."

PETROLEUM IS KING!
THE
UNION OIL STOVES!
Patented April 11, 1864, and Jan. 17, 1865.
A COMPLETE APPARATUS
—FOR DOING THE—
COOKING
And all the work of a Family of any size,
AT LESS THAN
One-Third the Cost of Wood or Coal!
THIS NEW
PETROLEUM Cooking APPARATUS
Is WARRANTED to do all the work of a common Cooking Stove, at a great saving of time, trouble and expense. Having the fullest confidence in its utility, we offer it to the public as the Only Kerosene or Coal Oil Stove
that will Bake, Broil, heat Flat Irons, &c., with entire satisfaction. It may be used in Kitchen or Parlor, without Dirt, Ashes, Smoke or Odor.
The ordinary Stove Furniture is used, with the addition of the "Flat Iron Heater." Kerosene Oil is used, and, at one dollar a gallon, it will cost
ONE CENT AN HOUR
for each Burner used, thereby saving the cost of the Stove in the expense of Fuel in a short time.
"How long does it take to cook anything with one of these stoves?" is a question often asked. In answer, we can say from actual experiment that

2 quarts of water can be boiled in 15 minutes
Common potatoes baked	" 30 "
Flour Biscuit baked	" 15 "
And three good-sized Flat Irons heated in 15 minutes.

By adding a sheet iron drum to the Stove, it will warm a small-sized room in cold weather.
For use in the sight in case of sickness, one of these Stoves is invaluable, as it can be put in operation in one minute.

EAGLE HILL MUTUAL COAL COMPANY.
This Company is organized on the mutual plan, the same in principle as the Insurance Companies, and has none of the features of the speculative movements of the day. Its officers are among the solid men of Boston, and are known as gentlemen of integrity, who have never been associated with any of the speculative operations of the times.
The Colliery is one of the best and most extensive in the coal region, produces a coal far superior to any used in this market, and from its advantages can mine cheaper than most others. It has been operation over six months, has more than 4000 stockholders, has delivered coal at a saving of $3 to $4 per ton from regular market prices, and has paid cash dividends of 4 per cent.
Any one who will take the trouble to investigate the facts, will see at once that the croakings of coal monopolists have no application to this company, and that it is safe and sure as any railroad or bank stock in the market.

THE MAGEE
COOKING STOVE.
The subscriber would especially call the attention of the public to the
MAGEE COOK STOVE,
as the very best Stove yet made, and would invite those about purchasing or exchanging Stoves, to examine this, believing it to be far superior to any other Stove yet invented, the castings being heavier, and the oven larger than usual. The oven plates are covered with plaster, which renders it equal to the old-fashioned brick oven for perfection in baking.
There is a new style and very superior broiler and sad iron heater combined, by which the odor of broiling meats are prevented from escaping into the room. With the extension top there is a large copper Reservoir for hot water; also a large tin warming-closet attached, in which any article can be kept warm, while the other parts of the Stove are occupied for other purposes.
The arrangements for sifting the coal and cleaning the grate are far superior to those of any other Stove now in use, as no dust can possibly escape into the room, and the shoveling up of the ashes is entirely dispensed with. The fire is regulated in the same manner as in the MAGEE PARLOR STOVE, and can be continued day and night for weeks together, thus saving the expense of re-kindling every day.
For economy, durability, ease of management, cleanliness and perfection in cooking, it cannot be surpassed by any other Stove, as hundreds of families in this city and vicinity, who are now using them, are willing to testify, and speak of them in the highest terms of praise.
We invite all those in want of the very best Stove in the market, to examine the
MAGEE COOK.
Also on hand an assortment of the different sizes
—of the—
MAGEE PARLOR STOVE
with and without ovens, which are too well known to need any recommendation.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscriber, being the Sole Agent in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pots used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.
